PREFACES

The present volume is part of a series, in which the Carnegie Institution of Washington proposes to present inventories guiding the student of American history to such manuscript materials as are to be found in the archives and libraries of foreign countries. The previous issues in the same series have been Mr. L. M. Pérez's Guide to the Materials for American History in Cuban Archives, and Professor W. R. Shepherd's Guide to the Materials for the History of the United States in Spanish Archives (Simancas, the Archivo Historico Nacional, and Seville). The next archives to be dealt with in similar volumes are those of Paris, Mexico and Rome.

The project of a comprehensive and detailed Guide to the Manuscript Materials for American History in London Repositories antedates the Carnegie Institution of Washington. In the belief that such a manual would be a boon to many workers in the history of the United States the writer of these lines began in 1899 to plan for it and to attempt to bring it into existence. The American Antiquarian Society was approached, with a view to persuade it to use for the preparation of such a book the income of one of its funds. At a meeting of the council of that society in October, 1900, an appropriation was made, and the society's committee of publication was authorized to proceed. The plan then in mind contemplated three forms of entry under each subdivision of each archive—e. g., of the Public Record Office. First, the body of original papers composing that section should be described, with special reference to the question, what it contained for American history. Secondly, there should be a list of transcripts, made from documents in that section, which were to be found in American archives and libraries. Thirdly, there should be a list of references to documents from that section which had anywhere been put into print. This last portion was first provided for by the society, and the data for the desired list were searched for and noted by Miss Gertrude S. Kimball of Providence.

It had at first been planned that the portion of the volume which would have to be made in London, corresponding to the first of the three sorts of material noted above, might be prepared by a competent official of the Public Record Office. This proving impracticable, endeavors were made, and successfully, to enlist for the project the services of Professor Charles M. Andrews, then of Bryn Mawr College, who had already spent much time in London archives, and was preparing to spend the ensuing year in further investigations in England on his own behalf.

A few months after this, however, the Advisory Committee on History appointed by the Trustees of the Carnegie Institution urged, as one of the chief recommendations of its preliminary report, that systematic searches of European archives for materials for American history should hold a prominent position among the activities of the Institution in the field of history. The suggestion was adopted, and in December, 1903, the decision was finally reached that the work in England should be at once begun, under the auspices of the Carnegie Institution instead of the American Antiquarian Society, which had found difficulties to stand in the way of what it had first resolved on. That society generously presented to the Carnegie Institution the mass of data which had been accumulated at its expense, relating to documents from the British archives already printed.

Immediately Professor Andrews, who had already since August been at work in the Bodleian Library, was informed by Professor McLaughlin, then director of the historical work of the Carnegie Institution, of the decision of the trustees, and was engaged to continue the work in the interest of the Carnegie Institution. His instructions, at his request, confined him to materials for the period preceding 1783, the period subsequent to the British recognition of American independence having a distinct character, and in London to the two chief public repositories—the Public Record Office and the British Museum—and the Privy Council Office. The inclusion of the Oxford and Cambridge libraries was also resolved upon.

Nearly all the period from November, 1903, to September, 1904, was spent in careful searching of the repositories named, volume by volume, and in many cases page by page. Never before, it is certain, had any search of them so thorough and systematic been carried out in the interest of any one large field of history. A preliminary report of the results was read at the meeting of the American Historical Association at Chicago in December, 1904, and printed in the American Historical Review for January, 1905 (vol. X., pp. 325-349). The summer months of 1905, and eventually of 1907 also, were spent in the continuance of the same task, and the material on the Public Record Office and British Museum was practically completed.

But it was concluded that the work would better answer the purposes for which it was composed if it were extended to include, still within the same chronological limitations, the minor public archives of London as well as the great collections of the Public Record Office and the British Museum. As it was impossible for Professor Andrews to go to England in the summer of 1906, Miss Frances G. Davenport of the Department of Historical Research in the Carnegie Institution was requested to go thither, and to complete the work by cataloguing the American materials in minor London archives, with instructions intended to make her work harmonious in character with that of Professor Andrews. It subsequently appeared that, through inadvertence, these instructions diverged at one point in such a manner as to cause a difference in the product, deserving to be noted at this point. Whereas Professor Andrews had, for excellent reasons, systematically included papers relating to Canada and the British West Indies, treating them with the same degree of fulness as papers relating to any of the thirteen continental colonies, Miss Davenport's instructions were such that, in her portion of the work, documents relating to Canada exclusively have not as a rule been included, while documents relating to the British West Indies, though included, especially if of general interest to the history of the empire, have been treated on a lesser scale.

The line of demarcation between the work of Professor Andrews and that of Miss Davenport in the present volume is easily drawn, the former having dealt with the manuscripts in the British Museum, Privy Council Office and War Office Library, and at Oxford and Cambridge, and the latter with the minor archives (though both, it chanced, examined the records of the Corporation of the City of London). With these minor archives Miss Davenport was occupied from July, 1906, to February, 1907, Professor Andrews meanwhile spending such time as he could command in the preparation of his material for the press.

The plan contemplated two volumes, of which the first should be entirely devoted to Professor Andrews's notes on the American materials in the Public Record Office. But when the volume was already in the printer's hands and proof-sheets of the earlier pages had been received, in the summer of 1907, all work upon it was stopped by the arrival of news from Professor Andrews, then in London, to the effect that the authorities of the Public Record Office had begun to make a new classification of some of the collections bulking largest in such a volume, especially the Colonial Office Papers. The changes of arrangement were to be so thoroughgoing as to make a recasting of much of the volume necessary, and the process would last so long as to postpone for more than a year, perhaps for two years, the possibility of progress in the remaking of the book. It appeared that there was no course but to go forward with the other volume as an independent publication, and to place it at the service of scholars without waiting for the completion of the volume on the Public Record Office, which would naturally have preceded.

The order of arrangement in the present volume is based upon the following classification: the British Museum, a quasi-governmental establishment; archives of the national government; archives of the local government; archives of religious bodies or of libraries primarily theological, containing material for the history, in the colonies, of the Church of England, the Roman Catholic Church, the Presbyterian and Congregational churches, and the Friends; the archives of the leading British scientific society of the period; and of a great trading company; finally, the libraries of Oxford and Cambridge.

Although it is believed that the most important bodies of material relating to the history of the plantations and preserved in the minor London archives are noticed in the following pages, yet it is certain that some additional material is to be found in archives not therein described. Thus, in the archives of the church of the Moravian Brethren, 32 Fetter Lane, which it was not practicable to inspect, are some diaries and letters bearing on the early history of that sect in this country. So far as ascertained, however, these papers are neither numerous nor of much general interest. The churchwardens' accounts of city parishes contain entries of payments for various charitable uses connected with the colonies, such as the sending of poor children to Virginia, etc. Several references to such items are given by Mr. W. A. Bewes in his work on Church Briefs, or Royal Warrants for Collections for Charitable Objects (1896). The records of Bridewell also contain some matter pertaining to the transportation of vagrants to this country, as has been pointed out by Miss E. M. Leonard, Early History of English Poor Relief.[1]

It is possible that the records of the Royal Mint, which, in a fragmentary way, go back to 1580, may contain some references to America, but the information received relative to these records indicated that the expenditure of time required for a search for the scattered items that might possibly be found, would not be justified.

The Secretary of the Baptist Union of Great Britain and Ireland, Baptist Church House, Southampton Row, W. C., has informed us that their library contains nothing that comes within the scope of this volume, and similar information has been obtained from the London Missionary Society, 16 New Bridge St., E. C., and from the Royal Geographical Society. The wills at Somerset House have not been included because already so well dealt with by Mr. Henry F. Waters.

Limitations of time, necessary dependence on indexes probably imperfect, or, in a very few instances, restrictions imposed, prevented as complete a search in certain of the minor archives as, under different circumstances, might have been expedient. It is not improbable that the future investigator may find material not here referred to in the archives of the House of Lords, the diocese of Westminster, the Royal Society and the Hudson's Bay Company, if not in other of the repositories.

The degree of completeness attained, however, is in great measure due to the assistance so courteously rendered by the officials of the various repositories examined. As a rule, much liberality was shown in permitting the inspection of documents, and in several instances, especially in the case of some of the smaller archives where special accommodations for searchers are not provided, valuable aid was extended by the officials in charge at the cost of no small inconvenience to themselves.

For permission to examine the contents of libraries and archives, grateful acknowledgments are due to the Trustees of the British Museum, to the Clerk of the Privy Council, to Sir Henry Graham, K. C. B., Clerk of Parliaments, to the Postmaster-General, to the Court of Common Council and the Library Committee of the Guildhall of London, to the Clerk of the Peace, Guildhall, Westminster, to the Archbishop of Canterbury, to the Bishop of London, to the Secretaries of the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge, of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts, and of Dr. Bray's Associates, to the Archbishop of Westminster, to the Librarian of Dr. Williams's Library, to the Secretaries of the Royal Society, to the Right Honorable Lord Strathcona, K. C. M. G., Governor of the Hudson's Bay Company, and to the Librarians of the Bodleian Library, of the several college libraries at Oxford and of the Pepysian Library at Cambridge.

It may be useful to remark that, when there is no indication to the contrary, year-dates are given in new style. The fact that a document is a copy is often, but not invariably, noted.

No prediction is ventured as to the time when Professor Andrews's volume relating to the Public Record Office will be published, nor as to any disposition in print of the great store of data which the Department of Historical Research has accumulated respecting transcripts from the British archives now preserved in America and respecting printed documents from the same repositories. It may, however, be well to mention that the slips containing these data, gathered in pursuance of the original plan described at the opening of this preface, are in the possession of the Department and are at the service of historical scholars.

J. Franklin Jameson.

In the preparation of this volume one object has been kept constantly in view, namely, to furnish a guide which should be as helpful as possible to students unfamiliar with the contents of British repositories of historical manuscript and with the procedure to be followed in gaining access to them. A complete history of documents in all the archives was manifestly impossible, considering the limitations of time and space, yet in the collections herein described, an effort has been made either to enter each document individually, or to furnish such description or statement as would guide the investigator in pursuing his researches further. No attempt has been made either by Miss Davenport or by myself to exercise editorial judgment; our object being simply to note each document or to describe each collection that concerned

American history, without attempting to indicate its value for historical purposes.

Certain features of the work as finally executed may be briefly mentioned. In scope it includes not only the original thirteen colonies but, except in so far as is indicated in Mr. Jameson's remarks above, the Canadian and West Indian colonies also. Though the date 1783 marks its limit in time, it has been deemed worth while to include occasionally documents of later date when they appeared among the collections examined. No attempt has been made to reproduce exactly the original titles or endorsements, even when placed here within quotation marks, as to have done so would have cost much valuable time and have furthered in no way the object of the undertaking. References to works wherein documents are printed have been given when known, but such references do not pretend to be complete. The same may be said of references to transcripts. The largest collection of transcribed documents from the British Museum and Bodleian libraries is in the Library of Congress, and a complete list of all there to be found is printed at the end of this volume. Annotations have been furnished when manifestly needed or in cases where the interest of the document seemed to demand some quotation or comment, but any elaborate system of annotations was clearly inadvisable.

It is a pleasure to recall and to acknowledge the courtesies extended by those in charge of the various repositories. In common with all who work in the British Museum and Bodleian libraries I enjoyed the opportunities offered to those who come of serious purpose. To Mr. F. Kenyon of the former library and Mr. Falconer Madan of the latter I am specially indebted for their kindness in reading the statements here printed introductory to those collections. To Mr. Almeric W. FitzRoy, Clerk of the Privy Council, I am exceedingly grateful, not only for the liberality with which he placed the valuable collections of that office at my disposal, but also for the interest that he has taken in the furtherance of the cause of colonial history. To Mr. Harrison of the same office I am also indebted for many helpful suggestions, and to Mr. Moon for much personal aid in the actual work of investigation. Dr. R. R. Sharpe, Records Clerk of the City of London, and the learned editor of many volumes relating to its history, facilitated in every way my search among the records of the Town Clerk's Office. Among the librarians of the Oxford colleges Mr. Pottinger of Worcester and Mr. Holden of All Souls placed me under many obligations for assistance rendered; while in Cambridge, through the kindness of Dr. J. R. Tanner and of Mr. A. S. Ramsey, Fellow of Magdalene, I was able to examine the contents of the Bibliotheca Pepysiana. To Dr. Tanner in particular I am grateful for many courtesies.

The difficulty of preparing the manuscript for the press, at so great a distance from the repositories themselves, has been greatly lessened by the efficient assistance of Miss Edith Moodie, formerly secretary of the late Benjamin Franklin Stevens and now superintendent of the historical department of the firm of B. F. Stevens and Brown. Her knowledge of the material in England for American history is almost unrivalled, and the ability with which she has met the various difficulties that have arisen is deserving of hearty appreciation.

I am painfully aware that in a work containing so many details of volumes, folios, pages, dates, names and descriptions errors are inevitable, but I can say very earnestly that every care has been taken to render the work accurate and reliable. While a re-examination of all the collections has not been possible, the majority of the references to the documents in the British Museum and Bodleian libraries have been carefully verified. It is needless to say that corrections of any kind will be heartily welcomed.

CHARLES M. ANDREWS.

Grateful acknowledgment of aid in determining the character of the contents of the several archives examined by me is due to the following gentlemen: Mr. Cuthbert Headlam, one of the editors of The Manuscripts of the House of Lords; H. Buxton Forman, C. B., Second Secretary of the Post-Office; Mr. J. G. Hendy, Curator of the Record Room of the Post-Office; Mr. A. Owen, of Trinity House; Dr. R. R. Sharpe, Records Clerk to the Corporation of the City of London; Mr. E. M. Borrajo, Librarian and Curator of the Guildhall Library and Museum; Mr. W. J. Hardy, editor of Middlesex County Records; Calendar of the Sessions Books, 1689 to 1709; S. W. Kershaw, M. A., Librarian of Lambeth Library; Rev. Sadler Phillips; Rev. Edmund McClure, one of the Secretaries of the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge; Mr. C. F. Pascoe, Secretary of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts; Monsignor Bernard Ward, of St. Edmund's College, Old Hall, Ware; Rev. Thomas Hughes, S. J.; Rev. T. J. Crippen, Librarian of the Congregational Library; Mr. Norman Penney, Librarian of the Friends' Reference Library; Mr. Robert Harrison, Assistant Secretary of the Royal Society; Mr. William Ware, Secretary of the Hudson's Bay Company; and Mr. H. P. Biggar; and to Miss Agnes C. Laut and Miss Adelaide L. Fries. I am also indebted to Miss Louise F. Brown for listing the papers at Fulham Palace; and, for much valuable advice and aid, generously given, to Mr. Hubert Hall, of the Public Record Office.

THE BRITISH MUSEUM.

The British Museum on Great Russell Street is open every day in the week except Sunday, and except Good Friday, Christmas day, and any fast or thanksgiving day appointed by authority; except also the first four week-days of March and September. The Reading Room or Round Room is open from nine in the morning until eight in the evening from September to April, inclusive, and till seven during the other months. The Manuscript Room or Students' Room is open from ten in the morning till five in the afternoon.

Manuscript volumes must normally be used in the Students' Room, but by special permission ordinary manuscripts may be transferred to the Reading Room after the Students' Room is closed. Printed books may be brought from the Reading Room to the Students' Room, if sufficient reason can be shown therefor. Manuscripts cannot be obtained after four o'clock nor printed books after half-past three in January, February, November and December, half-past four in March and October, half-past five in April and September, and half-past six in May, June, July and August. Books may, however, be called for at any time during the earlier hours of the day and will be held at the central desk in the Reading Room until wanted, if the student will write "At Bar" upon the call-ticket (reproduced below) in place of the "Number of the Reader's Seat". Or the student may apply in advance by letter addressed to the Superintendent of the Reading Room. Should the student in the Reading Room wish to keep out a volume from day to day, he must proceed as follows: placing in the volume a slip bearing his name and the words "kept out", he must return the book in the usual manner, receiving back his call-ticket. This ticket he must retain until the next day or after a reasonable time, when he will receive the book on placing his ticket in the "kept out" basket. In the Students' Room it is sufficient if the student place in the volume a slip similarly marked and notify the attendant in charge that he wishes the book reserved.

Persons desiring to be admitted to the Reading Room and Students' Room must apply in writing, at least two days before admission is required, to the Director of the British Museum, W. C., specifying his profession or business, his place of abode, and the particular purpose for which he seeks admission. He must accompany his application with a written recommendation from a householder, who is a person of recognized position and is able to state from personal knowledge of the applicant that he will make proper use of the Reading Room. The recommendation of hotel-keepers or of boarding-house or lodging-house keepers in favor of their lodgers will not be accepted. The ticket of admission, for three months or six months as the case may be, is not transferable and must be produced if required. On the expiration of the period of issue or when no longer needed the ticket must be returned to the Director, who will renew the same if requested or will keep the same on file subject to renewal should the student return at some later date. Renewal is, of course, dependent on a proper regard for the rules governing the use of books and manuscripts and on a statement by the student that his object is still such as to warrant a continuance of the privilege.

To reach the Reading Room the student passes straight ahead from the entrance of the Museum; to reach the Students' Room he turns to the right, passes through the Grenville library, into the saloon of manuscripts, at the right of which is an open door with a slip-bar across it bearing the words "For Students only". Beyond this door at the end of a corridor to the left is the Students' Room.

Once admitted the student will find the procedure very simple, involving merely the choice of a seat, the finding the press-mark of the printed book (from the Catalogue in the Reading Room) or the number of the manuscript volume (from the catalogues of manuscripts in the Reading Room or the Students' Room), the filling-out of the ticket furnished, and the placing it in the receptacle provided. It is important to know that large numbers of printed books (including all the Calendars of State Papers, other government publications, publications of private societies, reference books such as the Dictionary of National Biography, etc.) are directly accessible to the student on the shelves of the Reading Room. A catalogue of these books entitled List of the Books of Reference in the Reading Room of the British Museum (including a subject-index) stands in the Reading Room, and copies can be obtained at the desk at the entrance to the Museum for six shillings.

For the Reading Room:

(Date) .....(Signature).

.....(Number of the Reader's Seat).

Permission to use the Reading Room will be withdrawn from any person who shall write or make marks on any part of a Printed Book, Manuscript, or Map belonging to the Museum.

Readers are not, under any circumstances, to take a Book, Manuscript, or Map out of the Reading Room.

Before leaving the Room, Readers are particularly requested to return Books, for which they have given Tickets, to an attendant at the centre counter, and to reclaim the Tickets.

READERS ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR THE BOOKS SO LONG AS THE TICKETS REMAIN UNCANCELLED.

Press-Mark.	Name of Author, or other Heading of Work, as in Catalogue.	Date of Publication.
	Title of Work

PLEASE TO RESTORE EACH VOLUME OF THE CATALOGUE TO ITS PLACE, AS SOON AS DONE WITH.

Reverse:

READERS ARE PARTICULARLY REQUIRED

1. Not to ask for more than one work on the same ticket.
2. To transcribe from the Catalogues all the particulars necessary for the identification of the Work wanted.
3. To write in a plain, clear hand, in order to avoid delay and mistakes.
4. To indicate in the proper place on each ticket the number of the seat occupied.
5. To bear in mind that no Books will be left at the seat indicated on the ticket unless the Reader who asks for them is there to receive them.
6. When any cause for complaint arises, to apply at once to the Superintendent.
7. To replace on the shelves of the Reading Room, as soon as done with, such Books of Reference as they may have had occasion to remove for the purpose of consultation.

For the Students' Room:

Permission to use the Reading Room and Students' Room in the Department of MSS. will be withdrawn from any person who shall write or make marks on any part of a Printed Book, Manuscript, or Map belonging to the Museum.

Readers are not, under any circumstances, to take a Book, Manuscript, or Map out of the Reading Room or Students' Room.

Before leaving either Room, Readers are particularly requested to return MSS. to an attendant at the receiving counter, and to reclaim the Tickets, READERS BEING RESPONSIBLE FOR THE MSS. SO LONG AS THE TICKETS REMAIN UNCANCELLED.

Collection and Number of MS. wanted.

(Date) .....(Signature).

Please to restore each Volume of the Catalogue to its place, as soon as done with.

Reverse:

READERS ARE PARTICULARLY REQUESTED

1. Not to ask for more than one MS. on the same ticket.
2. To quote accurately the name of the Collection and the Number of the MS. wanted.
3. To write in a plain, clear hand, in order to avoid delay and mistakes.
4. To bear in mind that no MS. will be left at a seat unless the Reader who asks for it is there to receive it.
5. When any cause for complaint arises, to apply at once to the Superintendent.

The rules laid down for the guidance of those who use the manuscripts are as follows:

1. Readers are particularly requested not to write for more than one Volume, Charter, or Roll on the same ticket, unless the numbers required form a series.
2. They are also requested to use the Manuscripts with care and especially to avoid placing the hand on the written page or miniature before them; and in no case to place a Manuscript or Book on an open Manuscript.
3. As a general rule Manuscripts, while in use, are to be placed upon book-rests or in glazed cases.
4. There is no restriction on copying Manuscripts.
5. Manuscripts of more than ordinary value can be used only in the Department of Manuscripts.
6. Permission to draw from the Illuminated Manuscripts can be granted only on the production of a special Letter of Recommendation for that purpose, addressed to the Keeper of the Manuscripts.
7. Tracing is not allowed, unless by permission of the Keeper of the Department; nor in any case from paintings in body-colors.
8. As a general rule only one Illuminated Manuscript will be supplied at a time; if others are required for purposes of comparison, the permission of the Keeper must first be obtained.

Attention may be directed especially to rules 2 and 3. No limit is assigned to the number of volumes that may be taken out provided it be a reasonable one. If many volumes are called out a portion of them will be retained at the delivery desk until wanted, as space at the seats is limited. The officials in both the Reading Room and the Manuscript Students' Room are ready to help visitors to find their way about the catalogues.

The following are the regulations and list of fees to be observed in applying for leave to photograph:

1. The object to be photographed is to be distinctly specified in the application.
2. Books, MSS., Prints, and Drawings are to be indicated by the press-mark or reference-number, as well as by the title.
3. The number of every page to be photographed from a book or MS. must be quoted.
4. Leave cannot be granted to photograph objects indiscriminately.
5. A distinct application should be submitted for each Department, if the objects are in more than one Department.
6. As there is no official photographer attached to the British Museum, the applicant should name the photographer whom he proposes to employ. [If the applicant does not know of a suitable photographer, the officers of the Department concerned can generally give the name of some photographer who is accustomed to do work there.]
7. The work shall be done under the superintendence and control of the Keeper of the Department in which the object to be photographed is preserved.
8. If required, two copies of any photograph taken in the Museum shall be deposited with the Director.

9. The photographer shall not introduce any combustible chemicals into the Museum for the purposes of his work, without special permission.

10. No photographer shall introduce into the Museum a larger quantity of chemicals than shall be necessary for the work of the day; and at the close of each day all photographing materials shall be removed from the Museum premises, or placed in charge of the Clerk of the Works at the Museum, who will deposit them in a place of safety outside the Museum buildings.

11. The photographer should, whenever possible, make use of dry plates.

Applications are to be addressed to the Director, British Museum, London, W. C., and the Trustees reserve absolutely the right of refusing any applications. The scale of fees is as follows, such fees to be paid at the Photographic Studio in the Museum, to the Attendant in charge:

For one Negative: Two Shillings. (If the exposure should exceed an hour, the fee is to be a time-fee.)

For more than one Negative the fee is a time-fee, viz: Two Shillings for the first hour or part thereof; and One Shilling for each succeeding hour or part thereof in the day.

The time spent in preliminary adjustment of apparatus and in clearing away is to be charged.

Of the printed catalogues of manuscripts two copies will be found in the Students' Room, one of which, placed on the shelves farthest from the entrance, may be used at the reader's seat, the other, on the shelves near the entrance, must not be taken away. The catalogues in manuscript, of which but single copies exist, are on the shelves opposite the entrance and must be used there. Besides the collection-catalogues, which are here entered with the particular collections, the following catalogues, not elsewhere listed, may be mentioned.

1012. An Account of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts established by the Royal charter of King William III. (London, 1706); also A Collection of Papers printed by order of the Society (London, 1706).

(Interleaved and elaborately annotated by Bishop Kennett. On f. 192 is a "Catalogue of Books and Papers relating to the past and present state of the British Plantations in America".)

1032. f. 1. Commonplace-book of Bishop Kennett in which are copied many extracts from books and papers that came into the hands of the society. On f. 109 is a copy of Baron Graffenried's letter to Governor Hyde of North Carolina, October 23, 1711, relating his adventures among the Tuscuroras.

f. 128. Treatise on the Virginia Company, saying that it "encouraged the publication of several treatises very useful to the Propagation of Learning and Religion in those Parts" and mentioning John Brinsley's Consolation for our Grammer Schools (1622). It inquires into the reasons why the company was dissolved and concludes that it was owing to the jealousy of the Spaniards and the influence of Gondomar upon the English court, and it quotes from the work accredited to Thomas Scott, rector of St. Saviours, Norwich, entitled Vox Populi or News from Spain, a pamphlet against the Spanish marriage.

KING'S MANUSCRIPTS.

Catalogue of the King's Manuscripts in the British Museum. (MS.) A new catalogue is in preparation.

(These manuscripts, the property of George III., were presented by George IV., when the nation paid that king's debts.)

201. "Original letters from Dr. Franklin to the Rev. Dr. Cooper, written in the years 1769, 1770, 1771, 1772, 1773 and 1774, on American politics."

(Printed in Franklin's Works.)

202. "Original letters from Gov. Pownall to the Rev. Dr. Cooper, written in the years 1769, 1770, 1771, 1772, 1773 and 1774, on American politics."

203. "Original letters from the Rev. Dr. Cooper to Dr. Franklin, written in the years 1769, 1770, 1771, 1772, 1773, 1774 and 1775, on American politics."

(Printed, Amer. Hist. Rev., VIII. 301-330.)

204. "Letters from Doctor Franklin to the Rev[d] Doctor Cooper, Minister of the Gospel in the Town of Boston in New England, in the years 1769, 1770, 1771, 1772, 1773, 1774, upon the subject of American Politics, together with Doctor Cooper's answers and some few letters from Governor Pownall to Doct[r] Cooper upon the same subject. Taken from the Originals. To which is added a short history of those Letters or an acount of the manner in which they happened to fall into the hands of the present possessor of them."

(According to this account Cooper sent the letters to Jeffries, one of the selectmen of Boston, for safekeeping. Jeffries, apparently forgetting where he had put them, gave the trunk containing them to his son, who took them to Halifax and thence to London, where he made a present of them to Mr. Thompson, "who now presumes most humbly to lay them at His Majesty's feet as a literary as well as a political curiosity".

This volume contains copies of all Franklin's letters to Cooper found in 201, with a selection of the Pownall letters in 202. It contains copies of all Cooper's letters to Franklin found in 203, but none of Cooper's letters to Pownall, that are in that volume.)

205. "Report on the State of the American Colonies", containing copies of letters from governors and others in America and elsewhere, probably obtained from Board of Trade papers.

(Quebec (Gov. Murray, Lieutenant-Governors Burton, Gage, 1762); Nova Scotia (Morris, surveyor general, 1762, 1764); Massachusetts (Bernard, 1763); New Hampshire (B. Wentworth, 1754); Connecticut (gov. and Co., 1762); Rhode Island (gov. and Co., 1731); New Jersey (Belcher, 1754); Pennsylvania (Gordon, 1730); Maryland (Sharpe, 1762); Virginia (Fauquier, 1763); North Carolina (Dobbs, 1763); South Carolina (Glen, 1749); Georgia (Wright, 1766); Newfoundland (Palliser, 1764); Bermuda (Popple, 1749); Bahamas (Gambier, 1755); Jamaica (Littleton, 1764); Leeward Is. (Mathew, 1745); Southern Caribbee Is. (Scott, Dalrymple, Rufane, 1763); Barbadoes (Pinfold, 1762); Plantations in general (Proposals for better government of the Plantations and the Administration of American Affairs, by Sir William Keith, 1728, and by the Earl of Stair, 1721).

Glen's letters, without the table regarding the weather (f. 583), are printed in Weston's Documents connected with South Carolina. The proposals by the Earl of Stair are printed in Carson's Constitution of the United States, II. 466-464. Keith's work is printed in Wynne's edition of Byrd's Dividing Line, II. 214. With Kings 205, should be compared Add. MSS. 23615.

206. "State of Manufactures, Mode of Granting Land, Fees of Office, etc., in America."

(Contains copies of and answers to circulars, as follows: August 1, 1766 (N. Y. Docs., VII. 847), asking for exact account of manufactures; December 11, 1766 (N. Y. Docs., VII. 880), asking for cost of maintaining and supporting entire establishment of each colony; January 13, 1767 (N. Y. Docs., VII. 889), asking for account of the manner of granting land and imposing quit-rents, and list of established fees of the different offices and other charges attending grants of land.

There were at least two formal requests for lists of fees: one sent out in 1764, answers found in Colonial Office, Miscellanea 207, old reference; the other sent by Secretary of State Shelburne, January 13, 1767, answers contained in this volume. Letters of Gov. Moore, in reply, are printed in N. Y. Docs., VII. 888-889, 900-909, 921-926.

Copies of circulars of December 11, 1766, and January 13, 1767, and of the answers thereto, are in P. R. O., Colonial Office, Class 5, 112-113—A. W. I. 291-292, old reference.)

208. "A General Description of the Province of Nova Scotia, by Lieut. Col. Morse, Chief Engineer in America", 1783-1784.

("Nova Scotia" included New Brunswick at this time.)

209. Maps and plans to accompany Morse's Description of Nova Scotia. Chiefly of Nova Scotia. Chart of coast of New Jersey and Delaware.

210, 211. "Report of the General Survey in the Southern District of North America. Delivered to the Board of Trade and Plantations in three separate Returns and Sections entering with the History of South Carolina and Georgia, then proceeding to the History of East Florida; and Surveys, containing in general of said Provinces, the Climates, Beginnings, Boundaries, Figures, Contents, Cultures, Soils, Natural Products, Improvements, Navigable Streams, Rivers, Cities, Towns, Villages, Vapours, their Effect and Remedies, burning of Forests, Winds, how to preserve Health, Pathology, Materia Medica, Diet and Regimen, Ports, Bars, Number of Inhabitants and Negroes, Exportations, Riches, Number of Trading Vessels, Cattle, Governments, Forces, Fortifications, of Fort Loudoun in particular, Indians and Appalachian mountains, their Soil, Natural Produce, Air and Communications, compiled from the Surveys, Voyages, Astronomical, Philosophical, and Chymical Observations and Experiments, Sea and Land Surveys of William Gerard de Brahm, His Majesty's Surveyor General for the Southern District of North America."

(De Brahm was appointed to his office in 1764. He spent twenty years, 1751-1771, collecting material for this work. He appears to have delivered transcripts of a portion of it to the Secretary of State and the Board of Trade in 1772 and a more complete transcript to the king, April 2, 1773. Copies of his letters to the Earl of Dartmouth and the Board of Trade and of his address to the king are on pp. 101, 69 and 1. Probably this manuscript in the British Museum is the copy sent to the king. It contains in addition to the contents noted in the title "A Compendium of the Cherokee Indian tongue in English" and a series of finely executed plans, maps, charts, etc., in pen and ink, of harbors, inlets and fortifications, of the cities of Charleston, Savannah and St. Augustine, of the Salzburger and Bethanian settlements in Georgia, a hydrographical map of the Atlantic Ocean and a view and profile of a pharus. The work contains many tables of observations and surveys and ends with tables of measurements, materials and expense for building two pharuses in Florida.

De Brahm's services were ill-requited, if we may judge from the many petitions addressed to the King, Treasury and Board of Trade, and from his own statement that he was "left unprovided from 1783 to 1798 in the 81 of age". The original materials, of which the British Museum manuscript is an early copy, remained during these years unrequested in his possession. Consequently, in 1798 he delivered them in four folio volumes to Consul General Phineas Bond of Philadelphia. The history of these volumes cannot be traced, but eventually two of them fell into the hands of Henry Stevens of London who sold them in 1848 for £12 10*s.*, to the Library of Harvard University where they now are.

The two manuscripts present a number of points of difference. The H. C. L. copy is bound as one volume and covers many more pages than the B. M. copy. The address to the king in the H. C. L. copy has two additional paragraphs, also an address to the Treasury, and an appendix in Latin, of a philosopho-mystical nature, entitled "Hercules ex rore sub flora corona", which was written in 1763, but is not found in the B. M. copy. The maps and plans are the same in both copies, with slight differences in the wording of the titles.

Portions of the H. C. L. copy have been printed in P. C. J. Weston's Documents connected with the History of South Carolina and by Wymberly-Jones de Renne in the second of his Wormsloe quartos, 1849, with engravings of seven of the plans. In the latter are printed the letter to the Treasury, address to the king, synopsis, letter to the Board of Trade and the portion of the text relating to Georgia. In Weston are printed the address to the king, synopsis and section on South Carolina. The remainder of the work has never been printed and only the plans in the Wormsloe quarto have been reproduced.

No clue can be obtained to the character or whereabouts of the other two volumes that De Brahm delivered to Bond. It is not impossible that he made other compilations than those relating to South Carolina, Georgia and Florida.)

212. "Journal of General Braddock's Expedition in 1755", prefaced by six colored maps: (1) Map of the country between Wills Creek and Monongahela River showing route and encampment of the English army in 1755; (2) "Line of March with the whole Baggage"; (3) "Plan of the Disposition of the Advanced Party consisting of 400 men"; (4) "Line of March of the Detachments from the Little Meadows"; (5) "Encampment of the Detachment from the Little Meadows"; (6) "A Plan of the Field of Battle and Disposition of the Troops as they were on the March at the time of the Attack, July 9, 1755."

(See Winsor, Nar. and Crit. History, V. 498, note 3. Orme's Journal has been printed, Mem. Hist. Soc. Pa., V. 281-351. Cf. Eng. Hist. Rev., I. 150.)

213. "Journal of an Officer who travelled over a part of the West Indies and of North America in the course of 1764 and 1765." From the West Indies the author crossed to Pensacola, thence to Savannah and northward to Canada. Folio 59 begins "Some Thoughts relative to Canada, as it appeared affected in 1765." The author left Montreal, August, 1765, passed through Lake Champlain to Albany, thence to Barrington, through Connecticut to Hartford, thence by way of Enfield, through the woods, to Boston. From Boston he returned to New York and embarked for England, October 14, 1765.

f. 9. Letter from Ferd. John Paris to John Penn, "in Pensilvania". November 7, 1734.

2395. This well-known volume was purchased at Sotheby's, February 16, 1875. Its title as entered in the sale-catalogue was as follows: "West Indies (State Papers relating to).—A Volume containing several hundreds of original papers, petitions, patents, memorials, descriptions, letters and other documents transmitted to the Lords of the Council of State and Privy Council, during the reigns of the Commonwealth Authorities and King Charles the Second, relative to the Plantations and Settlements in the West Indies, Jamaica, Caribbee Islands, New England, Virginia, Newfoundland, and Nova Scotia."

The documents were collected by Thomas Povey, merchant under Cromwell trading with the West Indies and member of the committee for managing the affairs of Jamaica. After the Restoration, he became a member of the Council for Foreign Plantations, was treasurer to the Duke of York and receiver general of the plantation revenues. He was thus officially interested in the colonies and gathered these documents to a large extent as material for his reports as member of the committee and member of the Council. See also Add. MSS. 11411; Pepys, Diary, I. 288, passim.

f. 354. Note on adventures of Robert Barrington, son of Sir F. Barrington, in New England, about 1645.

2659-2675. Hutchinson Papers. These volumes contain the papers and correspondence of the Hutchinson family, from 1741 to 1880. They include the letter-book, diary, memoranda, will and general correspondence of Thomas Hutchinson, governor of Massachusetts Bay, 1769-1774; letters of his sons, Thomas and Elisha, and of his daughter Margaret or Peggy; letters of Thomas's son, Thomas; of Edward Hutchinson, of Cambridge, New England, to Elisha, the second son, and of John, Elisha's son, perpetual curate of Blurton and canon of Lichfield, relating to his history of Massachusetts Bay, 1817-1823. They contain also correspondence of Elisha's grandson, John Rogers Hutchinson, of Emmanuel College, Cambridge, and of Thomas's grandson P. O. Hutchinson, the editor of the Diary and Letters of Thomas Hutchinson, 2 vols. (1884-1888). Besides the Hutchinson letters are the letters, diaries (1776, 1741-1821) and other papers of Chief Justice Peter Oliver, of his brother Andrew, the brother-in-law of Hutchinson, of Gage, Clarke and others. But a small amount of the correspondence belongs to the period before 1783, chiefly that in volume 2659 much of which has been printed in the Diary and Letters. Upon the documents may be found occasional notes of P. O. Hutchinson, made in 1880-1881, explanatory of persons and events. Letters of Peggy Hutchinson touching upon family history and happenings in London are exceedingly entertaining. Although the diary and a large number of the letters of Gov. Hutchinson have been printed, the letters of many of the others of the family and of the Olivers have not been published. Hosmer, in his Life of Hutchinson made no use of the material beyond that portion printed in P. O. Hutchinson's Diary and Letters.

Reference to Index in B. M. Cat. Add. MSS. 1882-1887, under the headings "Hutchinson", "Oliver", etc., will give the clue to the greater part of the correspondence, but some of the other papers of special interest and importance are listed below.

2659. f. 19. Letter from Ex-Gov. Bernard to Thos. Hutchinson. 1771.

ff. 50, 56-59, 68, 70. Letters relating to tea destroyed in Boston harbor. 1773-1774.

(F. 58 is a letter from John Rowe to consignees of tea destroyed, 1773; and f. 68 is a letter from Gen. Gage to Th. Hutchinson, 1774.)

f. 54. Letter from Andrew Oliver to W. Whately. 1773.

ff. 7b, 8. The West Indies and S. America from the mouth of the Magdalena to Trinidad.

ff. 8b, 9. The Atlantic showing Labrador and Newfoundland.

SLOANE MANUSCRIPTS.

Volumes 1-4100, of which Additional Manuscripts is a continuation, constitute the Sloane Collection, and are inadequately described in:

Ayscough's Catalogue of the Manuscripts preserved in the British Museum, hitherto undescribed, including the Collections of Sir Hans Sloane, the Rev. T. Birch, etc. 2 vols. in one. (London, 1782.)

(Describes vols. 1-5017. The same, rearranged in numerical order, with corrections and additions, is on the shelves of the Manuscript Room of the British Museum.)

Index to the Sloane Manuscripts in the British Museum, by Edward J. L. Scott, Litt. D. (1904).

(Vols. 1-4100. The preface gives an account of the catalogues.)

The pagination in the Sloane volumes is often perplexing. Some of the volumes appear to have been repaged four times and the references in the Classified Catalogue and even occasionally in the Index are not always to be depended on. Failure to find a document from the references given does not indicate that the document is not in the volume. It may always be found if searched for.

In the Sloane Collection are letters to Sir Hans Sloane from various persons in the colonies, regarding fauna and flora, etc., references to which can readily be found in the Index under the following names:

Boylston, Zab[l], Boston.

42. John Chilton's Narrative of his voyage to New Spain. 1568.

45-49. Various Voyages to the South Seas. These manuscripts seem to have been drafted by William Hack about 1687. Nos. 46A and 48 probably relate to the same voyage though text and plans are quite different. They narrate a voyage, 1680-1682, from Panama down the western coast of S. America around the cape and ending at Barbadoes and Antigua; and contain drawings of Cividad de la Serera, Juan Fernandez, bay of Arica, Colon, port of Parta, Duke of York's island, etc. The journal in 46A was kept by Captain Bartholomew Sharp, that in 48 by Basil Ringrose.

Vol. 45 is a large folio of painted geographical sketches with descriptions. Part I. describes the sea-coast from Acapulco toward "California", taken from original Spanish manuscripts by Hack; part II. contains descriptions of the Bahama Banks, by Mr. Salmon under Capt. Phips, and of the west end of Nevis, of the harbor of St. Thomas, of St. Iago de Cuba, of St. Martha's Bay and Guara, and of the bay of Sino, by Mr. John Jenefer.

Vol. 47 contains various instructions for sailing from Callao to the city of Panama, from the city of Panama to Callao, Port of Perico to Callao, the city of Panama to "Callifornia" and Cape Medinino, and Port Acapulco to "California". (No maps.)

Vol. 49 contains "John Cox his Travells over the land into the S° Seas from thence Round the S° parte of America to Berbadoes and Antegoe." This seems to be a master's log, recording wind, weather and nautical observations; possibly, as the catalogue suggests, the journal from which the voyages and adventures of Capt. Bartholomew Sharp and others in the South Sea were published in 1684.

(See 86, 3820.)

50 or 1070. [Journal] "on board the James and Mary, Capt. Wm. Phips, commander, in company with the Henry, Capt. Francis Rogers, commander, from Samana Bay bound for the Wreck". September 11, 1686.

54. "The Voyage of William Ambrosia Cowley, marriner, from the Capes of Virginia to the Islands of Cape D'Verd" and so on around the world.

(A narrative of the voyage, probably collected from this journal, was published by Hack in 1699. Copy of this document, without the heading, is in Sloane 1050, and another in Bibliotheca Pepysiana 2826.)

79. ff. 193-199. Draft of government framed by William Penn, Anno 1682, for Pennsylvania and West Jersey.

(Copy of Penn's Frame of Government, containing the "Laws agreed upon in England".)

159. ff. 1-6, 7-14. Charter of Avalon in Newfoundland, April 7, 1623, on parchment. In Latin, ff. 1-6; in English, ff. 7-14.

(Printed. See Winsor, Nar. and Crit. Hist., III. 561, note 1.)

ff. 20-21. "Certaine overtures made by the Lord Willoughby of Parham unto all such as shall incline to plant in the Colonye of Saranam on the continent of Guaiana." 1662-1665.

172. Relation concerning New England beginning: "For the perfect understanding of the state of New England these three things deserve consideration viz^{t}: (1) The Countrie; (2) The Comoditie; (3) The Inhabitants."

(Written probably between 1635 and 1638. The "relation" is followed by list of the patents granted by the New England Council, nineteen in number. Other copies are in Sloane 3105, 3448, ff. 1-15, and the whole is printed in Jenness, Early Documents relating to New Hampshire, 21-25.)

363. ff. 72-76. Letter from Wm. Chillingworth to John Lewgar persuading him to return to the Church of England.

(John Lewgar was the first secretary of Maryland. The letter which is wholly theological is printed in Chillingworth's Works (1742), p. 391.)

379. ff. 22-26. Apparently accounts of a custom officer of the port of London. November 16, 1672-February 17, 1673/4.

665. General state of Receipts and Issues of Public Revenue. 1702-1710. (Plantation duty.)

750. Materials for the History of the Bermudas, etc.

(Printed, Hakluyt Society Publications (1882), ed. Lefroy, who believes that the work was written by Capt. John Smith.)

758. Various Notes and Observations on the Bermudas, by N. Butler.

(F. 3 begins "A Dialogical Discourse concerning Marine Affairs between the High Admiral and a Captaine at Sea. Represented in Six Dialogues or Discourses . . . . Collected and Penned by Captain Nathaniel Butler, Anno 1634." Then follows a diary "of my personal employment", February 10, 1639, to May, 1640. Various other notes complete the manuscript.)

793 or 894. Small manuscript volume entitled: "Mercurius Americanus. A Briefe Journall or A Succinct and True Relation of the most Remarkable Passages observed in that voyage undertaken by Captaine William Jackson to the Western Indies or Continent of America." 1642.

856. Letter-book of Commissions, royal Letters, etc. of Charles II.

f. 37 is to [the council of Jamaica] notifying it of the appointment of Lord Windsor as governor in Col. Doyley's place, July 20, 1661. (Cal. Col. 1661-1665, §135.)

f. 37b is to the Committee of the East India Co. to carry out an experiment in Jamaica as to how well the spices and plants of the East Indies might agree in that island. August 20, 1661.

857. f. 93. Letter from Ed. Greene to his uncle, John Green, glassmaker in London, from "on board their Majestie's ship The Loyall Merchant in Antigua". About 1690-1692.

922. f. 90. Letter from Master Welles from New England to his people in Tarling in Essex. Charles Town, 1633.

f. 94. Letter from James Cole to his wife. June 30, 1634.

(Dated from Ipswich, England, speaking of his creditors, his misery and his children and bidding her not to ask him to return. Ff. 96-101, letters relating to the same subject to his wife and parents. That of November 29, 1634, says "The Lord's desier is to employ me for New England." F. 104 is from Nehemiah Wallington to Cole in New England, 1642, and f. 107 from Cole to Wallington, dated "Hertford in Queneticote", and f. 173 from Wallington to Cole. Wars in England and the sins of the times.)

ff. 109-115b. Part of letter from Anthony Thacher to his brother Peter. New England, 1635.

(Account of shipwreck, going to Marblehead, and his deliverance from the "deapes of the sea".)

ff. 144b-145. Letter from Edward Browne to Neh. Wallington, Ipswich, New England, December, 1644, describing the conditions there.

ff. 145b-147b. From Wallington to Browne, 1645, bewailing the times in England.

978. Journal, by some one not named, of voyage to the Mediterranean and home, and of second voyage to Antigua on board the Turkey Merchant.

(On f. 50 are entries of his leaving for Antigua, his arrival there, and various accounts of sugar received, etc., to f. 56. F. 64, reversing the book, is his private barter account at Antigua. Of value for the lists of commodities purchased at various places in the West Indies and their prices.)

1008. f. 335. Letter from J. Clayton to [Dr. E. Borlase], James Citty, April 24, 1684, giving account of Virginia and stating that he had received orders to preach before the general assembly the following Sunday.

1039. f. 90. "A True Answer to a writing of information, presented to his Majesty by Captain Nath. Butler, intituled: 'The Unmasked Face of our Colonie in Virginia as it was in the winter of the year 1622'."

(Imperfect, one leaf missing. Cf. Cal. Col. 1574-1660, pp. 38, 39-40; Brown, Republic, 518.)

1139. ff. 1-172. Jonathan Goddard, Gresham Professor. Collectanea de chemia, medicina, et naturali historia.

1378. ff. 214-233b. Copy of Acts passed "at a Grand Assembly held at James Citty in Virg[a], March 13, 1657".

1394. ff. 1-27. Duplicate of Egerton 2395, f. 609, with some verbal alterations and a number of additions and omissions.

(After the section "Number of the English", Egerton 2395, f. 612 reverse, is a section "The State of the Spanyards on this Island". Sloane omits items 1-10, Egerton, f. 617, and adds a new paragraph, 29, on f. 28.)

ff. 83b-94. Journal in the Swan Pucke from Poole to Virginia in 1667 and back in 1668, with tobacco accounts and tables of courses.

f. 255. Letter from Cotton Mather, Boston, 24th, 7mo, 1716, beginning "'Tis high time for me to make you some return".

4066. f. 114. Letter from Prof. Bourquet, Neufchâtel in Switzerland, to Sir William Thompson of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in New England. Latin.

f. 334. Letter from Laur. Dowdill [?] to Hon. Col. [Fulke] Rose, of Jamaica, regarding effects of a storm or hurricane.

(Probably the great hurricane of Jamaica, 1692.)

4067. f. 105. Letter from Leon. Plunkett to Col. William Byrd "a little before he went to Virginia". Draft.

f. 140. Letter from Samuel Sewall, the diarist, to Dr. Nehemiah Grew, Secretary of the Royal Society and son of Dr. Obadiah Grew, formerly of Balliol College, Oxford.

(Sewall in his diary refers to his visit with the Grews when in England in 1689. Letter undated, but date can be ascertained by reference to Diary, vol. I. 310, to be February 1 or 2, 1690/1. Postscript was added February 2 or 3. Letter contains interesting comments on Boston, the Indians, etc. Somewhat mutilated.)

4068. f. 54. Letter from Sir Hans Sloane to Col. William Byrd, December 7, 1709; observations on specimens of plants received.

4069. f. 90. Draft of letter from Sir Hans Sloane to Dr. John Bartram, acknowledging curiosities, and saying he would like samples of seeds.

4070. Volume entitled "Catalogues of Plants".

ff. 17b-18. "These are the names of [torn] Sortes of [ ] groweth in Barbados Collected and gathered for the King's Use." [ ] By James Reed gardner.

ff. 19-21. "These are the names of the plants wh grow in Barbadoes Collected by me James Reed gardner in the year 1690."

4072. f. 299. Paper endorsed "An Accompt of Plants and Seeds sent from Barbados by James Wier". 1696.

4080-4083C. Sex volumina chartacea in fo. continentia icones rerum naturalium in Insulis Philippensibus nascentium, manu P. Georgii Joseph Camelli, Soc. Jes., delineatas, cum earundem descriptionibus manu ejusdem.

I. 4080. 135 folios, of which 30 are Latin manuscript.

II. 4081. 146 folios, of which about 73 or more are Latin manuscript.

III. 4082. 120 folios: about 18 separate manuscript leaves and many combination drawings and manuscript.

IV. 4083A. 135 folios: at the beginning of this book is a printed broadside in French, n. d., headed "Avis aux personnes d'esprit et aux curieux", stating that Paul Boceone, "herboriste" of the Grand Duke of Tuscany, had come to Paris with his botanical collections and would hold conferences every fortnight, etc. The volume deals chiefly with shells, corals, fungi, etc. At the end, five letters to and from Camel, dated 1698, 1699, 1700, 1701, 1702.

V. 4083B. ff. 1-101. Insects, moths, caterpillars, etc.

VI. 4083C. ff. 1-129. Animals, reptiles, fishes, butterflies, many painted. Also letter from Camel to Petiver.

ADDITIONAL CHARTERS.

Listed in printed catalogues of Additional Manuscripts. Catalogues of the Harleian, Cottonian, Sloane, and Old Royal collections of charters and rolls can be consulted in Students' Room.

5976. Letters of attorney from James Craven, of Edenton, in Chowan county, North Carolina, administrator of Capt. Robert Hatton, deceased, to Thomas Child, attorney general of North Carolina, dated November 1, 1751; certificate and seal annexed of Gabriel Johnson, governor of North Carolina.

13585. Original grant of portion of Virginia to Lord Hopton et al., issued at St. Germain en Laye, September 18, 1649.

15568. Gov. Leverett's certificate regarding death of the son of Esther Howchine "in the 30th yeare of His Maj. reign". October 15, 1678.

26400, 26404. Assignments by Jonathan Forward, tobacco merchant of London, of his business debts in Virginia and Maryland, to John Goodwin of London; and of his trade in Virginia to Jonathan Sydenham and Thomas Hodgson. 1747.

43062. Exemplification of William Penn's charter to Germantown, repeating the terms of the charter of 1691 and closing with these words, "All and singular which premises at the request of Benjamin Vining of the City of Philadelphia in the province of Pensilvania, Esq, by the tenor of these presents are exemplified. Witness Charles Brocton, deputy to the master of the Rolls for the sd province at Philadelphia, the Twelfth day in the fifth year of our sovereign Lord George King of Great Britain and in the year of our Lord, 1718." Seal (gamboge) attached by blue ribbon.

BRIEFS OR CHURCH BRIEFS.

Collection, classed among the charters and rolls, consists of letters patent to authorize collection of alms for restoring churches destroyed by fire or for similar purposes. Manuscript list of them from 1755 to passing of act by which briefs were abolished, 1827. Number of briefs in this collection, 663. Indexed in catalogue of Additional Manuscripts. Collection relates almost wholly to English churches, only two briefs having to do with the colonies.

B. II. 9. Brief in support of the college in Philadelphia; and of the college in New York, 2 George III.

(Large sheet of parchment with great seal attached, bearing letters patent, dated August 19, 1761, which, after reciting the needs of the two colleges, authorizes making collection from house to house for joint and equal benefit of the two, and appoints the Archbishop of Canterbury and others trustees.)

B. IV. 8. Brief in support of sufferers by the great fire in Montreal, 6 George III.

Additions made after date of last printed volume can be seen in proof on catalogue shelf, but without index. Additions not in proof are entered in manuscript in same temporary volume with the proof, titles being briefly stated.

4164. f. 32. Extract of letter from Lieut. Wm. Jacobs to ——— Spellman, September 30, 1755, giving an account of America.

(Sailed from Woolwich, June 3, 1754, for Halifax, then to Bay of Fundy, then to Boston, where he arrived April 17, 1755.)

4275. f. 154. Letter from John Cotton "To my Reverend & deare friend Mr. Hildersam, Preacher of the word at Ashby".

f. 158ff. Letters from John Davenport to Lady Vere, at The Hague. London, January 18, 1627; June 30, 1628; December 26, 1629; about 1633. Rotterdam, December 25, 1635. Quinipiack, "28th of 7th mo", 1639; "13th day of 9th mo. 1647."

(Regarding Mr. John Pell who had come over to enter into possession of estate of Thomas Pell, deceased of Fairfield. Also about a hill near Kennebunk "which is removed out of its place and its bottom turned upward".)

4432. f. 27. "A Journal from Virginia beyond the Appalachian mountains in September, 1671", of a journey taken "in order to the discovery of the South Sea".

(Sent to the Royal Society by "Mr. Clayton" and read August 1, 1668, before the society. See the Royal Society, Guard Books, 7.)

f. 182. Communication from Is. Greenwood, Cambridge, December 8, 1730, regarding "Inscriptions on the Rock in Taunton River", with two drawings.

4435. f. 13. Letter from Barbadoes to Mr. Philip Miller. July 12, 1737.

(Speaks of attempt to make wine by mixing grape juice with juice of sugar. Tried, also, to make wine out of sugar cane juice. Sends two bottles.)

4437. f. 58. Communication from Mr. Watson of Aldersgate St., May 9, 1740, sending specimens of "curious Turpentine from America . . . . the most odiferous came from Boston, the other from Annapolis Royal".

4438. f. 32. "The manner of making Tarr and Pitch in Carolina", by Mark Catesby, F. R. S., endorsed May 19, 1743.

(Printed in Catesby's The Natural History of Carolina, Florida, and the Bahama Is., London, 1731-1743.)

5138. f. 145. "Considerations concerning Free Ports and Free Scales in England."

(Date is about 1657 or 1658. Paper deals with the question of free trade vs. monopolies under Cromwell.)

5270. "Representations of West Indians, Groenlanders, etc.; Also of Birds Fishes, Plants, etc; By Mr John White who accompanied Sir Walter Raleigh on his voyage." n. d.

(This collection has now been transferred to the Print Room. Dr. Eggleston in the Nation, April 23, 1891, pp. 340-341, expressed the opinion that these drawings are but clumsy, early copies of the original White drawings in the Grenville Collection, British Museum. Dr. E. E. Hale in Archaeologia, IV. 21-24, thought them originals. See also Proc. Mass. Hist. Soc., October, 1866, p. 12.)

5414. Roll 17. Draft of Boston Harbor by Capt. Cyprian Southake. 1694.
Roll 19. Map of the coast region from Mexico to Gulf of St. Lawrence. "Philip Wells, Fecitt." 1686.

(Attempts to show boundaries of the colonies, particularly of Pennsylvania and New Jersey. Latitude and longitude wrong, but comments generally correct. Rhode Island spelled Road Island. Susquehanna fort called "Virginia fort" and placed on 40°.)

Roll 21. Map of New England from Sagadahoc to New Jersey.

Roll 22. Map of New England from Sagadahoc to Cape Cod.

(On vellum, crudely drawn, and highly colored in red. Appears to have been made to uphold Mason's claim. Mason territory, called New Hampshire, extends to Naumkeag river.)

Roll 23. "A Map of the improved Part of the Province of Pennsylvania in America Begun by Mr. Penn proprietory and governor thereof, 1681."

(At the top righthand corner is a plan of the city of Philadelphia, below that the following title, "A Map of the Province of Pennsilvania containing the Three Counties of Chester, Philadelphia and Bucke, as far as yet Surveyed and Layd out y^e^ divisions or distinctions made by y^e^ different Coullers, respecte the Settlements by way of Townships. By Tho^s^ Holme, Surv^r^ Gen^l^, Sold by Rob: Greene, at the Rose and Crowne in Budge Row And by John Thornton at the Platt in the Minories London". Dedication to Wm. Penn is in lefthand corner at top. Letter press, "A / general Description / of the Province of / Pennsylvania / in / America /", runs along the foot of the map and begins "His late Majesty". Map is brilliantly colored. See Pa. Mag., XIX. 422, 423, note. One of Holme's maps was published in 1846 and again in 1870.)

Roll 24. Map of Carolina, from Virginia to Georgia.

(Contains "A Table of Names of the Several Settlements upon Colleton, Stono, Ashley and Cooper Rivers". Date must be 17th century. Also an inset, "A Particular Draught for the going in Ashley and Cooper Rivers".)

Roll 28. Map of Pennsylvania and Nova Caesaria vulgo New Jersey.

(On vellum. Contains more detail of New Jersey than of Pennsylvania. Shows Bridlington (Burlington), Portland Point, Newark alias Milford, Col. Morris Iron-works, etc. Endorsed "Pennsylvania from Mr. Benjamin Furley". For Furley, 1636-1714, see Pa. Mag., XIX. 277.)

5489. Miscellaneous Papers of the Hill Family.

f. 36. Letter from Samuel Hill to his brother, Thomas Hill. Amsterdam, September, 1664.

f. 39. "Advice regarding Husbandrie, Fishing, and Plantations", signed Hugh Lamy, "Pieter le Preevost". n. d.

f. 41. Articles for Newfoundland Fishing.

(Sequel to previous paper.)

f. 70. "A true copy under seal of the King's Charter for incorporating the Company of Massachusetts Bay in 1628." Attested April 21, 1635.

f. 85. "List of masters names, servants, goods, money to receive, money received, remaining due to pay in the countrie."

(Date, August 25, 1642 [5?]; name of ship, the Unity. No clue as to destination of the vessel, but as the country pay is given in pounds of tobacco, presumably it was bound for Virginia. Marsden, in R. H. S. Transactions, XIX. 333, mentions a Unity engaged in the Virginia trade. Vessel carried 22 passengers and over a hundred servants.)

5540. f. 43. William Penn's speech to the king at Windsor, May 24, 1687, when he delivered the Quakers' address; the king's answer.

Letters and papers of John Cary, merchant of Bristol.

ff. 59-82. Correspondence of Cary with Edmund Bohun, John Locke and G. B. of Amsterdam, chiefly regarding Cary's Book of Trade. January-February, 1695/6.

ff. 83-96. Correspondence of Cary and other Bristol merchants with Sir Thomas Day and Maj. Yate, their representatives in Parliament. Beginning December 14, 1695, and extending to January 21, 1696.

(Throws light on the inner history of the appointment of the Board of Trade, and the rivalry between London and the outports in trading matters.)

5757. Eight original letters of Gen. Washington to Sir John Sinclair. 1792-1797.

(These letters to the President of the British Board of Agriculture, participant with Washington in the Braddock expedition of 1755, were engraved in facsimile and published in London, 1800. They have since been printed in the collection of Washington's letters to Sinclair and Arthur Young, 1803, 1847.)

5829. f. 137b. "American Scholes, 1769."

(Evidently written by William Cole of Cambridge regarding the project to establish an Indian school in America and the efforts of "the Independent Preachers from New England who went all over the kingdom with Mr. Occam, an Indian in Presbyterian orders and preached in all their meeting-houses", to raise funds. The writer, who is intensely opposed to the scheme, this "cheat upon the country", says that in England alone they got £9494. Part of the paper is called "A continuation of the Narrative of the Indian Charity School in Lebanon in Connecticut, formed and carried on by the Rev. Dr Eleazar Wheelock. London, 8o, 1769." At the end is a "Fanatical List of Subscribers". The letter was written, September 30, 1778. For Occam and the Lebanon school, see W. DeLoss Love, Samson Occam and the Christian Indians of New England, 1900.)

5847. f. 192b. Copy of letter from Gen. Burgoyne, giving description of battle of Bunker Hill, with clipping from the London Chronicle, August 5-7, 1777, containing Gen. Burgoyne's proclamation from his camp at Putnam Creek, June 29, 1777.

("I much lament Tom's absence. It was a sight for a young soldier that the longest service may never furnish again".)

6190. f. 50, 54, 60, 65. Letters from Sir William Keith to the Society for the Encouragement of Learning. February 1737/8 to September 25, 1738.

(Concern Keith's projected History of the British Plantations, of which only vol. I., History of Virginia, ever appeared. "It was at the desire of certain persons of distinction that I have employed myself for a few months past in compiling a regular history of the British Plantations in America, with proper remarks on their trade and government", etc.)

6194. f. 39b. Paper by Dr. Daniel Coxe on "the effects of tobacco oyl", i. e., on the influence of nicotine upon animals, delivered before Gresham College, May 3, 1665.

f. 59b. Memorandum of a brief description of Carolina. 1660.

6394. Boswell Papers. Vol. I. Relative to the English Church in the Netherlands.

f. 35. Letter from John Cotton to the Bishop of Lincoln. Boston in England, January 31, 1624.

(Cotton acknowledges that his former arguments against kneeling are not as forcible as he thought them. The letter contains this striking sentence, "Alas, Alas, (my deere Lord) I see by often experience the shallowness of mine own judgment, especially in comparison of many centuries of Godly Learned men", etc. Cotton was thirty-nine years old at the time.)

ff. 134, 144, 188, 194, 198. Letters from Stephen Goffe, preacher of the regiment in the Netherlands of which Lieut.-Gen. Vere was head, to Sir William Boswell. 1633, 1634.

(Containing information regarding early life of Davenport, Cotton and others. In one letter (f. 144) is the following: "For that reason (because Cotton has convinced Davenport that kneeling is idolatry) Mr. Davenport hath absented himself every sacrament day, which is once a month, since Christmas, and Mr. Cotton is going to New England.")

f. 161. "The 15 Artickells and Covenant of Mr. Hugh Peter of Rott^{m}".

f. 190. Letter from John Webster to Sir William Boswell. Amsterdam, February 25, 1634.

(Information about John Davenport.)

f. 196. Letter from John Davenport to Sir William Boswell. Amsterdam, March 18, 1634.

f. 200. Letter from Dr. Griffin Higgs to Sir William Boswell. 1634.

(Information about Davenport and others.)

f. 237. Letter from Beaumont, preacher to the Merchant Adventurers, to Sir William Boswell. Rotterdam, April 30, 1636.

f. 244. Letter from John Davenport to Sir William Boswell. The Hague, May 7, 1636.

6727. f. 84. Charter of Carolina, 17 Car. II.

6807. f. 108. Regarding surrender of Louisburg, August, 1758.

(See also 6816, f. 85, and 6825, f. 42.)

6865. ff. 97-104. This volume contains the propositions and counter propositions of the French and British governments in 1755 regarding limits of Acadia, Canada, territories on the Ohio and disputed islands.

7944-7960. Colored drawings and natural history of insects of Georgia, by John Abbott of Savannah. 1792-1804. 17 volumes.

8133B. Large volume containing papers as follows:

f. 2. Observations on the "American Drawback" act of 4 Geo. III. Date after 1783.

f. 7. Account of total amount of old subsidy retained upon foreign goods exported from England to N. America, 1773-1774.

f. 141. Account of amount of bounties paid on hemp, flax and wood imported from America, 1771-1775.
ff. 160-165. Indigo statistics, 1771-1775.
ff. 177-179. Naval stores statistics, 1771-1775.
ff. 194-195. Plantation rum statistics, 1770-1779.
f. 280. Essence of spruce from Canada, 1778-1782.
ff. 283-302. Many sugar statistics, 1770-1779.
f. 309ff. Many tea statistics.
(See also ff. 316, 326, 341.)
f. 350ff. Many tobacco statistics.

8133C. Volume, similar to 8133B, containing the following papers:
ff. 1-4. Small printed book containing lists of the "commissions of the customs and successors of the commissioners" from 1672 to 1785, with dates of letters patent, number of commissioners and their salaries, names of new commissioners with dates when they died or were superseded, names of commissioners who had died or were superseded with dates of their first appointments.

f. 168. Thomas Jefferson to same. 1786.

21631-21660. Bouquet Papers.

(These volumes contain letter-books, disbursement accounts, warrants, general and regimental orders, etc., of Brig.-Gen. Bouquet. Gen. Bouquet was appointed lieutenant-colonel of the Royal American regiment in 1754. In 1763 he was sent by Gen. Amherst to Canada with military stores for the relief of Fort Pitt and gained a notable victory over the Indians. At the conclusion of the peace with the Indians, he was made brigadier-general and commandant of all troops in the southern colonies. He died in 1765 of an epidemic at Pensacola.

His correspondence includes letters to and from Amherst, Gage, Stanwix, Moncton, St. Clair, Loudoun, Forbes, Washington, and letters from large numbers of the officers, commissioned and non-commissioned, of lesser rank, and from governors of some of the colonies, agents, paymasters and civilians in Philadelphia, New York, Charleston, etc.

The documents in these 17 volumes are calendared in Brymner's Canadian Archives, issued as appendices to the Report of the Minister of Agriculture, 1889, pp. 1-137. Complete copies of the entire collection are in the archives of the government at Ottawa, constituting vols. A1-A30 of the government series. As the printed calendar is readily accessible no attempt has been made here to list any of the documents of this collection. An excellent account of Gen. Bouquet may be found in the Dict. Nat. Biog.)

21661-21892. Haldimand Papers.

(General Sir Frederick Haldimand was born in 1718 and died in 1791. He was appointed lieutenant-colonel of the 62d Royal Americans in 1756 under Lord Loudoun, and rose steadily in rank, serving in northern New York and Canada till 1766 when he took command at Pensacola, Florida.

In 1778 he was appointed governor of Canada. His papers cover the years, 1758-1785, and consist of correspondence with Gens. Amherst, Gage, Stanwix, Robertson, Taylor, Abercrombie, Murray, Sir Ralph Burton, Sir William Johnson, Col. Guy Johnson, Hon. John Stuart; the governors of the various colonies; agents, paymasters and superintendents, both in America and in England, the subordinate officers in America, and the various officials, secretary of state and others, in England.

The volumes include also many copies of reports on conditions in Canada under Haldimand's predecessors; many papers relating to Indian affairs and ordnance matters; account-books, regimental returns, commissariat statistics; general orders and instructions from Amherst, Gage, Maitland, Carleton and others; government instructions, military rules and directions, journals, diaries, maps, plans, bills of exchange, naval and military commissions, warrants; and many letters from and papers relating to the Loyalists. In addition, the later volumes contain secret intelligence papers, documents relating to prisoners and suspected persons, packet boats, invoices of cargoes, and letters of advice of stores shipped, statistics of trade, and, finally, memorials, speeches, addresses, commissions, advertisements, valuations and inventories.

A copy of this great collection of 232 volumes is in the government archives at Ottawa, numbered B1-B232, many of the volumes being in two parts. The documents are calendared in Brymner's Canadian Archives, 1884, pp. 1-136; 1885, pp. 137-382; 1886, pp. 383-741 (completing vol. I.), 1-84; 1887, pp. 85-564; 1888, pp. 565-1028 (completing vol. II.), 1-52; 1889, pp. 53-299 (completing vol. III.). Though the calendar forms but a part of each appendix for the year of issue, a continuous pagination has been adopted so that bound separately it consists of three volumes of pp. 741, 1028 and 299 respectively.

Add. MSS. 20237, containing letters from Gen. Haldimand to Sir John Johnson, superintendent of Indian affairs, belongs properly speaking to the Haldimand collection, but has not been included among those documents copied by the Canadian government. The Haldimand papers were presented to the British Museum in 1857 by Haldimand's grand-nephew, William Haldimand, M. P., and are fully indexed in the separate index-volume covering the additions of the years 1854-1875. So accessible is the calendar that none of the documents are here listed.)

21931. List of testators, 1663-1700, 1731-1750, and lists of marriages, 1669-1679. Jamaica.

24516. f. 115. "Emigration in 1635. From a Record of the time in the custody of the Queen's Remembrancer. I have copied every name of persons going to New England. Those to Virginia are in a greater number than to Barbadoes, St. Christopher, New Providence and Bermudas."

(The book, which contains about 100 leaves, is entitled, "A Register of the names of all the passengers that passed through the port of London, in one year, 1635".)

24666. Collection of printed tracts relating to the English church at Amsterdam. 1634, 1635.

24982. Memoirs and other papers relating to the English and French possessions in America and the West Indies.

"Repertoire de ce qui est contenu dans ce livre":—

"Etat présent des isles et Territoires du Roy de France, et d'Angleterre en Amerique, avec l'histoire ancienne et modernes de leur Colonies et des Tables Astronomiques qui montrent le levée et le couché du soleil, &c, dans les dites colonies, et un Traité historique des Vents et des Moussons, par M. E. Hallei."

1. Martinique.
2. "Estat présent des Isles et Territories du Roy d'Angletterre en Amerique."

25115. A volume containing copies of various petitions presented to the Council of Trade, earliest dated, November 13, 1660, and latest, March 12, 1661/2.

25117-25125. The Coventry Papers (Henry Coventry, Secretary of State, 1672-1680) were presented by the Duke of Northumberland in 1863. Consist of letter-books chiefly. Only 25120 is of importance here. This is entitled "Letters to Governors of Plantations in North America and the West Indies, 1674-1679". Some of these letters are calendared in Cal. Col., but a number of them are not calendared and supplement the documents in the Public Record Office.

ff. 41-151. Letters from Henry Coventry to Gov. Atkins of Barbadoes, Gov. Vaughan of Jamaica, Sir Henry Morgan of Jamaica, the buccaneer, knighted by Charles II., chiefly in connection with the enterprises at Panama, etc. (Cf. 11268, 11410.) Some of the letters to Atkins are calendared. Letter to Gov. Berkeley of Virginia, July 10, 1676, about sending troops to put down Bacon's rebellion (ff. 82-83, not cal.); another, July 14, 1676, about the same, (f. 88, not cal.); a third, November 15, 1676 (f. 94, cal.). Letters to Mr. Witham at Barbadoes, and to the Earl of Carlisle. Important letter to Jeffreys, Berkeley's successor as governor of Virginia, dated December 5, 1678, contains this suggestive statement (f. 136, not cal.), "The difficulties we are in at present by reason of a late Conspiracy discovered of the utmost consequence, and the combined and long sittings of Parliament, have given us so little time to consult at the Committee of Plantations, that you will want many directions which else you would have had." Cf. also f. 138 (not cal.). Letter to Sir Henry Chicheley, governor of Virginia, April 1, 1679, is calendared. Another to Maj. Andrews (Andros), governor of New York, September 26, 1679, bidding him receive Mr. Randolph kindly, is not calendared. Letter to the governor of New Plymouth, same date, brought as was that to Andros by Randolph, is calendared.

25302. f. 96. Regarding a suit at law, between Cecil Calvert, Lord Baltimore, Sir Thomas Reynell and others. 1639 [?].

25466. "Collections concerning the Early History of the Founders of New Plymouth" by Joseph Hunter.

25490. f. 31. Observations upon the attack made by Commodore Sir Peter Parker upon Fort Sullivan, South Carolina, June 28, 1776.

(Evidently written by some one connected with the land forces.)

25699. Chronicles of the Indians of North America, by S. G. Drake. Boston, 1836.

25893-25895. "Extracts for a fair and impartial history of Paul Jones." In ten copy-books, lettered A-K, partly printed, manuscript autograph, by Dr. Richard Filkin.

26052. Code of law, civil and criminal, for the province of Quebec, by Sir James Marriott. Doctors Commons, December 30. 1772.

(Cf. P. R. O., A. W. I. 516, old reference.)

27382. f. 191. "The present State of Justice in the American plantations and particularly in the Isle of Barbados, with some thoughts how the same may (in a great Measure) be amended for the future."

(Relates solely to Barbadoes. No date but probably before 1660.)

f. 197. An Account of the Present State of Virginia, signed Hen. Hartwell, James Blair, E. Chilton.

(An excellent clear copy of this well-known work. Printed, Mass. Hist. Soc. Coll., first series, vol. 5.)

f. 256. Two letters recommending liberty of conscience. 1662.

27402. f. 124. Copy of commission from Charles II. to Sir George Carteret. 1649.

(Mutilated. To the commission the following autograph note is added: "Carteret, I will add this to you under my owne hand that I can never forgett the good services you have done to my father and to me, and if God pleas me you shall find I doe remember them to the advantage of you and yours: and for this you have the word of Your very loving friend. Charles R.")

f. 109. 114. 116. Letters from Rev. Tho. John Claggett, July 1. 1768. September 1, 1769, September 19. 1769. Maryland.

27856. Notes on voyages and the discovery and geography of America.

27891. Sailing directions for different parts of the eastern coast of the North American seaboard. 1772-1778.

27916. ff. 5-11. "A Short Hint to both sides of the Atlantic", written by Francis Godolphin Osborne, Secretary of State, before the Declaration of Independence.

27918. This volume contains many memoranda of the career of Francis Osborne, Secretary of State, in Parliament with occasional references to American matters.

(For example, f. 87, memorandum, with the following: "[Lord Shelburne] told me he knew we agreed about America and declared that if he was forced to acknowledge her independence, it should not be for nothing, but upon condition of a Federal union between the two countries.")

27957. Various directions for navigating the Gulf of St. Lawrence. 1755.

28076. Register of Treasury Warrants. 1673-1674.

ff. 3, 100. Warrant to Edmund Andros, of his Majesty's bounty for his service in the recovery of "Tyn at Ostend".

ff. 43. Warrant for payment of five ministers at Jamaica. March 6, 1674.

ff. 78, 190b, 409. Warrant for payment of Lord Culpeper for one year of allowance as vice-president of his Majesty's Council for Foreign Plantations. January 13, 1673/4.

ff. 111, 125. Warrant to Maj. Edmund Andros for pay of arrears due the officers and soldiers of the Barbadoes regiment. June 22, 1674.

ff. 211, 377. Warrant for payment of charges of Plantation Council. February 13, 1674.

28079. f. 11. Report to the king on the state of the revenues, signed Albemarle, Ashley, Clifford, Coventry, Duncome. Endorsed "Rec^{d}. Oct. 8, 1661".

f. 26. Proposal for encouragement of trade by resettling the admiralty courts and giving them power to settle all differences concerning trade and navigation. Tempus, William and Mary.

(Only indirectly of interest for colonial history. Cf. ff. 37, 38.)

f. 39b. Account of Mr. Michael Wicks, receiver of the plantation receipts. Richard Mounteney, mentioned as collector.

28080. f. 84. Some observations about the plantations in relation to the several acts of Parliament.

(Without name or date. Contains reference to Virginia act of assembly imposing ten shillings per hogshead on all tobacco.)

f. 244. Table giving average value of British linens exported in seventeen years, 1698-1714; and average value of foreign linens exported in the same years "to our colonies".

28089. f. 1. Proposals of Ferdinando Gorges, for the sale of the province of Maine in New England to his Majesty. Signed February 24, 1675/6.

(For £1000 down and £10,000 when in possession, at £2000 a year.)

f. 3. "What is to be done with the New Englanders trading directly from France and other places." Endorsed "Notes upon N. E. trade, August 1, 76".

(The last note is "The New Englanders can revolt to no other nation because they can have no plantations to trade with all".)

f. 6. "The Present State of New England. To the Right Hon. the Lords of his Maj. most Hon. Privy Council appointed a Committee for Trade and Plantations", by Edward Randolph. October 12, 1676.

f. 21. Continuation of Randolph's narrative "touching the delivery of your Ma^{ties} Letters to the Magistrates of Boston in New Eng^{l}". September 20, 1676. Badly mutilated.

f. 24b. "A Petition signed by one hundred of the principal Inhabitants of Massachusetts and presented October 1666."

f. 31. Instructions from the Commission for managing his Majesty's Customs in England to . . . . the Collector of his Majesty's Customs in Virginia "in pursuance of the direction of the Rt hon^{ble} Thos. Lord Viscount Latimer, Ld Hgh Treas. of Engl".

f. 34. Instructions to the Surveyor from the same. Date is after 1672.

ff. 41-46. Papers regarding farming of the Four and a half per cent. duty in Barbadoes.

28103. f. 117. Letter from Adm. Rodney. H. M. S. Sandwich, Barbadoes, June 30, 1781.

(Speaks of the French in the West Indies and adds "If they make the least movement I follow them and if the proper opportunity offers will certainly attack them".)

28140. f. 34b. General Description of the American Coasts and Seas, with bearings and distance of capes and headlands, observations on currents, etc., translated from a Spanish manuscript written by Capt. Domingo Gonzales Caranza. 1718.

(The same work, with a different title, etc., is in P. R. O. Colonial Office, A. W. I. 450, old reference.)

28218. f. 14. Two letters from Gov. Wm. Berkeley of Virginia, to "My Deare, Deare General". Green Spring, May 26, 1666, and May 4, 1667.

28269. Copies of four letters from William Penn to George Fox and others, dated 20, 9, 1674; 21, 9, 1674; 4, 8, 1681; 12, 11, 1694; one from Hannah Penn, Philadelphia, 6, 1, 1700.

28323. Establishment of the land forces . . . . at home and in the colonies. 1739.

(Ff. 61-70 relate to the colonies.)

28456. Papers relating for the most part to the Spanish and Portuguese colonies in America and in Tangier, 1624-1688. See also volume 28457 which relates to South America and to trade and commerce. In Spanish.

28605. Journal of John Lees of Quebec from London in 1768.

(Journey was from London, April, 1768, to Boston, Rhode Island, New York, Albany, Mohawk River, Fort Stanwix, Fort Oswego, Fort Niagara, Lake Erie, Detroit and thence to Montreal, which was reached in October of the same year.)

28609. Nova plantarum Americanarum genera, by P. C. Plumier, 1703, with pencil drawings.

28620. Journal of the Dividing Line drawn between the Colonies of Virginia and North Carolina, begun March 5, 1728, by Col. Byrd and others.

(Printed in The Westover Manuscripts, 1841, again with other of Byrd's papers in 1866, and finally in Bassett's edition, 1901. In P. R. O., Colonial Office, Class 5, 1323—B. T., Virginia, R, f. 124, old reference, is Byrd's letter of June 27, 1729, regarding "the difficulties attending the service and the pay of the persons employed therein" and in R, f. 125 is the "Journal of the Commissioners for settling the Bounds between Virginia and North Carolina, with a chart of the dividing line". This chart with others will be found in B. T. Maps, 12, nos. 2, 10, 15, for which see catalogue of Maps in Government Search Room. There can be little doubt but that the copper plate in Bodleian Library, "Copper Plates, C. 29", represents the beginning of this dividing line; the date of the plate, March 6, 1727/8, seems to bear this out.)

28788. "Journal du voyage de Guinée, Cayenne, et Illes Antilles de L'Amerique", 1678-1679, by Jean Barbot.

(The catalogue says that this work formed the basis of the author's History of Guinea, published in Churchill's Collection of Voyages.)

28851. (1) Narrative of secret negotiations with Spain, 1780-1781.

(This book was written by R. Cumberland before April 2, 1789, and read by the king and by Lord Walsingham when nominated ambassador to Spain. The narrative itself was addressed to Lord Shelburne and is dated May 20, 1782. It narrates the efforts which Great Britain made, from April, 1780, to June, 1781, to break up the "family compact" between France and Spain and to prevent Spain from aiding France in the American cause. An appendix contains a large number of documents, ff. 49-120. After f. 121 there are a few miscellaneous documents, such as copies of orders of John Parr, lieutenant-governor of Nova Scotia, for payments to R. Cumberland, agent for that province, 1786-1791.)

f. 101. Letter from William III. to the governor of Antigua. 1699.

28946. f. 459. List of proprietary governments in America in 1703.

(This volume contains a number of letters from Gen. Haldimand, ff. 24-32, 34, 36, that supplement the larger Haldimand collection.)

29256A-29259L. "Returns of his Majesty's forces at home and abroad." Monthly tables extending from November, 1768, to September, 1775. Forty-three volumes in four. Series is imperfect.

29263. "An enlarged and improved survey of the British Customs; containing the rates of merchandize as established by the Acts of 12th Car. 2dus and the 11th Geo 1. cap. 7, and other statutes, with particular states of all the branches of duties, drawbacks, bounties, etc, payable thereon under all circumstances of importation and exportation; the whole continued to the end of the session 23d Geo. 3d."

29268. Establishment of guards, garrisons and land forces in Great Britain, etc., including the plantations. 1727-1728.

29447. Particular State of the Receipts and Issues of the Public Revenue from Lady Day, 1702, to Michaelmas, 1710.

29495. f. 21b. (In "Profitable Poems" by W. Lodington, 1653-1698.) "To Wm Pen author of England's present Interest, printed 1675".

29549. f. 109b. Letter from Cotton Mather to Lord Hatton, Boston, New England, November 26, 1703.

(Mather asks Lord Hatton to obtain the governorship of Massachusetts for Charles Hobby, late of Jamaica. Hatton had showed great kindness to Increase Mather when in England.)

f. 111. Letter from Increase Mather to Lord Hatton. December 8, 1703.

(Handwriting of a secretary. Note in Mather's hand is added: "If yor Lordship shall be instrumental in procuring a charter for our colledge you will bring this whole province under the greatest obligation and gratitude".)

29553. f. 208. Letter from Lord Baltimore. June 3, 1671.
f. 272. Id. London, July 22, 1671.
f. 397. Id. March 7, 1671/2.
f. 421. Id. April 10, 1672.
(All written evidently to Lord Hatton. Baltimore speaks of his daughter Blackiston. The last two letters are autographs.)

29554. f. 65. Letter from Lord Baltimore to Lord Hatton. London, January 6, 1672/3.

(See also 29559, ff. 298, 442; 29563, f. 213; 29568, f. 170, for later letters to Lord Hatton, 1682-1704.)

29563. f. 213. Letter from Sir Edmund Andros to Lord Hatton.
(Contains this sentence, "Nothing new to trouble yr Lordp from this distant and generally plenty but otherwise poor place much obliged to fishermen".)

29587. f. 79. Case of the proscripts from Surinam against Gov. Byam, about 1660-1670. Address to the Privy Council by R. Sanford.
ff. 101-106. Draft instructions to Adm. Sir David Mitchell proceeding to Holland to induce the Dutch to join a naval expedition to the West Indies. September 29, 1702.

29589B. ff. 19, 20, 22. Letters from Adm. Francis Holbourne. H. M. S. Newark, Halifax, etc., August, September, 1757.

29591. Papers relating to the naval campaign of 1702-1704, including campaign in the West Indies.

29600. Papers relating to America, 1725-1776, chiefly about the iron industry in America (Maryland).
f. 1. Letter to Mr. Chetwynd, Birmingham, February 27, 1725, speaks of Thos. Mabrey who wants to go to America because of scarcity of pigs (iron) in England "for want of which several other forges as well as that at which he worked stand still". The writer thinks that Mabrey is likely to be useful in the Jerseys where plans for erecting forges are under way. Chetwynd, his brother, Russel, and Gee were all interested in the undertaking.
f. 3. Letter from same, April 17, 1725, says "We shall have men sufficient to make a quantity of iron, if we can but run pigs sufficient which we need not fear if there be no want of a mine."
f. 5. Letter from the same to Jno. England, October 5, 1725, urging him to begin a forge or two both at Camp Washington and also "at the land in the Jerseys. The iron masters here being resolved to put a stop to the building any more forges in America."
f. 6. Letter from the same to the same, Grendon, August 19, 1726, regarding progress of the work, with some notes on ff. 7 (reversed) and 7b.
f. 8. Letter from Russell to Chetwynd regarding financing of the company.
f. 9. Statement showing Russell's share, and also proportions to be paid for Principio works in Maryland and Potomack works for Jno. England's share. Other financial statements follow.
f. 13. Copy of letter from William Smith, Annapolis, March 17, 1729, to John Wightwick, about the Maryland mine.
f. 14. Letter from [the Company?] to Mr. Chapman, London, December —, 1736. "The works at Principio entirely thro Mismanagement have cost us a large sum", etc. Evidently the company wishes Chapman to manage both works.

f. 16. Principio Company's Quarterly Accounts to December 31, 1769. Gives many names, mentions Mr. Osgood Gee, the late Col. A. Washington (younger brother of Geo. Washington), etc. Shows value of pig and bar iron exported by this company to London, Bristol and Liverpool.

f. 20. Letters enclosed in Mr. Thos. Russell's letter of June 22, 1772: (1) letter from Anne Washington regarding her husband's share in the iron-works, May 28, 1772; (2) answer from Thos. Russell, North East Forge, June 15, 1772, to Mrs. Washington at Wakefield near Leed's Town, Virginia. (The old Washington plantation on the Potomac.)

(Principio and North East are near Port Deposit, Md.; Leed's Town is on the Rappahanock, Va.)

f. 22. Letter from Thos. Russell to Messrs., the Widow Wightwick, Wm. Pillas, Wm. Russell and Co., regarding the company and the business. June 22, 1772.

f. 25. Letter from the same to Michail Harris, agent at no. 16 Cullum St., London, dated New York, July 4, 1772.

f. 27. Letter from the same to same, regarding the condemnation of one of the company's sloops before the court of admiralty. Williamsburg, August 4, 1772.

f. 29. Letter from the same to the same, regarding the same business. Norfolk, August 14, 1772.

f. 31. From same to the Widow Wightwick, Wm. Pillas, Wm. Russell and Co., about the business, giving list of bills of exchange drawn on the company for the use of the works in 1772.

f. 39. Short note from Russell to Harris referring to enclosures that are missing. Philadelphia, February 24, 1773.

f. 40. Letter from Geo. Randell to Thos. Russell regarding some difficulties. Lancaster Furnace, May 22, 1773.

f. 42. Letter from Russell to Harris, on business. North East, May 26, 1773.

f. 44. Letter from Nath. Martin to Harris. Back River, Maryland, June 8, 1773.

f. 46. Balance Sheet. June 30, 1776.

29613. Register of Custom Officials for 1768.

(Relating solely to England and probably duplicate of register for that year in P. R. O., Custom House, Registers, Series I., Establishments.)

29800. Entry-Book of Cases of Chancellor Finch. 1673-1682.
no. 136. Case of Sir Thomas Modyford.

29869. "Memoirs of Sir John Berkeley."

29973. "A Short Description of the Province of South Carolina, by Surgeon General George Milligen Johnston, M. D. 1763."
(Printed work, with some corrections and notes by the author.)

29975. ff. 63-64. Commission to Sir William Jones, Sir Nicholas Fortesque, Sir Thomas Gofton, Sir Richard Sutton, Sir William Pitt, Sir Henry Bourchier and Sir Henry Spiller or any four of them to investigate condition of disputes in Virginia and report method of procedure. May 9, 1623.

29990. Gross and net produce of his Majesty's customs. 1710-1713.
(Contains statistics regarding the Enumerated Commodities or Plantation Duty and the Four and a half per cent.)

30089. f. 70. Spanish ships taken in the West Indies. 1762.

30094. f. 149. Letter from Benjamin Franklin to Capt. Dawson. Craven St., London, May 29, 1772.
(Contains advice as to proper placing of lightning rods on gunpowder magazine at Purfleet, and speaks of the writer's electrical experiments. Note added, signed H. S. C., May 29, 1772, orders that Capt. Dawson cause the same to be executed.)

f. 238. Paper regarding the Royal Society and its relation to Franklin's electrical conductors before and after the Revolution.

30163. "An inquiry into the causes of the present scarcity of money and the bad consequences of it" to the island of Jamaica, "with a remedy". 1750.

30200-30201. General and particular state of the public revenue. 1693-1694, 1688-1710.

30218. Opinions of the law officers of the Crown upon matters connected with the revenue, 1673-1707. This book formerly belonged to James West, and contains 360 cases with the opinions of the attorney and solicitor general and others thereon. Of these a large number relate to the colonies.

p. 65. Ships built in Ireland are English built.

p. 73. Concerning the discharge of plantation goods in Ireland.

pp. 187-211. Goods to and from the plantations; many cases under the Navigation Acts.

p. 229. Case of ships giving bond according to Act of Navigation.

p. 261. Case of Muscovado sugar from plantations.

p. 272. Case of sugar from the French plantations brought to France, there refined, and afterward the molasses or dregs imported to England.

p. 463. Abraham Mendez born of Jewish parents in Barbadoes trades as merchant in the port of London. Is he to be esteemed an alien in point of customs and other duties?

p. 492. Scotsman who had lived five or six years in England or the plantations or for five or six years been employed by Englishmen in English shipping as a mariner navigating from England to the plantations: is he not qualified according to Act of Navigation, to be master of an English ship from England or from plantation to plantation?

p. 555. Should snuff pay as tobacco?

p. 591. No enumerated commodity, in this case tar, to be imported in Swedish-built ships.

p. 604. May a merchant ship coal to plantations on a French-built ship on equal advantages with an English-built ship?

p. 666. Case of Dantzig-built ship importing potash into England: master a Dutchman, ship manned with Swedes or Dutch. Forfeited by 10 Car. II.

f. 54. Answer from Col. Robinson. Vulture off Teller's Point, September 19, 1780.

(Published in Warburton's Memorials of Prince Rupert, 1849.)

30372. "Abstract of the Commissions and Instructions formerly and at this time given to the governors of his Majesty's Plantations in America with References to the Books and Papers shewing the Alterations that have been made therein, as also Observations on the most remarkable Occurrences in each Government especially before the Establishment of the Office in 1696."

(A valuable volume, though probably containing little that is absolutely new. All that relates to the titles, instructions and commissions is important. The following references under the head of "Observations" are interesting:
"1688. King James granted the Northern part of Virginia to Lord Fairfax."
"1691/2. Lord Effingham Howard's 'State of Virginia'."
"Connecticut. The Crown has no revenue in this government, nor is it known here how they support their government."

30567. f. 207. Letters patent of James I. for the colonization of Virginia in 1606.

O. O. 2-5. Plans of forts in Carlisle Bay. Barbadoes.

(The majority of the maps were handed over to Lieut. Monier Skinner, R. E., by his father in 1872. For the forts see Frontier Forts of Pennsylvania and Hulbert's Historic Highways.)

33316, 33317. Brief diary (1758-1794) and account-book (1758-1810) of James Pinnock, a Jamaica barrister.

33411. f. 96b. Produce of Europe and America. n. d. Probably nineteenth century.

33440. "Correspondence of Louis Phélypeaux, Comte de Pontchartrain, French Secretary of State, with Camille d'Hostun, Comte de Tallard, and Antoine François Phélypeaux, Marquis d'Herbault, ambassadors in England, chiefly on negotiations concerning North America", July 23-August 13, 1698, January 28-June 25, 1699 (in French). Pontchartrain's letters are originals: the others official copies.

ff. 1-26 contain the correspondence; ff. 27-61 contain copies of replies from London.

33763. "Idea di una nuova Istoria Generale dell' America Settentrionale." Translation in Italian by MacEgan, colonel in the Neapolitan service, from a Spanish work, Idea de una nueva Historia General de la America Septentrional, of Lorenzo Boturini-Benaduci (Madrid, 1746).

33845. Notes relating to Barbadoes, including extracts from some memoirs of the first settlement of the island, 1741. Reversing the volume we find matters of a legal character of date about 1750.

33923. ff. 510-521. Wolfe-Amherst Correspondence. June-August, 1758. A series of copies evidently made in the interest of a monument to be erected to Wolfe in the parish of Westerham, Kent. April 5, 1760. The letters addressed to the Rev. Mr. Streatfield, Charts Edge, Westerham, Sevenoaks.

(Following the letters are a few notes of value regarding Wolfe's life, the monument and epitaph, to f. 526.)

33983. f. 324. Depositions relating chiefly to Florida and Terra-Nova. Madrid, 1508.

34015. Vol. II. "A Book contayning the names as well of all such persons as have come from beyond the seas and made their personal appearances at this office, as also of the places from whence they came and where they intend to lodge, together with their business and the correspondents of such of the said persons as are forraigners." 1655-1657.

(The persons are chiefly from Barbadoes and Virginia: four from New England and one from Nevis. Those from Virginia are chiefly merchants and planters engaged in selling tobacco and other commodities. For example:

"Hugh Stanford of London, Mchant, landed at Dover the 4th p'sent out of the Honor of London, Capt John Price, commander, from Virginia and came to London on the 6th and lodgeth at the White Swan in Shoe Lane in the p'ish of Bride, and saith that his buisines is to make sale of tobacco by him imported and to negotiate his affairs in order to his intended return to Virginia.")

f. 68. Letter from Capt. Hood to Commissioners of the navy, giving account of a hurricane in Halifax harbor, April 4, 1768.

34097. f. 37. Journal of Col. William Burrard when on an expedition to the West Indies, May 19, 1740-September 21, 1742.

34181. ff. 119b and 175. Copy of abstract of wills proved in Jamaica, between 1625 and 1792.

In the latter part of the volume are entered copies and abstracts of other documents, including:

f. 183b. Losses sustained by proprietors and inhabitants of St. Christopher, with the abatements, February, March, 1705.

f. 207b. Baptisms and burials, 1721-1730, from the parish registers of St. Christopher.

ff. 218-223. Various titles of documents relating to early history of Carolina. 1630-1673.

(Merely modern copies of titles in Cal. Col. and the Shaftesbury Papers.)

34187. Letters addressed to George Jackson, second secretary of the Admiralty and judge advocate. The first series relates chiefly to the American Revolution, 1776-1777; the second to suits arising from the capture of property in the island of St. Eustatius in 1781.

34207. Letters from Col. William Burrard to his brother, Sir Harry Burrard, written chiefly from the West Indies, 1740-1766, including:

f. 9. Description of the attack on Carthagena, April 9, 1741.

f. 28. Description of the taking of Fort Louis, March 8, 1748.

f. 39b. Plan of Santiago de Cuba, 1748, and many papers relating to his case, 1748-1766.

34217. f. 14. "That there may be free trade of buying and selling", remedy for decay in the cloth trade.

(Cf. also 34324, nos. 38, 39.)

f. 26b. Letter from James I. to Sir George Calvert. 1621.

34324. f. 290. Letter from Sir George Calvert to Sir Julius Caesar. 1621.

34335. f. 101. Proclamation (in French) prohibiting the importing of Virginia tobacco into Spain. Issued at Seville, August 2, 1701.

f. 111. "Concerning the trade of the Spaniards about the Assiento and Galeons." n. d.

f. 146. "Losses sustained by Spanish depredations at sea and in port in the years 1718, 1719, 1720, of which the necessary proofs and vouchers were delivered into the Commissaries."

(Over the page are added losses to 1727. Ships and goods. No plantation vessels.)

34348. ff. 114-135. Various letters to J. Vernon, Secretary of State, from correspondents, governors and others, in the West Indies. 1693-1701.

34412-34471. The Auckland Papers. Correspondence and papers, political and private, of William Eden, first baron Auckland, together with a few earlier diplomatic papers collected by him. William Eden was under secretary of state (northern department), 1772-1778; member of the Board of Trade, 1776-1782; joint commissioner to treat with the revolted colonies, 1778-1779. During the period from 1772 to 1779 the papers "deal largely with the American rebellion and the proceedings of American spies and agents in France and England". Eden married, September 26, 1776, Eleanor, second daughter of Sir Gilbert Elliot, of Minto. She was niece of Andrew Elliot, collector and later lieutenant-governor of New York, 1780-1783. For the career of Andrew Elliot and references to his family based in part on the Minto and Cathcart MSS., see Pa. Mag., XI. 129. Many of the documents are of a family character, and many relate to Eden's career as peace commissioner. Only vols. 34412 to 34418 concern us here. The papers were purchased of Lord Auckland in 1893.

f. 269b. Statistics showing duty on tobacco imported into Holland.

f. 320. Printed list of goods prohibited to be imported into or exported from Great Britain. January 1, 1775.

ff. 321, 322. Id. With references to the Acts of Prohibition.

f. 345. Draft of proclamation suppressing rebellion and sedition. 1771. With marginal notes.

ff. 366-368. Paper headed "Minutes", i. e., notes of a speech to be delivered by Eden against the American Revolution. October 26, 1775.

34413. The letters in this volume contain occasional reference to affairs in America. A few are from Lord George Germain.

f. 25. Letter from Gen. Amherst to W. Eden. 1776.

f. 29. Copy of warrant to pass the Great Seal, appointing Lord Viscount Howe and Gen. Howe commissioners for restoring peace. April 27, 1776.

f. 45. Copy of orders and instructions for the same. May 6, 1776.

f. 52. Copy of additional instructions for the same. May 6, 1776.

f. 54. Minutes of a speech. May 23, 1776.

f. 56. Copy of letter from Adm. Howe to Benjamin Franklin, dated Eagle, June 20, 1776, with copy of Franklin's reply, dated Philadelphia, July 30, 1776, directed to Adm. and Gen. Howe.

f. 94. Copy of letter from Lieut. Hugh Lamont of the 71st regiment, Banners Island, October 22, 1776, with account of the situation in America.

f. 103. "Cipher settled with Mr. Wentworth, Oct. 5", for correspondence on the American question. (Cf. f. 107.)

f. 109. Copy of Sir William Howe's orders. December 13, 1776.

f. 111. Copy of letter from Robert Morris to Silas Deane, with postscript narrating events from December 20, 1776, to January 29, 1777.

f. 121. Id., differing in the matter of additions and omissions.

f. 130. Copy of letter from Benj. Harrison, Richard Henry Lee, Jno. Witherspoon. Baltimore, December 21, 1776.

f. 149. Letter from Sir Joseph Yorke to William Eden, with a number of references to American affairs and to Franklin. The Hague, January 3, 1777.

f. 152. Copy of letter from New York unsigned. January 3, 1777.
f. 158. Communication to Franklin, Deane and Lee from Robert Morris, enclosing resolves of Congress. Philadelphia, January 14, 1777.
(An original, somewhat mutilated.)
f. 161. Letter from Wentworth with account of the reception of the American commissioners in Paris. Poland Street, January 25, 1777.
f. 165. Fragment regarding the defeat of the Hessians at Trenton.
f. 166. "Transcript of a warrant in the handwriting of Mr. Arthur Lee and supposed to be an extract copy of that which was signed by the three commissioners in Jan^{y} last."
ff. 169-196. Many papers relating to negotiations with France. 1777. Entirely copies.
f. 202. Letter from Lord George Germain on the defeat at Trenton. Pall Mall, February 10, 1777.

f. 311. Communications from the commissioners apparently to Congress. March 12 and April 9, 1777.
f. 330. Paper regarding sailing of Lafayette with list of those who accompanied him. Also copy of a tobacco contract with France, signed by the three commissioners.
ff. 338-359. Papers relating to the commissioners in France, containing narrative of events in France by Col. Smith.
f. 361. Extract of letters from Congress, October 1, 1776, to February 19, 1777, and of letter from the Massachusetts assembly, March 28, 1777.
ff. 390, 396, 404-405, 408-409, 414, 433, 435, 439-442, 444, 450, 456, 466 are letters from Wentworth, Geo. Lupton and others. Of interest for American affairs.
f. 462. Letter from Silas Deane to John Hancock. 1777.
f. 468. Letter from George Chalmers to Mr. Geo. Carlting, regarding the war in America. May 26, 1777.
f. 477. Id., without signature. 1777.

34414. f. 4. Letter from Silas Deane to Capt. Hynson. Paris, June 1, 1777.
(Capt. Hynson who had the confidence of the American commissioners and to whom they gave their packets of despatches for conveyance, was in the pay of the English government. He conveyed the papers entrusted to him, or a portion of them, to intermediaries, Lieut.-Col. Smith, Carmichael and others, who placed them in the hands of the under secretary. Hynson was an American and the commissioners did not suspect him until late in 1777. A number of papers in previous volume relate to the same matter. It is impossible to tell whether all of these intercepted papers are in the Auckland collection or not.)
f. 10. "Etats et divers articles de marchandize a fournier par le Sieur de Montien pour le service des colonies unies de l'Amerique Septentrionale."
ff. 15, 22, 27, 43, 56, 85, 90, 116, 176, 488 are letters from George Lupton, and deal with American affairs.
f. 20. Letter from Carmichael to Capt. Hynson. June 18, 1777.
f. 29. Letter from Silas Deane to Capt. Hynson. Also ff. 149, 173, 193, 225, 261.

ff. 31, 58, 92, 95, 110, 122, 162, 166, 200, 234, 400, 410, 423, 433 (long despatch from Paris), 448 (despatch from Paris), 463, 520, 522, 534 are letters from Wentworth.

f. 41. Letter from Lambert Wickes to Capt. Hynson. St. Malo, July 8, 1777.

f. 52. Copy of memorial from Deane and Franklin to Portugal. 1778.

f. 60. Minute of intelligence "from a very undoubted authority", concerning many questions of importance in the negotiations with the colonies.

ff. 73, 78, 136, 191 are letters from Sir Joseph Yorke to Eden.

f. 74. Extract of letter from the Count of Hastang [Count d'Estaing?] to the Count of Seinsheim, July 11, 1777 (recd).

f. 108. Letter from W. G. to Franklin. Jamaica Plains, August 13, 1777.

(W. G. is William Gordon.)

f. 142-144. Abstract and extract of letters from the Commissioners to the Committee of Foreign Affairs, sent by the Lexington.

f. 151. Instructions to commanders of ships of war and other American vessels to allow the ship Harriot to pass. Signed Franklin, Deane and Lee.

f. 152. Papers (incomplete) on the course of events. Two letters from America follow.

f. 158. Letter from Silas Deane to Benj. Harrison. n. d.

f. 172. Letter from Simeon Deane (brother of Silas) to Capt. Hynson. Passy, September 21, 1777.

f. 193. Letter from Silas Deane to Capt. Hynson. September 27, 1777.

(Accompanying this letter are extracts from despatches brought to the commissioners by various ships from America.)

f. 207. Letter from Arthur Lee. Paris, October 4, 1777.

f. 211. Letters from Arthur Lee.

(These letters were apparently to Richard Henry Lee and Robert Morris. Upon one of the letters is a note by Hynson, or one of the intermediaries, dated October 4, 1777, "The uppermost of the enclosed papers was in a separate sealed cover and directed to R^d. H. Lee Esq^re, member of Congress from the state of Virginia. The other was also in a separate unsealed cover and directed to Robert Morris Esq^re Philadelphia".)

f. 218. Letter to H. Lee in America from his son Ludwell Lee, who was with his uncle in Paris. October 5, 1777.

f. 219. Letter from George Carlting. Paris, October 6, 1777.

f. 221. Letter from Arthur Lee. Paris, October 6, 1777.

f. 225. Letter from Silas Deane to Capt. Hynson.

(The following note was added. "Hynson received this at Havre with the despatches in a large bundle of private letters, the whole directed either to the care of Capt. Folger or Capt. Hynson. He contrived to take out the despatches, made up the bundle again so as to avoid the discovery and Folger sailed with it".)

f. 228. Letter from Carmichael to Capt. Hynson.

f. 230. "Letters from Mr. A. Lee and others October 7, 1777. Sent under different covers in a packet directed to the Hon^ble the Chairman of the Committee for Foreign Correspondence, Philadelphia."

(This packet was brought by Hynson to Lieut.-Col. Smith, October 20, and by him delivered unopened the same day to Mr. Eden.)

f. 231. "The Packet contains the whole correspondence of the Rebel agents at Paris with the Committee of Congress at Philadelphia, from March 12 to Oct. 7, 1777, and was brought by Hynson to Lt. Col. Smith, Oct. 20, and by him delivered to Mr. Eden."

(The various memoranda, letters, etc., which follow relate chiefly to the work of the commissioners at Paris, the intercepting of their letters and the Burgoyne campaign in America.)

f. 261. Letter from Silas Deane to Capt. Hynson, after he had heard of the latter's treachery. October 26, 1777.

(Hynson offered to betray the English government but Deane refused to have anything more to do with him.)

Many extracts follow of intercepted letters sent from France to America and England. Nearly all comment on affairs in America. The papers here and there give information about the secret service. There are also narratives of intelligence or post-news from Lupton and others.

f. 302. Printed news-sheet, with account of Burgoyne's surrender. Baltimore, November 2, 1777.

f. 309. Letters from Lord North.

(Note the following: "My pen is wretched and I am very melancholy notwithstanding our victory. My idea of American affairs is that if our success is as great as the most sanguine politician wishes or believes the best use we can make of it is to get out of the dispute as soon as possible".)

f. 337. Letter from Eden to Lord North, with a draft of the king's speech "on the supposition of goodish news".

f. 361. Intelligence from Wentworth in Paris. November.

(Wentworth was sent to Paris by Lord North for the purpose of getting information before Parliament met.)

f. 395. Letter from Eden to Lord North, regarding the question of North's resignation because of Burgoyne's surrender. December 7, 1777.

(This letter probably had something to do with Eden's selection as peace commissioner.)

f. 406. Letter from Capt. Hynson, from Paris. December 10, 1777.

f. 447. Regarding Vardell as professor of history in "the New York College". December 23, 1777.

ff. 497-503, 507-509. Letters exchanged between Eden and Lord North.

At the end of the volume are some of Eden's memoranda and some of the original covers of the packets.

f. 92. Letter from Lord North, containing a line about the appointment of Adam Smith.

f. 108. "Copy of proposed Act", regarding the peace commission and its powers, endorsed. "The first sketch of an idea for a conciliatory act", with important comments by Eden. (Cf. ff. 117, 122, 126.) Further draft of bill for the purpose (f. 134). The whole is endorsed. "Correspondence and original drafts relative to the two conciliatory bills on Feb. 17, 1778." On f. 163 we have letters and drafts regarding the bill itself and the men to be sent, etc. Following these papers and to f. 192 are drafts of speeches, statements of existing conditions in America, men and parties there, a long paper on each colony taken singly (ff. 170-184); also the resolutions of the Committee of Parliament (f. 186), printed copy of the Declaratory Act, with written statements of various acts, commissions, etc.

f. 100. "Negotiations for a new arrangement in March, 1778 which failed" to f. 231. (Cf. f. 246.) Then follow papers relating to Eden's going to America, etc., with abstract of Lord George Germain's "most secret" letter to Sir Henry Clinton, March 8, and the king's secret notification, March 21.

(Eden went to America with his wife, who was Miss Elliot. "Little Eleanor" was left behind. Various letters follow from old correspondents on his appointment (note f. 305). The question arose as to whether his appointment vacated his seat in Parliament (ff. 317-322). Copies of resolves in Congress regarding a treaty that Eden sent to Lord North between Great Britain and the United States; Eden's own letters, ff. 325, 327-331, regarding the extent of the commission's authority, f. 344, about the commission and the intended voyage; hints from someone regarding America and the Americans, dated April 11, 1778 (ff. 339-343); the king's instructions received April 13, 1778, from Lord George Germain (ff. 358-388); other miscellaneous papers, personal and private regarding trip to America (ff. 389-391).

Eden sailed in the Trident, April 16, and his letters to his brother Morton are full of interesting details. F. 398, letter from Lord North with enclosures; f. 410, copy of address to Congress "to be enclosed in a short line to his Excellency the president". Other papers follow connected with the mission: draft of note to Washington (f. 420), letters to his brother Morton from Philadelphia telling of the voyage, giving first impressions (f. 424, June 15, 1778), copy of letter from Henry Laurens, president of Congress (f. 428), draft of a long letter from Sir Henry Clinton to Lord George Germain (sent to the commissioners before being sent to England) dated July 29, letters from Lord Suffolk to Eden, July 30, 1778 (f. 450), from Lord George Germain to Eden (ff. 448-452). This volume should be used with P. R. O. Colonial Office, Class 5, 180, 181—A. W. I. 299, 300, old reference.)

34416. This volume continues the subject of the preceding.

F. 7. Brief itinerary of events from June 4 to August 2, 1778. Further papers concern the work of the commission to f. 25; one or two private letters (ff. 26, 39); printed proclamations, New York, September 26, 1778; another, October 3, 1778; letter from Clinton who has taken Gov. Johnstone's place, October 12 (f. 51); printed manifesto of Congress, October 13, 1778, with printed answer. Then follow letters, etc., received by Eden in New York during October, with papers and statistics concerning suspension of the intercourse act; letter from Eden to Lord Suffolk, New York, October 25, and Lord George Germain's despatch, to f. 77; proceedings of the commissioners with occasional comments by Eden; letters and other documents (f. 123, Richard Harrison, intelligence on affairs in America) bearing on the proceedings, to f. 133. The commission prepares to embark for England (f. 134).

Eden writes from "off coast of England", November 19, about the return voyage; other personal letters follow, to f. 152.)

f. 153. "Estimate of Rebel property on York Island", and "Notes of Sir Henry Clintons relation to the campaign of 1778".

f. 173. "On the mode and terms of a treaty of peace with America". London, 1778.

f. 188. "Proposed appendix to the several publications" relating to the proceedings of the commissioner.

f. 192. "To the People of America", signed "A British Officer".

f. 233. Draft of letter from Eden to Lord North regarding the work of the commission.

f. 235. Printed broadside issued by Adm. Hyde Parker from Savannah. January 4, 1779.

f. 236. Printed oath of allegiance to King George; followed by draft of letter to Sir Henry Clinton regarding matters of trade with New York. January 9, 1779. (No signature.)

f. 241. Letter from Eden to the attorney general on the general situation, criticizing the government and stating his forebodings; followed by copy of attorney general's reply to Lord North.

f. 246. Copy of letter from Lieut.-Col. Arch. Campbell. Savannah, January 19, 1779.

f. 249. Letter from Sir Henry Clinton. June 21.

f. 250. Draft of letter to Campbell, and another to "My Lord" [George Germain?]. On f. 253, copy of Eden's letter to Lord George Germain, January 31, 1779, and of two letters to the Treasury on the application of the merchants relative to exportation of stores and ammunition.

f. 261. Letter from Sir Henry Clinton, February 5, 1779, regarding the Georgia campaign. One from Eden to Lord North (f. 264) and from North to Eden (f. 265) regarding inquiry into American affairs, which he opposes, and a motion which Eden proposed to make in Parliament.

f. 271. Letter from Sir Henry Clinton, February 14, 1779, and another dated February.

f. 276. Drafts of Eden's letters to various persons, chiefly about the government.

f. 291. Accounts of American affairs sent to Eden by Clinton. They give a consecutive narrative.

f. 296. Extracts of several letters from New York. On f. 305, letter from the Admiralty. On f. 308, letter from headquarters, New York, about the engagement of Mrs. Eden's niece, daughter of her brother, Andrew Elliot, of New York, from her fiancé, Lord Cathcart (also f. 423).

f. 311. Letters from Sir Henry Clinton, April 2, 1779. Another from W. C. T. and copy of Lord George Germain's letter to Clinton, of April 22, 1779.

f. 329. Regarding the inquiry into Howe's conduct, and other papers relating to the same matter.

f. 339. Letter from Sir Henry Clinton, May 4, 1779. Many similar letters follow. The inquiry into Howe's conduct was the issue of the moment.

f. 368. "Extracts of letters from General Washington to Major Talmadge taken upon him". May, June, 1779.
f. 370. Letter from Sir Henry Clinton saying "July and no reinforcements".
f. 381. Letter dealing with the situation in the West Indies, dated Havana, August 11, 1779, and written to Secretary of State Galvez, in Madrid. See also the next letter, and ff. 402,404.
f. 391. Letter from Eden giving his views on the situation.
f. 398. Letters from Clinton and copies of letters from Adm. Arbuthnot to f. 457. On f. 460 is Clinton's letter of October 26, 1779, with intelligence and letter from Clinton to Elliot (f. 465).
f. 472. Letter from Adam Smith to Lord [?] on free trade to Ireland. November 1, 1779.
f. 478. Letter from Sir Henry Clinton. November, 1779.
f. 481. Letter from A. S. Hamond. "Roebuck at New York", November 20, 1779.
f. 486. Letter from Sir Henry Clinton. December 11, 1779.

34417. ff. 3-11b. Letter from Adam Ferguson, the distinguished Scottish metaphysician, who had been secretary of the peace commission in America. There are a number of his letters in the previous volumes but largely of a clerical character. The present letter was written from Edinburgh after his return from America and is dated 1780. References to the other letters can be found in the index to the catalogue, 1888-1893.
f. 47. Letter from Sir Henry Clinton. April 25, 1780.
f. 49. Copy of intercepted letter from B. Smith to Mrs. B. Smith, Charleston, April 30, 1780, with a broadside dated May 11, 1780.
f. 50. Copies of letters from the commander-in-chief of the British armies in America, also from the admiral of the fleet.
f. 52. Letter from Sir Henry Clinton. Charleston, May 12, 1780.
(Cf. ff. 59, 61, 124, 223, 342.)
ff. 80-89. Copies of letters and papers dealing with the campaign in the south, chiefly from Arbuthnot, Patterson and Clinton.
f. 108. "Notes on the Campaign, Aug. 2, 1780."
(Apparently by the chief justice and historian, William Smith, at this time in New York where he remained until the evacuation. The narrative which is in Smith's handwriting is followed by letter dated August 3, 1780; another dated August 26, 1780, is on f. 142. He seems to have sent over a number of enclosures with his letter to Eden such as f. 162. "Mr Heron's Information at a Conversation in New York, Monday, Sept. 4, 1780". (Printed, N. Y. Docs., VIII. 804-808.) Intelligence from New York, September 14, 19, October 4, 1780, the last named of which (f. 217) is a valuable account of the Arnold-André affair, written by Andrew Elliot, Eden's brother-in-law and lieutenant-governor, between the dates of André's capture and execution; further intelligence is sent October 26, 1780 (f. 242). Smith's letters are dated from New York, September 12, 19, October 26, November 20, endorsed "Ch. J (Chief Justice) Smith", f. 245 (Cf. P. R. O. Colonial Office, Class 5, 265—A. W. I. 430, old reference), December 18, 1780, January 21, 1781. On f. 152 is a writing, without signature or address or other clue to authorship, dated Philadelphia, September 1, 1780, and f. 282 is "The Present State of the American Rebel Army", endorsed "Heads of Arnold's information".)

34418. As Eden in October, 1780, became secretary to the Earl of Carlisle, governor-general of Ireland, we meet with almost no further papers relating to American affairs. In this volume the only documents that are of interest are two letters from Sir Henry Clinton, dated December 7, 1781 (f. 209) and 1781 (f. 282).

34419. f. 103. Letter from George Johnstone, governor of West Florida, to William Eden. 1783.

f. 276. Letter from William Knox to W. Eden. 1785.

34444. f. 374. Letter from Sir Henry Clinton to Lord Auckland.

34461. ff. 302-328. "General Reflexions and Remarks on the state and disposition of the country and people of New England, and particular descriptions of Worcester in the province of Massachusetts Bay, and other parts of the four Provinces, tending to furnish ideas and hints toward a plan for its speedy reduction to the legal authority of Parliament."

(The "ideas" in 48 sections follow the "description", etc. There appears to be no clue to author or date.)

f. 331. Pen and ink map, folio, of part of Pennsylvania, all Maryland, part of Virginia. 1778 [?].

(The name "Virginia" covers Maryland as well as Virginia.)

f. 332. Memorandum of goods shipped to N. America from Great Britain, with marginal note regarding the manufactures of France. About 1778.

f. 334. Notes of what appears to have been a speech on the subject of the troubles in America. n. d.

f. 336. "State of Facts to prove against popular and received opinions."

34599. Spelman Correspondence. 1600-1633.

(Contains number of letters referring to intended departure in the Virginia fleet of Henry Spelman, "cognatus" of Sir Henry Spelman, the scholar and antiquary, as follows: f. 24b (1611), f. 29 (1612), f. 31 (April 19, 1612), ff. 34, 36, 38, 39 (May 9, 1612). See also f. 61 for a letter from the same, Toulon, November 22, 1619.)

f. 235. Legal opinion on address from the Independent ministers in New England. 1725.

34727. f. 157. Letter from Thomas Mariett to William Penn. 1688 [?].

34728. f. 10. Account of the cruise of the Mermaid in the West Indies and N. America. 1745.

ff. 21, 36, 52, 54. Letters from Peter Razer to Hon. James West, Lincoln's Inn Fields. Dated Philadelphia, May, 1754, October 6, 1755, December 1, 1756, March 1, 1757.

(Razer was appointed searcher in the port of Philadelphia. His letters which contain a good deal of local color and give an account of the system of collection are evidently a bid for the office of surveyor.)

34729. f. 112. Constitution of the Council of Trade. November, 1660.

f. 263. Regarding English title to St. Lucia. 1700.

f. 348. Petition of William Shobrook to the Duke of Newcastle. About 1754.

(Shobrook wishes the office of comptroller and gives account of illicit trade in New England.)

f. 350. Humble petition of the subscribing planters and merchants interested in and trading to his Majesty's sugar colonies. About 1754.

(Complains of illicit trade in French sugars. Petition is followed by draft of bill to prevent "the importing of British sugars from any other place but the British sugar colonies, with the reasons in support of the bill.)

f. 360. Inquisitio post mortem of Patrick Smith who died intestate in New York. The case came before the court of chancery in New York. 1759.

34756. f. 60. Extracts from the Madrid Gazette of March 19 and May 14, 1776, translated by Dr. Thomas Percy, bishop of Dromore, referring to naval expeditions to California.

34813. f. 68. Statement of "the sufferings of Arthur Howland" and Elizabeth, his wife. Plymouth Jail. June 6, 1684. Photograph. Presented by D. W. Howland of Boston.

f. 88. Letter from Mathew Pope to John Jacob. York Town, Virginia, August 25, 1775.

(On the sheet is a clipping from an American newspaper and on the next sheet three samples of linen. Writer does not believe independency is desired in the colonies.)

34990. f. 156. Address to Prince William, Duke of Clarence, from Virgin Islands, West Indies, 1783.

35105. f. 20. Letter from Dr. John Robinson, afterward Bishop of London, to William Blathwayt, in which it is stated that the latter had obtained the post of secretary of Virginia for Robinson's brother, Christopher Robinson. January 11, 1693.

35124. Memoranda of John Winthrop as attorney in the court of wards and liveries, 1623-1630, including:

ff. 8-9. List of cases and clients.

(Presented by R. C. Winthrop.)

35125. f. 74. Copy of Licence from Charles II. to John Browne, for four Scottish ships to trade contrary to acts of navigation, "provided always the said ships return directly either into Scotland or England". January 16, 1662/3.

(Attest is as follows: "This is a true copy of his Maj. warrant examined by me and given to Captaine Tennant, who commands one of the four ships employed by Mr. John Browne, signed, Lauderdaill".)

35155. ff. 13-20. Various papers relating to the West Indies, Grenada, Dominica, St. Vincent. 1764-1774.

35192. ff. 1-18, 49. Letters from William Pitt, earl of Chatham, to Adm. Hood. 1773-1777.

35251. f. 39. Protestation of loyalty to the Protector's government by Thomas Modyford of Barbadoes, 1656, addressed to Maj. Thomas Noell, brother of Martin Noell, and secretary of Barbadoes.
(Cf. Cal. Col. 1574-1660, p. 408.)

35335. f. 47. Poem on Walpole by Mathew Concanen, appointed attorney general of Jamaica, 1732.
(Cf. Pownall's letter on Walpole, f. 65. There are many letters from Gov. Pownall to the second Lord Hardwicke among the Hardwicke papers, written between 1778 and 1789, for which one should consult the index.

f. 62. Letter from Holdernesse regarding West Indies.

35349-36278. Hardwicke Papers. Correspondence and collections of the first four earls of Hardwicke and other members of the Yorke family in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries. Divided into A. Correspondence, 35349-35813; B. Papers, 35814-36278. The following documents relate to colonial affairs before 1783.

35374, 35375. Letters of Hon. Joseph Yorke to Lord Hardwicke. 1747-1787.
(These volumes contain occasional references to American affairs, as in vol. I., ff. 129, 156, 164, etc., and would probably repay a careful examination.)

35376. f. 127. Letter from Elizabeth Yorke, Lady Anson, to her brother Philip Yorke, Lord Hardwicke, giving long account of Braddock's defeat. July 9, 1755.

35414. f. 155. "Plan for a concert of the colonies." 1754. Albany plan.

35415. f. 55. "Considerations of what may be necessary to be done in consequence of the late defeat in North America, upon same discourse with my Lord Anson, Sir Thomas Robinson, and Sir John Ligonier." Claremount, August 25, 1755.

35427. Letters to Philip Yorke, second earl of Hardwicke, from Thomas Hutchinson. 1774-1778.
(These letters from Thomas Hutchinson, former governor of Massachusetts, supplement the letters from Lord Hardwicke in the Hutchinson papers, which are often the answers to the letters in this volume. We are told that "Lord Hardwicke honored Gov. Hutchinson with his entire confidence on American affairs". The letters are dated from St. James St., New Bond St., Sackville St., and contain a number of enclosures. At the end is a letter from John Hutchinson, Blunton Parsonage, Saturday, October 15, 1825, speaking of his intended publication of his grandfather's manuscripts. Also letter from Gov. Wright of Georgia to Thomas Hutchinson, 1779, f. 173.)

35433. ff. 174-178, 184-189. Memoirs from the British government to the United Provinces to engage their neutrality in the war with America and to prevent the supply of ammunition of war to the rebels. 1775-1778. (French.)

f. 134. Order in Council relating to alteration of boundaries of Georgia. October 5, 1763.

ff. 136-205, 310-323. Papers relating to Stamp Act, particularly the proposals by Henry McCulloh, October 10, November 8, 1763, and Mr. Whately's plan of a stamp act (f. 311).

(For McCulloh's proposals and other matter bearing on the subject, see 32888, f. 252; 33028, f. 376; 33030, f. 334; 36226, ff. 353, 357. Also introduction by W. A. Shaw to McCulloh's Miscellaneous Representations relative to our Concerns in America, 1761. Reprinted 1905. There is a large amount of McCulloh material elsewhere in England and in North and South Carolina. That McCulloh was solely responsible for the proposal to tax the colonies, as Dr. Shaw contends, needs further consideration.)

f. 160. Extract of act "granting to his Majesty several duties upon vellum", etc., 28 Geo. I., 1754, ch. 7.

f. 164. Act for erecting stamp office in New York. 1757.

ff. 166-203. List of stamp duties intended to be used in America and the West Indies.

(Ff. 206-215 are extracts from colonial laws which show the fees imposed.)

f. 81. John Humphrey. Jamaica, 1734.

f. 90. John Lewis. Jamaica, 1736.

f. 103. Lemuel Gulliver, Lancaster, Virginia, appeal from judgment of court in Virginia rendered in 1736. Appeal heard, 1739.

36217. f. 1. James MacSparran, of St. Paul's Church in Petequamscut, Rhode Island. 1752.

(On this famous case see Talcott Papers, Conn. Hist. Soc. Coll., V. 462. Important endorsement on the respondent's brief reads as follows: "On the word Orthodoxy, whether a Church of England or a dissenting minister should be understood by it . . . . affirmed the sentence in favor of a dissenter. It seemed agreed the word sho[d] give it to a Church of England minister, if other circumstances had not shown a contrary intent in the Donors".)

f. 25. Bontien, naval officer. Jamaica, 1753.

(Case of ship seized. Also ff. 27, 30.)

ff. 34, 38. Antigua case. February 6, 1753.

f. 172. Barbadoes case. July 8, 1757.

f. 185. Jamaica case. n. d.

f. 199. Lidderdale. Virginia, February 27, 1758.

f. 208. Jamaica case. March 6, 1758.

36218. f. 1. Stanton. Rhode Island, March 2, 1759.

(Daniel Stanton of Philadelphia vs. Elias Thompson, a case of land ownership in Misquamacuck.)

f. 11. Jamaica case. Rev. John Poole vs. Bayley. March 8, 1759.

f. 38. Important series of notes by Yorke on various colonial acts declared null by the king. Beginning with Rhode Island acts of 1703. (Manuscript.)

f. 40. Jamaica case. July 7, 1760.

f. 44. Dering. New England, July 10, 1760.

(Thomas Dering vs. Thomas Packer, a New Hampshire case.)

f. 66. Jamaica case. n. d.

f. 78. Nevis case. n. d.

(An admiralty case.)

f. 86. Jamaica case. January 20, 1761.

f. 90. Barbadoes case. July 5, 1761.

f. 101. Larkin. Rhode Island, June 26, 1761.

(John Larkin, yeoman, of Westerly, Rhode Island, vs. Edward York, mariner, of North Kingston. Difficulty over land.)

ff. 105, 113, 121. Jamaica cases. June, 1761.

f. 133. Nevis case. March 16, 1762.

f. 138. Burwell. Virginia, March 16, 1762.

f. 144. Jamaica case. March 16, 1762.

f. 147. Sherburne. New Hampshire, March 16, 1762.

(John Sherburne vs. Samuel Sherburne. A will case.)

f. 151. Trecothick. New Hampshire, March 16, 1762.

(Trecothick of London, merchant, vs. Wentworth of New Hampshire.)

f. 154. Jamaica case. April 6, 1762.

(A number of Jamaica and Barbadoes cases follow, April-July, 1762.)

f. 181. Rolfe. New Hampshire, December 17, 1762.

(Rolfe et als. vs. the proprietors of the common and undivided lands of Bow. This appears to be the old Rumford case again. 15487, ff. 96-103. Depositions and an engraved map accompany the respondent's brief.)

f. 199. Rickards. Virginia (probably 1763).

f. 218. Richard Crosse, planter in Jamaica, vs. Atkins. 1763.

f. 223. Camm. Virginia, March 12, 1763.

(John Camm, clerk, vs. the Rector, Visitors, and Governors of William and Mary College. Camm had been appointed professor of divinity on May 5, 1749, and was "without any reasonable cause" removed.)

f. 225. Graham. Virginia, 1763.

(Similar case, Richard Graham had been appointed professor of natural philosophy. These briefs throw valuable light on the history of William and Mary before 1763. John Camm, the date of whose appointment Professor Adams gave as 1752, and whose chair he did not know (The College of William and Mary, p. 20), was afterwards commissary and president of the college. Adams does not mention Richard Graham.)

f. 236. Case of illegal importation of Irish goods into Newfoundland from Ireland. 1763.

f. 240. Potter. Rhode Island, 1763.

f. 248. Tabb. Virginia, December 17, 1763.

f. 75. Freebody. Rhode Island, 1764.

(John Freebody and bros. vs. Jahleel Brenton.)

f. 85. Cleeve and Huide. Virginia, July 27, 1764.

ff. 94-114, 140-226. Jamaica and Barbadoes cases. 1764.

f. 227. McMurterie. Pennsylvania, 1765.

(David McMurterie and William McMurterie, merchants and insurers of the brigantine Providence, vs. John Brown of Providence, Rhode Island, surviving owner of the Providence. Statements contain a great deal of information about the commerce of Philadelphia at this date.)

f. 269. Parsons. Virginia, 1765.

f. 273. Howlett. Virginia, 1765.

(Thomas Howlett vs. Thomas Osburn.)

36220. ff. 1-50. Brief on the part of the crown, in regard to establishment of officers at Guernsey, Jersey and Alderney. To be heard before the Committee of the Council, Thursday, June 19, 1766; postponed, November 29, 1766.

(Many manuscript papers, especially report of commission appointed September 4, 1764, to inquire into illicit trade carried on by the Channel islands. Report is dated July 4, 1765, and recommends the appointment of custom officers much to the disgust of the islanders who deny the existence of illicit trading. These papers have much to do with the plantation trade.)

f. 52. Camm. Virginia, 1765, 1766.

(John Camm, clerk, vs. Charles Hansford. This is the appeal of the well-known "parson's cause.")

f. 59. Extract of order in Council, dated March 7, 1753, approving report made by the Committee of the Council, dated March 1, 1753, which stated that it was not advisable for the king to authorize a colony (in this case Virginia), to repeal, alter and amend laws after they had received the royal approbation without inserting a suspending clause therein.

f. 73. The Pennsylvania Land Co. Pennsylvania, July 8, 1766.

(Pennsylvania Land Co. vs. Christian Stover. Many marginal notes by Yorke. Appendix to the appellant's brief contains plot of the survey. The respondent's brief also contains charts.)

f. 80. Dominique case. July 8, 1766.

(Breach of Act of 1763, tried first in the vice-admiralty court, Antigua. The case was between four London merchants and Thomas Knowles, commander of the ship Milford, and was famous in its day. Judgment of forfeiture was affirmed, December 11, 1766.)

f. 105. Long. Pennsylvania, July, 1766.

(John Long and William Plumstead, of Philadelphia, merchant freighters, vs. Thomas Harper, John Nixon and Co., owners of the ship Molly. Many printed papers, giving considerable information.)

f. 135. Barbadoes case. June 10, 1767.

(Breach of act of 1763 tried first in vice-admiralty court of Barbadoes. Rear-Adm. Tyrrell, of H. M. S. Greyhound, as deputy officer of customs, seized vessel, vice-admiralty court decided against the seizure, but Privy Council reversed the decision.)

f. 142. Antigua case. June 10, 1767.

(Smuggling case, vice-admiralty court condemned the vessel, Privy Council reversed judgment on the ground that the vessel had been employed as passage not trading boat.)

f. 148. Grenada case. 1767.

(Case where vessel broke the law without intending fraud. Vice-admiralty court in Grenada condemned the vessel, but Privy Council reversed the judgment.)

f. 155. Lieut.-Gen. Christie vs. Knipe. 1768.

ff. 156-217. Jamaica, Barbadoes and St. Christopher cases of local interest.

f. 218. Freebody. Rhode Island, March 15, 1769.

36223. f. 60. Letter from Thomas Penn to Charles Yorke. 1759.

36226. f. 132. "Copy of a paper containing the opinion of a gentleman of the law in New York."

(The paper contains this clause, "It often happens that merchants offending against the laws respecting commerce rather than contend chuse to compound with the prosecutor".)

f. 353. "Mr. Curuy's [Thomas Augustus Cruwys?] scheme for an American stamp bill, presented to the Commissioners of Stamps." Dated September 30, 1763.

(Four folios with tabulated lists of articles, etc., to be stamped, together with the amounts. Should be compared with proposals of Keith and of McCulloh, 33028, f. 376; 35910, f. 137; and with 33030, f. 334.)

f. 357. "Draft of conference with Mr. M'Culloh 12th October, 1763. Copy for the Board [of Stamps]."

36270. ff. 104-110b. Sketch of life of Sir John Berkeley.

ff. 104-114b. Character of Sir John Berkeley, of Stratton. 18th cent.

36593. f. 53. Letter from Benjamin Franklin. Philadelphia, December 9, 1762.

(Refers to his son's marriage and to the taking of Havana, and adds, "Painting has yet scarce made its appearance among us but poetry has some votaries". Also 210, 227. In 36596 are memoranda concerning Franklin by W., and in 36593, ff. 165, 202, 214, 36595, f. 116, letters to W. from W. P. Franklin.)

36596. ff. 1-13. Preliminary articles of the peace of 1783, said to be in Caleb Whitefoord's handwriting.

ff. 22-27. Notes of conversations on the subject of the peace and kindred matters, particularly regarding alleged disagreement at the council over question of compensation to the loyalists.

(Important volumes showing yearly revenue from the plantation duty and uses for which it was appropriated each year: annuities, interest on loans, ordnance, navy, army, for raising naval stores in plantations, allowances for colonial governors, agents, presents to the Indians, auditor general's salary and sundry colonial expenses. Also revenue from the Four and a half per cent., much of which was appropriated for purposes named above. Also revenue from Virginia quit-suits, for which see, for example, 36732, ff. 39, 45b, 60b, 74b, etc.)

36806. Letters to Viscount Montstuart, ambassador to Spain. 1783-1784.

ff. 130-139. Copy of first operation of Spanish fleet in So. America, 1776-1777; account of insurrection in Peru, 1781; hints given by E. Barre regarding Mediterranean passes.

f. 145. Some observations on probability of success in case attack should be made on the island of Trinidad, Santa Fe, Cumana, Caracas, Nicaragua, Honduras, Guatemala, by Gen. John Dalling. n. d.

(Two papers follow, the first on Trinidad, 1781, and the second on Caracas and the province of Cumana, November 16, 1782, written by an inhabitant of Trinidad, Louis Flislale, a native of Tuscany.)

ff. 183-226. Papers on Honduras Bay and the Mosquito Shore; letter from Gov. Dyer to Alexander Murry, March 17, 1783; with additional remarks on same subject, and on trade carried on there.

36807. Volume entitled "Negotiations with Spain, 1672-1762".

f. 1. Letter from Sir Wm. Godolphin to Lord Arlington, Madrid, May 10 and 20, 1672, regarding logwood or Campeche trade.

f. 18. Copy of draft of letter from W. P. to the Earl of Bristol, August 1, 1758, summing up England's relations with Spain chiefly in Honduras and the West Indies. Cf. another despatch, December 13, 1759, in French (f. 30).

f. 46. Letter from the Earl of Bristol to William Pitt, December 19, 1759, regarding the King of Spain as mediator, and other papers regarding Honduras and the right of Biscayans to fish at Newfoundland. Notice Pitt's despatch of September 26, 1760.

The volume contains many copies of Pitt's despatches to the Earl of Bristol at Madrid and the earl's replies. The subjects are Bristol's disputes with Spain, efforts of the King of Spain to act as mediator, Honduras question, Newfoundland fisheries.

On f. 225 points in dispute are summed up as follows: (1) right of cutting logwood and having settlements at Honduras; (2) right of fishing at Newfoundland; (3) offences pretended to have been committed by the English men of war and privateers in violation of Spain's neutrality. The first of these disputes had existed since the treaty of 1670, the second since Utrecht, the third arose out of exigences of the war.

36859-36865. Minute Books of the Commissioners for Public Accounts. Six volumes. 1702-1704.

(Vol. I. contains many references to William Blathwayt and to plantation accounts. Mention is made of papers and accounts not contained in the volume. Indexed.

Vols. II. and III. contain no papers relating to the colonies.

Vol. IV., ff. 20, 25 (special collector of plantation duty); f. 41 mentions the office, clerks and papers of the auditor general; ff. 183, 214, 242 are establishments of guards, garrisons and land forces, beginning June 1, 1690, probably duplicates of the same in War Office papers; ff. 248, 277 (relating to the Four and a half per cent. of the Caribbee Islands); ff. 284, 287, 290 (mention of plantation accounts and journals of the Four and a half per cent.); f. 296 (regarding the Four and a half per cent.). Index missing. Vol. V., ff. 348, 421, 461, 475, 497, 498, 502 are the weekly accounts of Haler, who was one of the six collectors in the Custom House, London, having charge of the plantation duty. Vol. VI., ff 669, 676, 685, 787, id. Vol. VII. Entry book of copies of the various reports of the commissioners.)

36995. Letters and papers relating to the secret expedition under Gen. Studholme Hodgson for the capture of Belleisle. 1761.

37021. f. 27. Letter from Benjamin Franklin to Peter Collinson. Philadelphia, April 30, 1764.

37047. f. 25. Draft of King's Warrant, with corrections, for grant of part of Virginia to Hopton and others. 1649.

("And more special consideration of many faithful services done to our late royal father of blessed memory and to ourselfe", etc.; after "Chesapayake Bay" is inserted on the margin, "and all islands within the said rivers together with the fishing of the same"; at the end, the phraseology of the empowering clause has been worked over.)

f. 135. Letter from Sir George Carteret. May 8-18, 1650.

(Carteret says that the castle at Jersey was so full of the Duke of York's servants "(which are all lodged here except the footemen and coachmen) with my lord keeper and Dr. Steward that I have scarce room to put in that little provision I have into the castle. In so much that to show good example to others I am sending all my family out of this castle, and those 4 or 5 rooms which I did use for them I do intend this week to fill with corn, a chamber excepted for me to eat and sleep in.") 37067. Alphabetical list of surnames, with dates appended, of testators whose wills are preserved among the records of the Island of Barbadoes, compiled by Edwin Fitzpatrick, Pinfold House, Bridgetown.

PRIVY COUNCIL OFFICE.

WHITEHALL, S. W.

Persons who wish to consult the unpublished Registers and other papers of the Privy Council not of a confidential character should apply in writing to the Clerk of the Council, stating the object they have in view and the period in respect of which they desire to make search.

The Registers are preserved in the office primarily for the purposes of departmental reference, but by the courtesy of the Lord President they are open to persons engaged in historical or family research if application is made in due form. The request should be accompanied by some credentials sufficient to show that the applicant may properly be accorded the privilege, and in such cases permission will be granted, and suitable accommodation, so far as possible, provided.

Each volume of the Register is well indexed. The volume-indexes, which were either made or extended by Greville when Clerk of the Council, 1821-1859, and are comparatively full, were classified and bound up in 1905 in twenty-three typewritten volumes. These volumes, of which fourteen cover the period to December, 1783, exist in duplicate, one copy standing in the room of the Clerk of the Council, the other in the room of the Senior Clerk.

As the facilities for investigation at the Privy Council Office are limited, it is desirable that the student adapt himself as far as possible to the convenience of the officials in charge. The summer months, August in particular, are a better time for pursuing investigations at the Privy Council Office than are the winter months, inasmuch as the routine work of the office is lightened and officials being away on vacation more space is available. The hours of consultation are from about 10.30 a. m. until 5 p. m. Searchers going to the Privy Council Office for the first time should not arrive much before 11 a. m. Copies of documents will be made by under clerks of the office at the regular rates.

The "Acts of the Privy Council (Colonial)", containing all entries in the Register relating to colonial history from 1613 to 1783, with cross references to the Calendars, the Unbound Papers, and the Plantation Registers, are now in process of publication by the British government, in five volumes.

THE PRIVY COUNCIL REGISTER.

The Privy Council Register is more than a journal or minute book; it is also an entry book and register.

As minute book it contains a record of the proceedings of the Council, of the character and distribution of its business, and of all references, instructions, approvals, confirmations and orders in connection with matters that came into its hands for final decision.

As entry book it contains: 1. Entries of the proceedings of its committees, often at great length; 2. Copies, extracts, or abstracts of the documents in a given case, such as laws, affidavits, depositions, memorials, petitions, and the like, which formed the evidence upon which the committee based its report; together with maps, printed matter and engraved or printed blanks which were occasionally inserted between the pages; 3. The reports of committees, upon which the Council based its own decision, sometimes in full, sometimes in brief, or occasionally, when the report was particularly voluminous, by reference only; 4. The reports and representations of subordinate officials and departments, such as the Bishop of London, the attorney and solicitor general, the Board of Trade, the Treasury, Navy and Ordnance Boards, which were sent to a committee or acted upon at the Council meeting itself.

As register it contains copies of a great variety of official documents and precedents: oaths of English and colonial officials, affidavits, summonses, proclamations, instructions and additional instructions to colonial governors, official forms designed to be printed, lists of members, and the names of clerks, keepers and others in the service of the Council.

The most important portions of the Register are the Orders of the Council, the reports of its committees, and the accompanying papers and exhibits.

1. The Orders contain the decision of the ultimate authority, the King in Council, in all matters relating to the administration of the colonial system. When the King was not present the Lords Justices took his place and the procedure is indicated in an entry of the year 1755, which says: "The Lords Justices having resolved that the same rules and methods be observed touching the Privy Council as formerly concerning their manner of sitting at the Council Board, vizt., that the King's chair should not be set, that the Clerks of the Council should attend my Lord President with the paper or list of business, and in his Lordship's absence one of the secretaries of state leaving the Lords Justices out of the summons, and that the Privy Council be summoned to meet at each time as the Lords Justices shall appoint." Orders issued during the King's absence were called Orders of Council instead of Orders in Council and instead of beginning with the usual ordering clause "His Majesty is pleased", etc., they begin "Their Excellencies the Lords Justices are pleased to order" or "to approve". In other respects the procedure was the same as that followed when the King was present. If neither the King nor the Lords Justices were present the order began "It is ordered in Council". According to an order of 1627 no quorum was required but three lords and the clerk must be present.

Each order whether of or in Council was fair copied, signed, and sealed by the Clerk of the Council, and transmitted to the proper board or official. An entry of it was also made in the Register, but such entry does not always appear to be a copy of the complete order. The orders found among the Board of Trade papers, the Admiralty and Navy Board papers, and elsewhere are, therefore, the original documents and are in some cases of greater value than the corresponding entries in the Register.

2. As an entry book of the proceedings of committees, the Register is invaluable. Though the volumes of date earlier than 1660 contain a great many references to colonial affairs, there are no proceedings or reports of committees, mentioned as such (except the subcommittees of 1638-1640), till 1660 (July 16), in which year (June 4) was appointed the first council committee of foreign plantations. The activities of the committees of the Council to which were entrusted colonial business can be followed from this date continuously to the close of the colonial period. On November 28 a committee for Jamaica was instructed to meet at 9 o'clock on Friday morning, and at a later time business relating to Algiers, Tunis, and the Netherlands was referred to it. On May 17, 1661, a committee on New England was appointed; on August 17 a committee on the restitution of Acadia; on November 6 a committee on Scottish trade with the plantations. On September 5, 1662, the committee for foreign plantations was enlarged and on the 10th was instructed to meet every Thursday in the Council Chamber, at 9 o'clock in the morning, beginning on the 18th instant (the first meeting was actually on the 15th), but there is no evidence to show that such meetings were regularly held or that such committee acted as a standing committee. Occasional matters were referred to it from time to time till 1666, though the records of its action are few.[1] In the reorganization of the committees which took place in 1668[2] the committee system seems to have been put on a more definite foundation and new committees appear, such as for "Trade, Jersey, and Guernsey", "Trade and Plantations", "Complaints and Grievances", which were probably not stated committees but committees appointed to consider some special business. That the committees on "Trade and Plantations" and on "Complaints and Grievances" were unlike what we know as standing committees seems evident from the order of February 12, "to the two last committees any of the council may have liberty to come and vote, and that his two principal secretaries of state be ever understood to be of all committees and hereafter three or more to be a quorum".

When in 1674, the Shaftesbury Council of Trade and Plantations was dissolved, "all matters under their cognizance were left loose and at large" and were entrusted to "the committee of this Board appointed for matters relating to Trade and his Foreign Plantations". This committee, familiar to all students of colonial history as the Lords of Trade, had charge of colonial affairs from 1675 to 1696, and continued to report to the Council as it had done before. Its commission is dated March, 1675, but its first recorded meeting was held in February. Its membership was frequently changed, but it was to all intents and purposes a standing committee of the Council during these years.

After the appointment by Parliament of a permanent Council of Trade and Foreign Plantations in 1696, the practice of referring colonial business to committees of the Council was resumed and continued, and the proceedings and reports of such committees were duly entered in the Register. No appointment of such committees was made at the beginning of the year or of a reign, but as each matter came up for consideration, a committee was named to examine the question and to make report. Though two committees stand out with special prominence during the eighteenth century—the "Committee for Hearing Appeals, Complaints, etc., from the Plantations" and the "Committee for the Affairs of the Plantations"—yet other names of committees show that colonial business was not referred exclusively to these two bodies and that committees were appointed only when they were wanted and did not exist otherwise. We read of the "Committee for Jersey, Guernsey, and the Plantations", the "Committee for the affairs of Jersey and Guernsey", the "Committee for Plantation and Other Affairs", the "Committee for Irish Bills and Plantation Affairs", the "Committee for Irish Bills and the Affairs of Carolina", the "Committee for the Affairs of Carolina", the "Committee for the Affairs of New England and the Bounding of Acadia", etc. Sometimes the business of the committee is not named, as when a reference of some colonial matter is referred to a "Committee" or to a "Committee of the Lords of his Majesty's most Honorable Privy Council". At times, it would appear that the terms "Committee on Appeals" and "Committee for Plantations" were interchangeable. The membership of such committees was not fixed, even during a single sitting of the Privy Council; in one case when certain members, whose names are given, were appointed a committee to consider a plantation question, the record adds "also all others who are in town, of all of whom any three could do business"

3. Colonial matters could be brought to the attention of the Privy Council: either directly by petition from the person or colony concerned, in the latter case generally through an agent; or indirectly through the Secretary of State or one of the departments to whom the petition might be sent. A copy of the petition, when received, might be referred at once with proper instructions to the departmental board chiefly interested in the question, and the report or representation of such board was sent to the Privy Council or not infrequently sent directly to the committee of the Council appointed to review the question. If the Council referred the petition first to its own committee, the latter before considering it sent a copy to the Board of Trade, were the date later than 1696, or to one of the departments with instructions for a report. By far the greater number of references after 1696 were of course to the Board of Trade. As soon as the committee received the report it reviewed the entire case, generally calling for such evidence or witnesses as it desired and finally drafted its own report to the Council. The recommendation of the committee was almost invariably accepted by the Council without demur and embodied in an order. All colonial acts of date later than 1696 came to the Board of Trade before going to the Council but the Board's report was always reviewed in committee whose approval or disapproval, generally in accordance with the decision of the Board of Trade, was always confirmed by the Council. Thus a large amount of the business that came before the Council will be found rehearsed at length in the proceedings of the board.

In the case, however, of petitions of appeal from the plantations, first for the right to appeal and then the appeal itself, no reference of the petition was ever made to the Board of Trade or to any of the departments, and generally speaking no copy of such petitions will be found elsewhere than in the Register or among the unbound papers of the Privy Council. The matter was referred only to the Committee on Appeals, which took the case into a leisurely consideration. It heard the parties in the person of their learned counsel, sent a copy of the petition to the crown lawyers or the judges of the superior court in England, sometimes allowing three or four months for an opinion to be returned, occasionally recommended that a copy of the petition be sent to the colony in America, generally allowing six months or seven months for a reply to be sent back, and then having received legal advice and having given both sides a hearing it reported either to dismiss the case or to uphold the petitioner. The committee might send to the Board of Trade for information, which that board would have to get from its own records or from the colony; it might instruct the Board to prepare lists of precedents and to have copies made of colonial charters; it might call witnesses and agents and listen to their statements; it might order the solicitor for the appellants to bring forward books, accounts, letters, and other papers as evidence, but it never referred an appeal from the plantations to any other body for report. Though minutes were kept of its meetings, probably no systematic attempt was made to preserve such record after it had been entered in the Register, except so far as it might be filed away among the unbound papers in the form of loose sheets. Large numbers of such sheets may be found, which are of value as supplementing the entry in the Register.[1]

Apart from its intrinsic value as a journal, entry book, and register, the Privy Council Register is an index to nearly every important matter that came before any branch of the British government for adjustment or adjudication. Though the Privy Council worked chiefly through committees whose recommendations it approved, though appeals were generally decided in accordance with the opinions of the crown lawyers, and though the Council after 1688 had been shorn of much of its political and judicial power as far as Great Britain was concerned, nevertheless the fact remains that during the colonial era it was the highest authority in the Empire in all that related to colonial management. As it was the only body possessing plenary powers over the royal colonies it alone could render the ultimate decision in all that concerned the law and administration of the British dominions beyond the seas. It was the court of appeal from all the colonial tribunals and it alone could give legal sanction to the decisions of the Board of Trade. Its records are, therefore, of the highest significance.

With some exceptions, the volumes of the Register form an unbroken series from August 10, 1540, to the present time. The earlier volumes, 23 in number, 1540-1598, were removed to the Public Record Office in 1905; one volume of Elizabeth's reign is in the British Museum, Add. MSS. 5476. Volumes to 1601 will be transferred to the Public Record Office as fast as calendared. Those listed below will be retained permanently in Whitehall. The volumes are arranged and numbered according to reigns, as follows:

JAMES I. Volumes for the years 1603 to 1613, together with the last four volumes of Elizabeth's reign, were destroyed by fire in the reign of James I. (1619).[2]

I. May 1, 1613-May 31, 1615.
II. June 1, 1615-March 31, 1617.
III. April 1, 1617-October 31, 1618.
IV. November 1, 1618-February 28, 1620.
V. March 4, 1620-May 30, 1623.
VI. June 4, 1623-March 28, 1625.

UNBOUND PAPERS.

The unbound papers of the Privy Council have been sorted and arranged in chronological order. They are tied up in packets of from thirty to fifty papers each, ranging from one to four packets to a year, and are deposited in one of the rooms on the ground floor of the building in Whitehall. They are accessible to any one to whom may be accorded the privilege of inspection. The collection contains a few documents of the seventeenth century, chiefly after 1690, though single documents, chiefly copies, are dated as early as 1624, 1631, 1650, 1673, 1677, and 1685. The earliest papers which bear either directly or indirectly on colonial history are these: an undated draft of an act of St. Christopher regarding the Four and a half per cent. duty; a group of papers regarding pirates which bears somewhat on West Indian history, 1694-1696; papers relating to the imprisonment of Edward Randolph in the Bermudas, 1699; and a presentment by the committee for managing and causing to be collected his Majesty's customs, subsidies, and other duties, dated Custom House, London, July 1, 1699.

The earlier papers, after 1613, have not been lost but are to be found in other collections. That it was customary for the Clerk of the Council to keep such papers at his own house or to remove them thither on the expiration of his tenure of office is evident from an order of Council, January 20, 1636, instructing two councillors to view the papers in the study of the house of the late clerk, John Dickinson, in the Strand, and to cause such as concerned his Majesty's service to be brought to the Council Table. (P. C. R. Charles I., Vol. XI., p. 359; Cal. State Papers, Dom., 1635-1636, p. 281.) Most of the papers probably found their way eventually into private hands or into the State Paper Office. An examination of the Calendars of State Papers, Domestic and Colonial of date before 1700 discloses petitions, minutes, notes, and other memoranda that were originally Privy Council Papers, undoubtedly belonging to this collection of unbound papers.

The importance of the papers for colonial history can best be determined by a survey of the contents of certain selected packets. The years chosen for description are 1700-1702, 1724-1727, and 1765-1774. Unless otherwise stated the date denotes the time when the document was received or read. Frequently no other date is given. Many Board of Trade reports are not entered here.

1700. Petition of Dorothy Bishop, wife of Robert Bishop of Barbadoes. January 11, 1700.

Representation from the Board of Trade regarding pirates in the plantations. January 11, 1700.

Id., regarding the pay of the soldiers at New York. January 16, 1700.

Presentment from the Commissioners of Customs for Samuel Cox to be councillor in Barbadoes. January 23, 1700.

Petition of Capt. Elias Haskett to be confirmed as governor of Barbadoes.

MISCELLANEA.

Precedent Book.

This volume of precedents and precedent forms contains a collection of entries made by Mr. Harrison, Senior Clerk of the Privy Council Office, and is kept by him in his room. It may be inspected on application to him. The list of precedents does not pretend to be complete. The following items are of interest for students of colonial history.

List of Precedents.

Complaints from and against judges, etc., in the plantations, 1737-1815.

Precedent Forms.

For summoning individual members of committees of the Council, such as committees for plantation affairs and for hearing appeals from the plantations, stating in each summons the object of the meeting, 1770.

For serving notice on parties concerned in a particular case, such as "appeal of Mohegan Indians".

For postponing meeting of the same committees.

Of prosecution issued against rioters; of proclamation issued for the suppression of riots.

For appointment of councillors in the plantations, 1781.

For approval of colonial acts, 1771.

For bond to be given when any party prays to be heard against a representation of the Board of Trade.

Extracts of reports on complaints of governors in the plantations.

Instances in which public bills passed in the plantations have been contested before the Privy Council.

Various papers relating to embargoes, 1775-1779, including dates of orders laying general embargoes, April 15, 1680, to December, 1703, directed to the Lord High Admiral and the Lord High Treasurer.

MISCELLANEOUS VOLUMES IN THE BOARD ROOM OF THE PRIVY COUNCIL.

Irish Affairs. Minutes and entries of the Committee for Ireland, February 14, 1688-September 25, 1691.

(A printed work, filled with maps and charts of the coasts of North America. Valuable. See P. R. O. C. O. 5 I. Books of Maps (old reference).)

Proclamations in eight large volumes covering the period from 1613 to 1810, as follows:

I. King James, vol. II. 1613-1624.
II. Charles I. 1625-1629.
III. Charles I. 1625-1645.

(This large volume includes a very fine series of proclamations relating to the plantations, all but ten of which are in vol. II. At the beginning of the volume is a manuscript list of the contents.)

IV. Charles II. February, 1660-March, 1684.
V. James, William and Mary. 1684-1697.
VI. William and Anne. 1698-1714.
VII. George II. 1714-1758.
VIII. George III. 1760-1810.

(Outside of the Privy Council Office copies of Royal Proclamations may be found in the Public Record Office (S. P. Dom. James I., 73, 187; Charles I., 541; Proclamations, 1-8, 1727-George III.); Queen's College, Oxford; British Museum; Society of Antiquaries; Collections of Broadsides; Private Collections: Earl of Crawford (see Crawford, List of Proclamations); "Bibliotheca Lindesiana"; Earl De La Warr (Collection Lord Sackville, Knole Park, Kent). For the procedure followed in issuing a proclamation see Scargill-Bird, Guide to the Public Records, third ed., p. 52. A volume containing reprints of all proclamations relating to the colonies is in preparation under the auspices of the American Antiquarian Society. The original proclamations will be found in the Privy Seal and Signed Bill bundles in the Public Record Office.)

Plantation Registers. This series of thirteen volumes of entry books covers the period from 1627 to 1784. The volumes contain entries of a great variety of documents, chiefly of a legal or official character. In many cases, particularly of colonial acts—Jamaica, Barbadoes, Virginia, Antigua, Montserrat, Nevis, Leeward Islands, etc.—of governor's commissions and instructions, and of colonial charters, the entries are duplicates of documents found elsewhere. But a very large number of the entries are of documents that are no longer in existence and the entries have, therefore, all the value of original material. Furthermore, the entries of colonial acts furnish considerable information regarding the procedure followed before the Privy Council or in the preparation of acts for a given colony by the Council committee and on that account are of value to the student of colonial legislation.

The documents, of which copies are entered in these volumes, consist of colonial acts, public and private, and forms of confirmation; charters; commissions, instructions, additional instructions, trade instructions, circular instructions, orders, letters, etc., issued to the colonial governors; commissions of enquiry and review, commissions to colonial officials of rank below that of governor, and other commissions in great variety; orders of and in council; surrenders, as of the Carolinas and the Jersies; royal warrants for councillors, for leaves of absence, and warrants for the issue of letters patent under the Great Seal, letters of marque, grants and surrenders of land, etc. Except for volume eleven the books are well indexed.

I. February 15, 1677-August, 1700.
II. October 22, 1700-August 24, 1702.
III. August 24, 1702-August 18, 1708.
IV. December 25, 1709-December 21, 1718.
V. May 19, 1720-July 20, 1725.
VI. April 18, 1728-December 14, 1732.
VII. May 18, 1732-January 23, 1737.
VIII. February 15, 1738-July 30, 1741.
IX. February 2, 1741-March 29, 1750.
X. April 11, 1750-June 21, 1754.
XI. August 6, 1754-May 13, 1755.
XII. November 18, 1767-June 14, 1771.
XIII. April 5, 1771-January 14, 1784.

WAR OFFICE LIBRARY.

Whitehall, S. W.

In the parliamentary and reference library of the War Office, Whitehall, are four small folio entry books, discovered by Messrs. Hodgson when cataloguing the books from the library of the Royal Military College, Sandhurst. These volumes contain manuscript copies or extracts of orders, returns, and capitulations relating to the Revolutionary War. They are not open to public inspection, but by application to the War Office permission could probably be obtained to examine them.

Three of the volumes are apparently in the same handwriting, the fourth (No. II.) is partly by another hand. The books contain a number of blank pages at the end of each. By whom the copies were made is uncertain. A Hessian return in the third volume is stated to have been made by Major Mackenzie of the 23d or Royal Welsh Fuziliers and the opening order in the first volume concerns that regiment. It is, therefore, possible that the books were the property of an officer of that regiment, perhaps of Major Mackenzie himself, who as deputy adjutant under Sir Henry Clinton would have every facility of obtaining copies of the returns and capitulations.

I. M. H. 334. Lettered:—"Orders, America, from 10 June, 1773 to 1776." Contains extracts of orders given to the British Army in America. The book ends January 10, 1776. Some of the orders are duplicates of those preserved in the Royal Institution, calendared by the Historical Manuscripts Commission, but others are not.

II. M. H. 335. A similar book lettered "Rhode Island, 1776-1779", and containing extracts of orders given by the different British general officers who commanded at Rhode Island from the time of taking possession of that colony in December, 1776, to the final evacuation in October, 1779. The orders are by Clinton, Lord Percy, and Brig.-Gen. Smith. The volume ends at January 6, 1778.

III. M. H. 336. Lettered:—"Returns, America, 1776-1783." Among the items are the following:

State of the corps under the command of Maj.-Gen. Howe as embarked at Boston, March 17, 1776.

Returns of accoutrements lost on April 19, 1775.

Various returns or distributions of troops at Halifax.

Distribution of the army in America at various dates.

Return of drivers, horses, and wagons furnished by Dalrymple, October 1-December 31, 1780.

Comparative view of expenditures in certain departments during the commands of Howe and Clinton.

WESTMINSTER, S. W.

The House of Lords MSS. are accessible to any one desiring to use them for purposes of serious work. Application for permission to examine them should be made to the Clerk of Parliaments. There are no fixed rules regarding hours or days available for searchers. In general MSS. may be inspected from 11 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. except on Saturdays, when, as a rule, the messenger is in attendance only in the morning. When the House is not sitting there are likely to be more difficulties than at other seasons in arranging for a search. Comfortable accommodation is provided in rooms in the Parliament Office, to which a messenger will bring the desired documents from their place of deposit in the Victoria Tower. As a rule no charge is made for the inspection of documents for historical purposes.

The House of Lords MSS. were fortunately preserved when, in 1834, the Houses of Parliament were destroyed by fire. For many years following they were stored in rooms on the basement story of the House, in confusion and practically lost. About the time of the creation of the Historical Manuscripts Commission, however, an historical scholar obtained permission to examine them and recognized their great value. One of the earliest of the labors begun by the Commission was the arrangement of the manuscripts in chronological order, the preparation of a MS. list that would render them accessible, and the publication in the appendixes to its Reports of a calendar, which gives the substance, or in many cases the entire text, of papers not printed in full in the Journals.

The documents calendared by the Commission come down to the year 1693 and are dealt with in the various Reports as follows:

First	Report,	p.	xi,	and	App.	I-10.
Second	"	"	ix,	"	"	106-109.
Third	"	"	xi,	"	"	1-36.

Since 1900, the calendar, entitled The Manuscripts of the House of Lords, has been issued by order of the House but not under the authority of the Historical Manuscripts Commission. The fourth volume of this new series has been recently published and comes down to March 1701/2. No arrangements have been made for printing MSS. of later date than 1714.

The character of the House of Lords MSS. may be most readily indicated by means of a classification in which they are grouped according to their origin. Two main groups may be distinguished, those that originated within Parliament and those that are not of Parliamentary origin. The former group consists of documents emanating from the House as a whole, or from the Lords and Commons jointly, from a select committee of the Lords or from joint committees of Lords and Commons. Among the MSS. in this group are the records of the proceedings of the House and of its committees. The proceedings are in part entered in the printed Journals but the information contained therein is supplemented by a number of MS. volumes, the most important series of which, known as "MS. Minutes", contains rough minutes of the proceedings of the House kept by one of the clerks of the Table. Among the valuable classes of entries found here are particulars of proceedings when the House was put in committee of the Whole House and proceedings in appeals. Notes of debates, evidence, opinions of judges and legal assistants, and the numbers of those voting for or against measures are included. A second series of MS. volumes contains minutes of the proceedings of select committees; the third, minutes of the proceedings of joint committees of Lords and Commons. A more precise idea of the character of these manuscript books may be obtained from the extracts printed in the calendar.

Besides these volumes many classes of separate documents belong to this group, such as bills, reports of committees, depositions of witnesses, etc.; drafts of amendments, resolutions, motions, orders, reports of committees, etc., are also preserved. Bills that became Acts were first enrolled separately in the time of Henry VII. and were engrossed on parchment. The "Parchment Collection", however, to which reference is made in The Manuscripts of the House of Lords, does not refer to the enrolled acts, but to a collection of documents engrossed on parchment, such as bills which passed either the House of Lords or the House of Commons but did not become acts of Parliament, prorogation writs, lists of the peers, etc., etc. A MS. list is accessible of the acts both public and private, numbered consecutively for each regnal year, in the order in which they are kept in the Victoria Tower. While the public acts for the period dealt with in this report have been printed, many of the private acts have not.[1] Manuscript copies of many private acts, taken from the originals in the House of Lords, may be consulted in the Newspaper Room of the British Museum. Among these are copies of private acts to make various prize ships free, of which some throw light on American trade.[2] Bills that failed to become acts are also preserved among the papers in the Victoria Tower. In so far as they fall within the period covered by The Manuscripts of the House of Lords, they are printed therein.

Addresses, and many resolutions, motions and amendments to bills, are printed in the Journals, while, as has been said, additional papers of these kinds are found in the MS. volumes of proceedings.

[1] A set of public acts, complete for the colonial period except for the years of the Commonwealth, is accessible in the British Museum Newspaper Reading Room. A collection of the acts relating to America is being prepared by Professor William MacDonald of Brown University.

[2] An index, which will contain a list of the private acts from the earliest times to 1800, is being compiled by Mr. Butler, assistant librarian to the House of Lords and editor of the Statutes, and will be published by the government.

The documents originating outside the House may be divided into two classes: (1) those delivered to the House without being ordered and (2) those ordered by the House. The first group includes royal speeches and messages, printed in full in the Journals; copies of treaties and other papers of special importance, usually copies, which the sovereign desired to bring to the attention of the House, e. g., the numerous papers relating to the Stamp Act disturbances (L. J. XXXI. 235 ff.). The originals of many of these papers are doubtless in the Public Record Office. In the same group are the petitions and memorials—original documents of much value as throwing light on current opinion on economic and political events and as giving the names of leading merchants and others directly or indirectly interested in American affairs. Still other papers were prepared in accordance with statutory requirement and sent to the Lords without order from them, e. g. the reports on the state of the African Company's forts.

The papers delivered as the result of an order or address came mostly from the various departments of the government—the Admiralty, Colonial Office (Board of Trade), State, Treasury (Commissioners of Customs), and War Office, and include accounts, letters, commissions, instructions, reports, minutes of proceedings, etc. Many of these papers are doubtless also to be found in the Public Record Office.

The subject-matter of the various papers precisely reflects the dominant interests of the government at different times. Before 1765, the topics chiefly dealt with in relation to America were the state of trade, imports and exports and such allied subjects as the protection afforded to trade by cruisers and convoys, money, the African trade, the South Sea Company, depredations of the Spaniards and proceedings of the English commanders in the West Indies. The settlement of Nova Scotia and the encroachments of the French in North America are the theme of many papers. After 1765 the number of MSS. relating to America greatly increases. Through letters of governors, distributors of stamps, collectors and comptrollers of customs, and others, a vast amount of detailed information on the disturbances and their causes in the colonies, especially in Massachusetts, was laid before the House. After 1775 the shipment of goods to America, the transport and maintenance of troops, the state of the army and navy, the care of prisoners of war, the steps taken by the commissioners for restoring peace, Burgoyne's expedition, foreign relations, and the operations and capture of the army of Cornwallis were particularly considered.

The following list of House of Lords papers relating to America and dating from 1702 (the year in which the fourth volume of The Manuscripts of the House of Lords ends), to 1783, is based upon an examination of documents and bundles of documents referred to in a MS. list accessible in the offices of the Clerk of Parliaments.[1] It has not been possible to test thoroughly the completeness of this list. It refers with but very few exceptions to all the American documents delivered to the House and noted in the printed Journals; also to a small number of bills, and of motions, resolutions and similar documents originating in the House and entered in the Journals. Many papers, however, originating in or delivered to committees are not

[1] Many of the papers up to the year 1709 were out of strictly chronological order, in process of rearrangement for editorial purposes. This involved difficulties in discovering the specific papers desired, and the MS. list, which is chronological, was not serviceable. It is supposed, however, though it is by no means certain, that all of the American papers were seen.

mentioned in the Journals. Some of these are noticed in the MS. list, but in what proportion it would not be possible to assert without an examination of the references to documents in the MS. minutes of proceedings, or an examination of the entire body of MSS. which it was not practicable to make. The editors of the calendar have found a very few MSS. to whose existence neither the Journals nor the MS. minutes afforded a clue.

Of the American papers referred to in the MS. list some drafts of entries in the Journals—motions, amendments to bills, addresses for papers, etc., have been omitted from the ensuing pages; and many other addresses and resolutions printed in full in the Journals but not entered in the MS. list are not mentioned here. In many cases titles of documents given in the Journals appear in the following list, but in other cases a general description of a series of papers has seemed sufficient and the several titles in the Journals are not repeated here. As a rule the leading date is that under which the documents are entered in the MS. list, and this is generally the date on which they were delivered to the House.

In the following pages, the abbreviation L. J. signifies Journals of the House of Lords. The pages of the Journals referred to are those on which the document is mentioned. When the document is printed in the Journals in extenso, this is stated.

GENERAL POST-OFFICE.

St. Martins le Grand, E. C.

These archives are not kept in an office where they are open to public inspection, but can only be consulted by permission of the Postmaster General. Applications should be addressed to the Secretary of the Post Office, St. Martins le Grand, E. C.

A good account of the British Post-Office in its relation to the history of the postal service in the American colonies before 1710 is in Herbert Joyce's History of the Post Office from its Establishment down to 1836 (1893), chapter VIII., in which several of the documents referred to below are quoted wholly or in part.

The search in the voluminous records for the scattered items relating to America was greatly furthered by the aid rendered by Mr. J. G. Hendy, curator of the record room.

The classes of records containing matter relative to America before 1783 are as follows:

1. Treasury Letter Books containing letters, reports and memorials from the Post-Office to the Lords of the Treasury, and warrants, orders of reference, letters, etc. issued by the Treasury in reply thereto. The American items are listed below. The numbers in heavy-faced type indicate volumes.

2. (1691-1699), p. 137. Letter from the Postmasters General to Mr. Blathwayt, January 10, 1696, concerning an act for settling a post-office at Boston in New England.

p. 211. Representation of the Postmasters General, July 9, 1696, that a person may be deputed to state the accounts of the Post-Office in America.

p. 213. Letter from Captain Meech to Gov. Nicholson, dated from sloop Speedwell, Delaware River, September 24, 1695, relating to the intercepting of illegal trade, and apparently implicating Hamilton.

pp. 252-255. Memorial of Thomas Neale enclosing A. Hamilton's memorial.

p. 256. Lords of Treasury's order of reference of Neale's and Hamilton's memorials to the Postmasters General.

pp. 256-257. Report of Postmasters General to Lords of Treasury, April 27, 1699, on the memorials of Neale and Hamilton and on the accounts of profit and charge.

p. 258. "A Calculation what Charge will carry the Post from Newcastle in Pennsilvania to James Cyty in Virginia about 400 Miles", by Andrew Hamilton, April 26, 1699.

p. 264. Memorial of Thomas Neale to Lords of Treasury, April 28, 1699, offering to resign his patent of the American post-office.

pp. 265-267. "The Charge of setling and carrying on the Post in North America from the beginning of May 1693 to May 1697", by A. Hamilton.

3. (1699-1705). Twelve letters from Mr. Edmund Dummer and the Postmasters General relating to the West India packet boats.

pp. 66-67. Petition of Andrew Hamilton and Robert West to the king, praying that the king take the Post-Office in N. America or grant them a further term of years therein, and additional privileges.

pp. 126-127. Representation of Jeffry Jeffrys to queen, offering to carry mail direct to New York, with Postmasters General's report on representation.

pp. 250-251. Royal warrant, February 12, 1704, authorizing new rates of postage between England and the plantations.

4. (1705-1712), pp. 32-35. Petition of Robert West and Agnes Hamilton, the relict and executrix of Andrew Hamilton, praying the queen for an extension of the term of their patent and for further privileges, with order of reference of same petition and report of Postmasters General, February 7, 1707, recommending purchase of patent.

pp. 137-138. Undated proposal to Lords of Treasury from William Warren offering to establish a monthly packet service from England to New York, with order of reference, dated December 28, 1709.

(The report is said to be entered in the West Indian book, but no such book is known.)

6. (April, 1715-October, 1724), pp. 205-207. Petition to Lords of Treasury from John Hamilton, late deputy postmaster of N. America, concerning arrears of salary due him, with letter from Postmasters General to Lords of Treasury, August 10, 1722, concerning the same, and warrant to Postmasters General, October 5, 1722, for payment of same arrears.

8. (June, 1760-March, 1771), pp. 95-105. "Memorandum relating to some Improvements suggested to be made in the Management of the Post Office in North America", dated January 28, 1764, relating to survey of post-roads undertaken by Franklin and Foxcroft; establishment of packet boats to southern colonies; modifications in the existing law relating to the delivery of ship letters, and a regular post between New York and Quebec.

pp. 57-74. Representation to Lords of Treasury from Postmasters General "in relation to the several Vessels now employed as Packet-boats by this office in its Foreign Correspondence"; Treasury warrant to the above memorial; a further representation about the four N. American packet boats; warrant to the same.

p. 258. Letter from secretary of post-office to Thomas Bradshaw, June 4, 1768, on Mr. Franklin's returning to N. America.

p. 258. Letter from the Earl of Hillsborough to the Postmasters General, Whitehall, May 27, 1768, on improving the packet service to the West Indies and to the southern parts of the continent of America.

pp. 260-263. Letter from Postmasters General to Lords of Treasury, June 6, 1768, advocating the establishment of four packet boats to be employed between Falmouth and Charles Town, S. C., and relating to the land post in the southern part of the continent and to the post of the West Indies, and expense of victualling New York packets.

p. 264. Letter from Lords of Treasury to Postmasters General, July 5, 1768, authorizing them to contract for four packet boats from pp. 273-277; 283-285; 293-300. Memorials, etc., concerning packet boats between Pensacola and Jamaica, 1768-1770.

pp. 285-287. Correspondence on the delivery of ships' letters, including a letter from J. Foxcroft to the (American) Commissioners of the Customs, dated Philadelphia, January 11, 1769.

pp. 301-302. Letters, June 6, 1770, on establishing a fifth packet boat between Falmouth and New York.

9. (April, 1771-December, 1778), pp. 4-7. Letter from Postmasters General to Lords of Treasury, September 23, 1771, proposing an increased estimate for the New York and Carolina packet service.

pp. 129-134. Letter from the Postmasters General to the Lords of Treasury, February 14, 1776, regarding the arming of the American packet boats, with a proposed estimate for the same; and on dispatching of a packet boat to Halifax, N. S., with warrant, March 5, 1776, for increased expenditure for purpose above mentioned.

pp. 153-156. Letter from Postmasters General to Lords of Treasury, November 13, 1776, proposing to allow Michael McDonogh, commander of the packet boat employed between Jamaica, Pensacola and Charles Town, the sum of £300 for meritorious services, with certificates of merit from Sir P. Parker, July 19, 1776, and Lord William Campbell, July 24, 1776, and warrant to allow sum above mentioned, dated November 26, 1776.

pp. 216-220. Letter from Postmasters General to Lords of Treasury, August 13, 1777, enclosing memorial of Ebenezer Mackie, late merchant and deputy postmaster of Baltimore, Maryland, who requests relief on account of his being deprived of his office and on account of his other losses, with warrant to pay £50 to E. Mackie, dated January 24, 1778.

pp. 221-228. Letter from Postmasters General to Lords of Treasury, October 8, 1777, proposing a new estimate for the packet service between Jamaica, Pensacola and Charles Town, enclosing a letter from Capt. Clarke, dated Kingston, Jamaica, July 23, 1777, setting forth the hardships of the service, with warrant for new estimate, November 25, 1777.

pp. 345-347. Letter from Postmasters General to Lords of Treasury, October 30, 1778, on the capture of four packet boats by American privateers, and enclosing a letter from Lord George Germain, September 18, 1778, on the packet service.

10. (December, 1778-September, 1783), pp. 14-15. Letter from Postmasters General to Lords of Treasury, March 17, 1779, referring to the late disarrangement of the American postal service.

2. Orders of the Board, 1737-1771.

Volumes I.-III., bound together, contain orders appointing deputy postmasters general in America (Elliott Benger in place of Head Lynch, deceased, I. 79; Benjamin Franklin and William Hunter, I. 180; Benjamin Barons for the southern department, II. 126; Hugh Finlay and John Foxcroft, III. 25); riding surveyor [of the post roads] for the continent of North America (Hugh Finlay, III. 10, 11); and establishing "a regular central office" at New York (III. 10).

3. Commission Book, 1759-1854.

An entry book containing copies and memoranda of commissions signed by the Postmasters General appointing postmasters, commanders of packet boats, etc.

4. Instructions, 1763-1811.

Instructions given by Postmasters General to Benjamin Barons, deputy postmaster general of the American southern department, January 5, 1765, pp. 53-56; the same to Capt. Arthur Clarke, commander of the Diligence packet boat employed between Jamaica, Pensacola and Charles Town, March 24, 1769, pp. 82-83; the same to Capt. Terence MacDonagh, commander of the Comet packet boat employed between Jamaica, Pensacola, and Charles Town and the intermediate places, July 30, 1770, pp. 93-95.

5. General Accounts.

The volume for 1721-1730 (p. 13) contains an entry of payment to John Hamilton for salary due November 23, 1721. The volume for April 5, 1761, to April 5, 1770, contains statements of moneys received quarterly for letters sent to the northern and southern American departments, and to the West Indies; and of the charges of managing the post office at Jamaica and in the northern and southern American departments.

6. American Letter Book, 1773-1783.

This is a volume of much interest containing letters from the General Post-Office to the postmasters in America. On p. 15 is the letter dismissing Dr. Franklin from the office of deputy postmaster general, January 31, 1774, printed in Joyce's History of the Post Office, p. 204. On p. 50 is the account of cash paid by Benjamin Franklin and John Foxcroft to the receiver general of the Post-Office. Several letters contain the request that the postmasters send by every ship complete files of newspapers and "such Pamphlets as may serve to shew the temper and spirit of the times for the Information of the Board". But these, if sent, appear not to have been preserved. Among the subjects treated are the dispatch of packet boats and, occasionally, their seizure by the enemy; the question of defraying out of the army contingencies the postage of letters for poor soldiers; and accounts and remittances, including a form of a general account for the northern department in N. America.

7. Falmouth Packet Office Letter Book, 1778-1781.

This volume contains letters from the agent at Falmouth addressed mostly to the secretary of the London Post-Office, treating inter alia of the arrival of mail and government despatches from London for America, of the arrival of American mails, sailing of packets, capture of packets, complaints of smuggling by packets, etc.

8. Falmouth Account Book, 1773-1785.

This volume contains account of money received and expended by packet-boat agent at Falmouth, including receipts for passengers, letters and freight to and from Falmouth, New York, Charles Town, West Indies, etc., accounts of victualling passengers, and incidental charges incurred.

9. Articles of Agreement, November 5, 1755, between the Postmasters General and William Leslie of London, mariner, for a packet boat stationed to New York. (A separate document.)

TRINITY HOUSE.

Trinity Square, Tower Hill, E. C.

The Library is not open to the public but it is presumed that upon proper application permission to inspect MSS. will be granted to historical investigators.

The ancient corporation of the Trinity House, whose first charter dates from the reign of Henry VIII., exercises various functions connected with the protection of navigation, such as the management of lighthouses, the supervision of pilots, etc., and employs a portion of its funds in the relief of seamen and other charitable uses.

An account of the manuscripts of Trinity House printed in the first appendix to the eighth report of the Historical Manuscripts Commission, includes the American items listed below and states that the great fire of 1666 and a fire which occurred in 1714 destroyed most of their ancient documents. The page numbers following the items are those of the pages of this account. In addition to the American documents noted in the Historical Manuscripts Commission's report, is a manuscript chart drawn on vellum by Antonio Sanchez and dated 1635 or 1637 (the last figure is not clear) with many names of places on both seaboards of North and South America.

Seventeenth century. In a folio labelled "Transactions, 1609-1625": Certaine articles and reasons touching a plantation to be made in Newfoundland, exhibited by certain Marchants of London and Bristol, unto the Lords of H. M. Privie Counsell, and by them referred to the consideration and reporte of the Master, Wardens and Assistants of the Trinity House, Feb. 9, 1609. It prays for a patent of a small part of the country never inhabited by Christians. P. 236a. In the same, a favorable report thereon by the Master Wardens of the Trinity House, same page.

1610. Award by the Master and Wardens of the Trinity House on a dispute between a merchant and the men of a ship arrived from Virginia. P. 236a.

1611, October 24-26. Depositions of persons engaged in the Northwest discovery; log-book of voyage, and report on matter by Trinity House. Extracts printed. Pp. 236b-237a.

1611, March 11. Letter from Sir Thomas Smith to the Trinity House, asking for payment of the second of the three years' subscription to the Virginia adventure. P. 237a.

1611, March. Agreement that the Trinity House shall have rateably according to their adventure for Virginia their full part of all such lands as shall be recovered, planted, and inhabited, and of such mines and minerals of gold and silver and other metals or treasure, pearls, precious stones, or other kind of wares which shall be obtained or gotten in the said voyage. P. 237a.

Compter, who on one of his voyages had served with Sir Francis Drake to the West Indies, anno 1595. P. 239a.

1620, October 7. Certificate by the Master, Wardens and Assistants of the Trinity House, that William Locke of Ratcliffe, mariner, was in a ship cast away at Greenland in 1611, and afterwards in another ship also cast away in Greenland, and afterwards taken by Turkish pirates in the Straights, and lost his wages, apparel and adventure; that he has a wife and 4 children, the eldest sick. Pp. 239b-240a.

1621, May 26. Petition by the Master, etc., of the Trinity House to the Privy Council. They have received the collection for the £1,000 per annum, according to the rates presented to the Council, and mentioned in their letter of July 7, 1620 to the Custom House, towards the charge of the ships at sea against the Turkish pirates. But one Ralph Freeman, a merchant of London, who lately farmed the killing of whales in Greenland and on those northern coasts, has set forth 8 ships for the same voyage and refuses to pay the imposition. They pray that the Council will call Freeman so that he may be subject to the rate. P. 240b.

1621, August 1. A note of the particular losses sustained by John Links of Limehouse, mariner, in several voyages at sea, in 1563 coming from Newfoundland, etc. Certificate that the above is true, his losses amount to £795, and he and his old wife are in distress. P. 240b.

1625, January 3. Certificate by Thomas Gataker, parson of Redriffe, and others, that Michael Fletcher, husband to the bearer, was on his return from New England, not many leagues from Plymouth, taken prisoner by a Sallee man-of-war, and taken to Sallee and kept prisoner. He has lost all; the ransom demanded is £300. P. 242a.

1630, last of September. Council letter to the bailiffs and aldermen of Yarmouth that herrings, pilchards and Newfoundland fish are to be exported only in English bottoms. P. 246a.

1630, Sept. 29. Council Order to the same effect. Other letters about the matter. P. 246a.

1631, November 4. Council Order that the inhabitants of the Western parts shall have license hac vice to sell their Newfoundland fish and pilchards to strangers, to be carried away by them in their own vessels. P. 246b.

1632, November 3. Calculations of the charges of a ship of 250 tons for a voyage of seven months, victualled and manned with 70 men, for fetching home 100 soldiers from the fort of Rebeck (sic) in the river of Canada. P. 246b.

1614, October 17. The Master, etc., of the Trinity House to the Privy Council. Beginning of a petition about the restraint of the exportation of herrings from Yarmouth and pilchards from Newfoundland. P. 246b.

1631, November 4. Council Order. License hac vice for the inhabitants of the Western parts using the fishing of Newfoundland to sell their Newfoundland fish and pilchards to strangers to be carried away in their own vessels.

Petition by the Master, etc., of the Trinity House to the Earl of Portland, Lord High Treasurer, against foreign ships taking off the fish.

The same to the Privy Council; on the same business.

The same to Lord Cottington; on the same business. P. 247a.

1650, September 13. Council of Trade. What convoy is necessary for the Southern and Levant trades, and what commodities are most fit to be exported and imported in English bottoms only, to be taken into consideration Friday, September 20. The Trinity House to have notice and be desired to attend the Council. P. 247a.

1650, September 20. Committee of Trade. The Masters of the Trinity House are desired to draw up something to offer to this Council about what goods are fit to be exported and imported only on English bottoms. Report thereon by the committee appointed by Parliament for the affairs of the Trinity House. P. 247a.

1633, November 13. Star Chamber. Order, on the petition of the Masters, etc., of the Trinity House, against exporting herrings, pilchards and Newfoundland fish and all other native commodities by stranger shipping. They refer the matter to the Lord Privy Seal, the Earl of Dorset, Lord Cottington, Mr. Treasurer, Mr. Comptroller, Secretary Cooke and Secretary Windebank.

The Master, etc., of the Trinity House to the Council Board. Report by them of the tonnage and costs of ships employed in fishing.

Sir John Wolstenholme's narration to the Council Board concerning the fishing. P. 247a.

1652, May 24. H. Vane, President of the Council, to the [Trinity House]. They have ordered 30 ships and men to be imprested. Tells the Trinity House to direct the 10 ships in the river ready to sail for Newfoundland to go to the Downs and join the General of the Fleet, in order to do the state service, in which case they shall be satisfied for the time they are employed. P. 248a.

1673, October 9. The Trinity House to [the Commissioners of the Admiralty]. They think that at present there is no want of shipping to manage a trade to the northward, the Straits, East Indies, West Indies, etc.; and if so, it will be prejudicial to our navigation to buy or make free any foreign-built ships. P. 255b.

1680, December 28. Letters about the Golden Lyon, a Virginia ship, having been cast away on Scilly; Mr. Hoskins, the keeper of the light, was inattentive to it, and had plundered some of the goods of the ship. P. 257b.

1715, March 6. Petition of Thomas Coram read, proposing a new settlement in some uninhabited part of N. America, and praying a certificate from the corporation of his being well affected to his Majesty and the government, and of his skill in naval affairs, which was ordered to be given under the seal of the corporation, Thomas Coram being a younger brother. P. 260b.

GUILDHALL.

King Street, E. C.

The Archives of the City of London are for the most part in the custody of the town clerk, but records are preserved in the several departments of other officers of the corporation, e. g., the city chamberlain, the comptroller, remembrancer, etc., while copies of many original MSS. preserved in the Public Record Office and elsewhere and bearing upon the city's history are also preserved in the Guildhall Library. Application for permission to search the city's records should in the first instance be made in writing to the Town Clerk, Guildhall, E. C. Since it is necessary for the Court of Common Council and the Library Committee to consider such applications, they should be made some time in advance. The applicant may be summoned before the Library Committee to explain the object of his search. The permission expires with the end of the legal year.

CORPORATION RECORDS.

The corporation records are accessible to authorized searchers from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. except on Saturdays. They contain two principal series of records that include documents relating to American affairs: 1. the Journal of the Common Council; 2. the Common Hall Books, or minutes of the meetings of the mayor, aldermen and liverymen of the several companies of the city of London. Since it was not practicable to examine these numerous MS. volumes page by page, the following list was compiled from the indexes to the volumes and from the references in the valuable work of Dr. R. R. Sharpe, London and the Kingdom (3 vols., Longmans, 1894-1895). Many of the addresses noticed below are printed in a work entitled Addresses, Remonstrances, and Petitions to the Throne, presented from the Court of Aldermen, The Court of Common Council, and the Livery in Common Hall assembled: Commencing the 28th October, 1760, with the answers thereto. (Privately printed. London, 1865.) This is referred to below as Addresses.

The few references given below to the letters embraced in the collection of correspondence known as Remembrancia are drawn from the Analytical Index to the Series of Records known as the Remembrancia, preserved among the Archives of the City of London. A. D. 1579-1664. Prepared by the authority of the Corporation of London, under the superintendence of the Library Committee, London, 1878.

5. 8. Letter from the king to Sir Thomas Smyth, concerning idle persons to be sent to Virginia. January 13, 1618 [1619].

9. Letter from Sir Thomas Smyth to the lord mayor, concerning same. January 18, 1618 [1619].

56. Letter from the company for Virginia to the lord mayor, concerning shipment of children to Virginia. February, 1619 [1620].

9. 5. Letter from the Lords of the Council to the lord mayor and aldermen, desiring that the Court of Aldermen should give notice to the Greenland Company, the Incorporated Traders for the West India Plantations, and other trading companies to present the names of four of the most active members of their body from whom the king would select two to act with merchants and some of the members of the Privy Council as a committee to advise regarding foreign trade, and the clauses relating to the same to be inserted in treaties. August 17, 1660.

The Repertories recording the proceedings of the Court of Aldermen contain but few American documents.

60. f. 238. Contributions enjoined for the propagation of the Gospel in New England.

61. ff. 75b. et seq. Precepts to issue for a contribution for the advance of the Gospel in New England.

The Letter Books, which extend from the latter part of the thirteenth century almost to the close of the reign of James II., contain very few items that are not also recorded either in the Journals or the Repertories according as they fall under the cognizance of the Court of Common Council or the Court of Aldermen. Attention may be called to an important petition from Plymouth to Parliament regarding the injurious effect of Dutch competition on western trade, begging Parliament to continue the ordinance of November 30, 1643, and to repeal so much of the ordinance of August 30, 1643, as concerned free trade contrary to that of November 30. 22, ff. 147-147b.

GUILDHALL LIBRARY.

The MSS. preserved in the archives of the Library are accessible to historical investigators without application in advance. They must be inspected in the Library which is open from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m. every week-day (Saturdays, 10 a. m. to 6 p. m.). The documents are indexed in three manuscript volumes.

The only MSS. of interest found in the Library archives were some accounts, together with warrants and letters addressed to the chamberlain of London, relative to the disbursement of various sums for the use of the Vaudois, French refugees and Palatines designing to settle in his Majesty's plantations. See MSS. 279, 281, 282, 346 and 352.

Among the rare printed books in the Library is a complete file of "The Old Bailey Sessions Paper" or "Proceedings" at quarter sessions for the city of London and county of Middlesex from 1730 to 1834, with a few numbers of earlier date. The names of persons sentenced to be transported are given at the end of each number.

WESTMINSTER GUILDHALL OR SESSIONS HOUSE.

BROAD SANCTUARY, S. W.

The Middlesex County Records, formerly stored at the Sessions House, Clerkenwell, but removed to the Guildhall, Westminster, in consequence of changes in local government affairs resulting from the Act of 1888, may be consulted by historical investigators. Application for permission to examine these documents should be made to the Clerk of the Peace. Office hours are from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m. and 2 p. m. to 4 p. m., except on Saturdays. Appointment should be made in advance.

These records, which date from the reign of Edward VI. and come down to the present time, are very numerous, comprising upwards of 10,000 volumes and nearly 5,000 rolls, admirably housed in specially constructed rooms. They contain incidental references to the American colonies, of which the most important appear to be those relating to the "spiriting away" of persons to the plantations and the transportation thither of criminals and offenders, political and other.

The chief classes of documents are the Sessions Rolls and Sessions Books and Registers. The Sessions Rolls, of which the principal classes are the Newgate Gaol Delivery Rolls and the General Session of Peace Rolls, consist of indictments, recognizances and other documents, such as coroners' inquests, lists of jurors, etc. They include documents pertaining to the proceedings connected both with the trial of offences, generally of a minor character, at the sessions of the justices of the peace for the county of Middlesex, and with the trial of criminal cases before the judges at the Old Bailey, whose jurisdiction extended over the county of Middlesex as well as over the city of London. Only a few of the MS. bundles have been calendared. The substance of many of the entries in the rolls from 1549 to 1688 inclusive, as well as in other records of the same period, is given in the publications of the now defunct Middlesex County Record Society, entitled Middlesex County Records, edited by J. C. Jeaffreson (4 vols., 1887-1892). Copies of these volumes are purchasable at the Guildhall.

The Sessions Books (1625-1759) and Registers (1608-1660) contain the orders of the court, on indictments, etc., recorded on the Sessions Rolls, and also orders as to vagrants, the rate of wages and a great variety of other subjects throwing light on local economic and social conditions. The books also contain lists of persons in the New Prison and House of Correction; lists of justices, etc. The sentences passed upon prisoners afford an illustration of the working of the various laws of the country. Mr. W. J. Hardy, F. S. A., has nearly completed a comprehensive MS. calendar of the entire series of Sessions Books and Registers, a volume of which, entitled Middlesex County Records. Calendar of the Sessions Books 1689 to 1709, has been published (1905) under the supervision of the Standing Joint Committee of the Court of Quarter Sessions and County Council for the county of Middlesex and may also be purchased at the Guildhall.

THE CENTRAL CRIMINAL COURT OR "OLD BAILEY".

OLD BAILEY, E. C.

The court records have been destroyed up to about 1840, except a few bundles of indictments of earlier date. All depositions are lost. The indexes to the old records have been preserved and are alphabetically arranged lists of the names of persons indicted, whether convicted or not. Following the personal name is the name of the offense charged, and the year when the indictment was made.

Any one desiring to examine the indexes should apply to the clerk of the court, at whose convenience they may be inspected.

LAMBETH PALACE LIBRARY.

WESTMINSTER, S. W.

The Library is open to the public on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. (May to July inclusive, 10 to 4:30) and during the forenoon on Tuesdays; except that it is closed during the week commencing with Easter Day, for seven days from Christmas Day and for six weeks from the end of August. Extracts from the MSS. may be made freely, but in case of a transcript being desired of a whole MS. the consent of the Archbishop must be previously obtained. No introductions are required.

The Library of the London residence of the Archbishop of Canterbury contains some 2500 volumes of MSS., to which a guide is furnished in the Catalogue of the Archiepiscopal Manuscripts in the Library at Lambeth Palace. With an Account of the Archiepiscopal Registers and other Records there preserved, by Archdeacon H. J. Todd (London, 1812). Only one hundred copies of the catalogue were printed, of which one is accessible on the reference shelves of the Reading Room of the British Museum (press-mark, 2050. g.). The Registers, 1279-1828, contain consecrations of archbishops and bishops, institutions to livings, official visitations of the diocese, consecrations of private chapels, licenses to preach, and many other particulars; but only the later registers contain references to America, beginning with the register of Archbishop Moore, 1783-1805, which contains the consecration of Bishops White and Provoost, February 4, 1787, in Lambeth Palace Chapel. Succeeding consecrations follow, both to American and Canadian sees.

The Act Book, 1663-1828, contains occasional references to consecrations to American sees, and ordinations to American livings. Each volume is indexed.

A considerable number of the Lambeth manuscripts bearing upon the history of the Church of England in America, were transcribed by Dr. Francis L. Hawks, historiographer of the American Episcopal Church, during his visit to England in 1836. These copies together with other transcripts made by Dr. Hawks from the Fulham archives and from the archives of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts, form eighteen folio manuscript volumes, which are preserved in the Church Mission House, 281 Fourth Avenue, New York City. Some of these transcripts have been printed in Doctors Hawks and Perry's Documentary History of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America, containing numerous hitherto unpublished Documents concerning the Church in Connecticut (2 vols.), and in Bishop Perry's Historical Collections relating to the American Colonial Church (4 vols.), treating of the colonies of Virginia, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Maryland and Delaware.

In the following list the descriptions of those documents that have been identified as the originals of the Hawks transcripts are followed by (H.), except in the case of those printed in Bishop Perry's Collections, the descriptions of which are followed by (P.), and in the case of a few which are noted as printed in Hawks and Perry's Connecticut. The identifications are doubtless very incomplete, since in a number of cases the data available to the compiler with respect to either the originals or the transcripts were not sufficient to establish with certainty their identity.

1124. Three volumes of MS. Journals of the S. P. G., 1758-1766, containing full abstracts of letters from the Society's missionaries in America and elsewhere.

FULHAM PALACE.

FULHAM ROAD, S. W.

Documents may be examined by appointment either at the Palace, where they are regularly deposited, or on occasion, at London House, 32 St. James's Square. It is generally necessary to make appointments some time in advance. Satisfactory introductions must be presented.

The archives of the Bishop of London, who was substantially the diocesan head of the Episcopal church in America during the colonial period, contain over two thousand letters and miscellaneous papers relating to the thirteen colonies, mostly from leading members of the Church of England in this country to the Bishop of London and treating of religious affairs. A considerable proportion of these documents were transcribed by Dr. Hawks (cf. above p. 286), and are thus accessible either in print in the works of Bishop Perry and Dr. Hawks or in MS. in the Church Mission House, New York. In the following list, (P.) indicates that a document has been printed in Bishop Perry's Collections; (H.), that it is among the Hawks MSS., and has not been identified with any in the printed Collections. Many documents have also been recently published in a volume entitled The Early English Colonies (London, Stock), a summary of the lecture delivered by the Bishop of London at Richmond, Virginia, October 4, 1907, with additional notes transcribed by the Rev. Sadler Phillips. This book also contains (pp. 45-48) the Parliamentarian commission appointing William Coddington governor of Rhode Island, April 3, 1651, of which the original was preserved at Fulham until the Bishop's visit to America in 1907, when it was presented by him to President Roosevelt. Some of the documents printed in this volume, especially those relating to the West Indies, are not listed as separate items in the following pages.

The manuscripts are uncatalogued and are kept loose in some thirty pasteboard boxes. They are therefore subject to rearrangement; and indeed within the last few months many documents have been transferred from one box to another.

The boxes containing the more important documents bear the following labels: New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Rhode Island; Massachusetts, two boxes; Connecticut; Pennsylvania; Maryland; Virginia, two boxes; North and South Carolina and Georgia; South Carolina; Papers collected .... 1907; S. P. G. Missions to American churches and West Indian Islands; Letters about colonial churches; Papers concerning colonial history. The papers kept in these boxes are listed in detail below, under headings corresponding to the labels on the boxes, and a bundle of "Odd papers from London House" is also listed. It has not seemed necessary to notice in the same way the contents of the other boxes, labelled: Applications for work, colonies; Applications for licenses, colonies (containing about a dozen papers); Applications for ordination, colonies; Missionary bonds, two boxes (the bonds given by missionaries of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts, before going to the colonies); Colonial letters of orders, 1748-1783, nine small boxes; Queries to American clergy (printed forms, mostly relating to Maryland; one relating to Stratford, Connecticut; all that are dated are of the year 1724); West Indies; Central and South America, Cuba and Falkland Islands, papers dating from the nineteenth century, among them three or four letters relating to Cuba, dated 1873-1874, of which the most important treats of spiritual conditions in the island.

A number of the papers transcribed by Dr. Hawks were not found.

COMPANY FOR THE PROPAGATION OF THE GOSPEL IN NEW ENGLAND.

1 Hatton Garden, Holborn, E. C.

An act establishing "A Corporation for the Promoting and Propagating the Gospel of Jesus Christ in New England" was passed by the Long Parliament on July 27, 1649. After the Restoration, in 1662, the corporation was revived under the name of "The Company for the Propagation of the Gospel in New England and the parts adjacent in America". The company carried on its work in New England until the Revolution, after which its operations were continued in British America. A volume entitled Some Correspondence between the Governors and Treasurers of the New England Company in London and the Commissioners of the United Colonies in America, The Missionaries of the Company and Others between the Years 1657 and 1712, to which are added the Journals of the Rev. Experience Mayhew in 1713 and 1714 (London, Spottiswoode, 1896), edited by John W. Ford, governor of the Company, contains "the few remaining relics of the correspondence which passed between the Company at home and their representatives in . . . . America". The volume includes letters from the Commissioners of the United Colonies, who were the agents for dispensing in America the funds received by the Company in England, September 26, 1658, September 13, 1665, September 10, 1668, September 8, 1669, postscript, October 22, 1669, September 8, 1670, September 5, 1678, December 26, 1679, May 29, 1682, March 1, 1683/4; from John Cotton, September 7, 1671; from Commissioner Joseph Dudley, November 15, 1710; from John Eliot, October 8, 1657, September 6, 1669, November 30, 1670, September 4, 1671, December 1, 1671 (2), December 17, 1675, June 17, 1681; from the President of Harvard College, October 2, 1664, October 27, 1669; from Indians at Natick, Massachusetts, to John Eliot, March 19, 1683/4; from Cotton Mather, January 30, 1709/10, November 9, 1710; from Increase Mather, Cotton Mather and Nehemiah Walker, March 2, 1705; from Increase Mather, January 20, 1697, July 20, 1698; from Thomas Mayhew, August 23, 1671; from Commissioner William Stoughton, April 14, 1693; from the Company, September 26, 1684; from the governor of the Company, 1664, June 4, 1668, April 28, 1669, October 13, 1682, January 15, 1711/12, January 31, 1711/12.

A few papers relating to the early history of the Society are in the Bodleian Library, Rawlinson, C. 934.

SOCIETY FOR PROMOTING CHRISTIAN KNOWLEDGE.

NORTHUMBERLAND AVENUE, CHARING CROSS, W. C.

The archives may be inspected with the permission and at the convenience of the Secretaries.

The S. P. C. K., founded in 1698, carried on educational and missionary work in the plantations, up to the autumn of 1701 when the newly-founded Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts took over the care of the colonies. Even after 1701, however, the S. P. C. K. made some grants of books, corresponded with residents of the colonies, and extended to the plantations occasional aid of other kinds.

By 1711, charity schools were founded in New England and New York; church libraries were established, and negroes taught. Beginning with March, 1731, considerable sums of money were raised for the Protestant exiles from Salzburg who were helped to emigrate to Georgia, provided with missionaries and a schoolmaster and otherwise cared for.

The details of the Society's work in the colonies may be gathered from the MS. records preserved in the Society's archives, consisting of the minute books; books containing "Abstracts of Correspondents' Letters"; and copies of outward letters. The originals of letters received have not been preserved.

The minutes of the Society from March 8, 1699, till June 1, 1704; and the "Abstracts of Correspondents' Letters" from November 22, 1699, till November, 1701, have been printed in a volume entitled A Chapter in English Church History: being the Minutes of the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge for the years 1698-1704 together with Abstracts of Correspondents' Letters during part of the same Period, edited by the Rev. Edmund McClure, M. A. and published by the S. P. C. K. In this work are printed abstracts of two letters from Mr. Elias Neau of New York, dated June 3, and June 13, 1701.

Other letters from the American continent preserved in the volumes of abstracts, but not printed in the above-mentioned book, are from Mr. Evan Evans, dated Philadelphia, 1709, praying for encouragement for a school in those parts, and from John Emerson, dated Ipswich in New England, January 7, 1713, stating that he had received a packet of books and should be grateful for more of the same kind. There are also several letters from Jamaica.

While A Chapter in English Church History thus contains the full text of the principal records of the Society during the early years when it was most concerned with the colonies, a volume by W. O. B. Allen and Edmund McClure, entitled Two Hundred Years: The History of the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge, 1698-1898, published by the S. P. C. K. in 1898, contains not only some of the documents printed in the earlier book, but an account of the later history of the Society and also the text of a considerable number of letters written by the Secretary of the Society to Gov. Nicholson of Virginia, Elias Neau of New York, Gov. Shute, Col. Drysdale, lieutenant-governor of Virginia, Hon. Paul Dudley, Rev. Dr. Colman of Boston, Cotton Mather, and other prominent New Englanders.

SOCIETY FOR THE PROPAGATION OF THE GOSPEL IN FOREIGN PARTS.

TUFTON STREET, CORNER OF WOOD STREET, WESTMINSTER, S. W.

Office hours are from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m., Saturdays till 2 p. m. It is required that the searcher present an introduction satisfactory to the Secretary, with whom arrangements for consulting MSS. should be made in advance.

The Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts was founded in 1701. Its archives contain great numbers of documents that throw light on the religious, social, and to some extent on the economic history of the American colonies—the chief field of the Society's missionary activity in the eighteenth century. The nature of these records may be learned from the Hawks transcripts in the Church Mission House, 281 Fourth Ave., New York City, some of which have been printed in Doctors Hawks and Perry's Documentary History of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America, containing numerous hitherto unpublished Documents concerning the Church in Connecticut, two volumes; in Bishop Perry's Historical Colections relating to the American Colonial Church, four volumes, treating of the colonies of Virginia, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Maryland, and Delaware; or from Mr. C. F. Pascoe's admirable book, Two Hundred Years of the S. P. G., 1701-1900, published at the Society's office, 1901.

The MSS. are in bound volumes or unbound in boxes. The bound volumes, which are, at present, alone accessible, consist of the following classes of records:

I. Letters and reports of missionaries and other correspondents.

"A" MSS., volumes 1-26, are contemporary copies of letters received, in general covering the period from 1701 to 1736, though a few documents of the seventeenth century are included.

"B" MSS. are originals of letters received from 1701 to 1786 (with a few papers of later date) together with originals of some of the "A" MSS., and a few miscellaneous documents, including (B., vol. 1) papers relating to the English Church in the colonies, lists of books sent to missionaries in America, some papers of Gov. Nicholson's, a memorial relating to "certain lands [in New York] to the amount of many thousand acres . . . . purchased [by Joseph Totten, Ebenezer Jessup, and others] of the native Indians on the 29 and 31 days of July 1772", and intended to be granted for the benefit of the Society (no. 268); a rough sketch map of New England with note as to towns which support their own ministers (no. 276); a copy of Gov. Hunter's commission, dated 19 October, 8 Anne (no. 280); (B., vol. 5) North and South Carolina, 1756-1781, a copy of Col. Barnwell's Journal relating to his proceedings at Alatamaha to July 21, 1721; and others printed or transcribed in the collections noted above.

Volumes 1-5 contain letters relating to New England, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, the Carolinas, Georgia and Nova Scotia from 1702 to 1799; volume 6 relates to the West Indies, Newfoundland, Nova Scotia, and Pennsylvania, 1721-1786. The documents in these six volumes are generally referred to in the Hawks transcripts as "unbound letters". Volumes 7-20, all but two of which bear the title "New England, etc.", contain MSS. relating to North America from Newfoundland to the West Indies. Dating from 1738 to 1752, they cover the greater part of the period when Mr. Bearcroft was secretary of the Society and are sometimes referred to as the "Bearcroft MSS."

Volumes 21-25 contain letters relating to Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Connecticut, New Jersey, and Nova Scotia from 1756 to 1786.

The scarcity of papers relating to Virginia and Maryland is explained by the fact that since the Church of England was established in these colonies they received little assistance from the Society.

Of the documents contained in the above-mentioned series between one-third and one-half are represented among the Hawks transcripts, either in whole or in part. A comparison of the transcripts with the originals shows that in some cases the "transcript" is really a translation, e. g., the letters of Mr. Neau (of New York), of which the originals are in French; and that where only extracts are transcribed, the omitted portions generally refer to personal matters, as missionaries' salaries, etc.

II. The MS. Journals of the Proceedings of the Society and its Committees, 1701 ff., which contain very full abstracts of letters received.

III. Account Books, containing information as to payments to missionaries, etc.

Besides these bound MSS. there are many large boxes of unbound letters, many of which relate to America, in particular to the years 1752-1756. Now that the Society is installed in its new building it is intended to classify and render accessible this great mass of documentary material.

MANUSCRIPTS OF DR. BRAY'S ASSOCIATES.

The MSS. of the Association are preserved in the building of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts in the custody of the Secretary of the Association, by whose permission they may be inspected.

The objects of this Association are the establishing of clerical libraries and the administering of a trust for the support of negro schools. The former work is a continuation of that of Dr. Bray, who in 1695 began to collect funds for supplying libraries to the clergy of the plantations and later was active in the founding of parochial libraries in England and Wales. The nucleus of the trust for the support of negro schools was a sum of money given to Dr. Bray by M. Abel Tassin, Sieur d'Allone, Secretary to the King, to be applied to the instruction of negroes. In 1723 Dr. Bray nominated certain trustees who in 1733 were distinguished by the name of Dr. Bray's Associates. From the interest of this fund a catechist to teach the negroes in Georgia was supported for several years. Since 1760, the Associates have established schools in Nova Scotia and the Bahamas. The minutes of the Society contain many references to the instruction of negroes in Georgia and in Carolina.

ARCHIVES OF THE ROMAN CATHOLIC DIOCESE OF WESTMINSTER.

Before 1784, America was nominally in the "London District" and under the London Vicar Apostolic. The archives of the Vicars Apostolic, which since 1850 have been in the custody of their successors, the Archbishops of Westminster, are temporarily deposited in the Oratory, Brompton, South Kensington, but are soon to be transferred to the Archbishop's House in Westminster. Permission to examine the MSS. must be obtained from the Archbishop of Westminster, but will be granted to persons properly introduced who wish to use the archives for purposes of legitimate investigation.

During portions of the period before 1784 the affairs of the Church in England were in the hands of the body called the Old Clergy Chapter rather than in those of a vicar-general; and it might therefore be expected that American papers would be found in the archives of the Old Clergy Brotherhood, the present representative of that body. We are however assured by the Rev. Raymund Stanfield, who has an intimate knowledge of the archives of the Brotherhood, that they contain but one American document—a letter[1] from the Vicar-General in London to Bishop Smith in Paris, dated July 21, 1642, about Lord Baltimore's request for the secular clergy to send some secular priests out to Maryland.

The documents at Westminster dating from 1509 to 1700 are bound in thirty-seven volumes, to which there is a manuscript index. Later documents are arranged chronologically in bundles and are unindexed. Since many of the proceedings referred to in the eighteenth-century manuscripts were illegal (Roman Catholic priests being then under the ban of the law) persons' names are often indicated by initials, and many of the papers are unsigned and undated.

The following documents are, it is presumed, all that relate to American history before 1783.

1633, February 10. (Vol. XXVII., no. 8, p. 21). A declaration of the Lord Baltemore's Plantation in Mary-land, nigh upon Virginia: manifesting the Nature, Quality, Condition, and rich Utilities it contayneth.

1633 c [?] (Vol. XXVII., no. 10, p. 31). Draft of a memorial to the Pope about the mission in Maryland. Undated.

1641. (Vol. XXX., no. 28, pp. 87-89). Case of conscience on the Indian lands.

(Printed in Hughes's Society of Jesus in North America, I. 570-573.)

1669, December 14. (Vol. XXXIII., pp. 350-351). Report to Rome regarding Lord Baltimore's complaints about the want of missionaries in Maryland.

(Printed in Hughes's Society of Jesus in North America, II. 197-198.)

[1] Printed in Hughes's History of the Society of Jesus in North America, II. 186-190.

1685 c. (Vol. XXXIV., no. 267, p. 1037). Faculties granted to the Church for Jamaica. Undated.

1687, November 13. (Vol. XXXV., no. 65, p. 437). Faculties granted by Bishop Leyburn to Thomas Churchill, whom he appoints superior of the mission of Jamaica.

1741-1745. Letter from Gen. Francis Retz to Charles Shireburn, [Provincial], May 23, 1744, referring to the proposed allotment of the Talbot money to Penn.

(Extract printed in Hughes's Society of Jesus in North America, II. 93.)

1756-1758. Account in Italian of the English mission, given in by Abbé Nicolini to Benedict XIV., containing a brief reference to Maryland and the Lords Baltimore.

1762, January. "Funds belonging to the L. District."

(Sir I. I. left 4000*ll* in my hands, principally for Missioners of the Society in Pensilvania.[2])

1763, July 9. Letter from the Propaganda to the Vicar Apostolic, re the mission of the ceded provinces in America.

1764, December 24. Letter from the Propaganda to the Vicar Apostolic about jurisdiction over the recently ceded provinces in America.

1770, December 19. A Pastoral Letter addressed to the Catholicks of the British Islands in the West Indies. Printed.

[1776-1780.] Note as to several missioners in the West Indies.

1782, October 12. Letter from John Mullowny and others addressed to Rt. Rev. Father, dated, Halifax, Nova Scotia, asking for a spiritual pastor and a donation to enable them to erect a building for public worship, and mentioning enclosed papers.

[1782.] Extract of Proceedings respecting Roman Catholics of the Province of Nova Scotia.

1784, January 18. Letter from John Thayer of Boston, addresed to "Most Rev'd Sir", dated Paris, giving an account of his conversion to Roman Catholicism and stating that he is soon to return to New England, to become a missioner among his friends and asking for a gift of books "adapted to remove prejudices and promote the great work".

1784, June 19. From the Propaganda to the London Vicar Apostolic, announcing the appointment of John Carroll as superior of the mission in the thirteen Federated States of North America.

1791, March 13. Letter from Bishop of Baltimore to Vicar Apostolic. Dated, Baltimore.[1]

The book of Monsignor Christopher Stonor, English agent at Rome for the Vicars-Apostolic from 1748 to 1790, contains copies of documents that passed through his hands. This book, which is the property of the Roman Catholic Bishop of Southwark, was not in London when our search in Catholic archives was in progress. It contains a copy of a manuscript in the archives of the Propaganda, written in 1764, in Italian, and entitled "Ragguaglio dello Stato della Religione Cattolica nelle Colonie Inglesi d'America", of which an English translation has been printed in the United States Catholic Historical Magazine for 1888, pp. 206-212; and several letters from Bishop Challoner to Stonor, most of which are printed in whole or in part (in translation) in American Catholic Historical Researches, volumes XII. and XIII. Several of them are also to be found among the transcripts at Georgetown University, Washington, D. C.

ENGLISH PROVINCE ARCHIVES S. J.

114 Mount Street, W.

The older records of the English Province are preserved in the archives of the Jesuit college at Stonyhurst, near Blackburn, in Lancashire. Those here described,[1] which are still kept separate from the Stonyhurst MSS., are a large collection of bound and unbound documents, papers, note-books, besides a valuable set of English procurators' ledgers and waste-books, dating from 1730. They include much information about Fathers in America, and about the young Americans of both sexes, who flocked to the colleges and convents in Belgium and France. This occurred especially between 1747 and 1769. The money accounts, too, of Maryland and Pennsylvania with the parent Province appear from 1731 till 1818. Here may be seen a fair portion of Carroll's correspondence with Father Charles Plowden; the remainder, now found in the Maryland Province Archives, evidently formed part of this series. Portfolio 6, now a bound volume, entitled Maryland, consisting of ff. 137, with other documents inserted, contains letters or papers of John Carroll (thirty-three in number, from January 23, 1772, to October 15, 1815); Leonard Neale, Charles Sewall, Grassi, Kohlmann, Grivel, Christian Mayer (Mannheim, April 24, 1778), John Ashton, W. Strickland, Ambrose Maréchal, Austin Hill (Cincinnati, April 12, 1825). The correspondents are Ellerker (Liège), Charles Plowden, Nicholas Sewall, Strickland, Stone, Peter Jenkins, Korsak, Tristram, and Lord Arundell of Wardour. There is a set of extracts made in Rome by Father John Thorpe, from letters of the Provincials, etc., and affording us points of information on America from 1713 to 1759. There is also much correspondence belonging to the nineteenth century—Grassi's, Kohlmann's, Bishop Milner's, etc.

DR. WILLIAMS'S LIBRARY.

GORDON SQUARE, W. C.

Open from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.; Saturdays, 10 a. m. to 1 p. m. Closed throughout August.

Introductions from someone occupying an official or responsible position easily verifiable by the Librarian are required.

This library, primarily theological but including many historical and other works, originated in a bequest of Dr. Daniel Williams (1643[?]-1716), a Presbyterian clergyman of London, and a friend of the celebrated Rev. Richard Baxter (1615-1691), whose MSS. are preserved in the library. The Baxter MSS. are classified as "Letters" in six folio volumes; "Treatises" in seven volumes, and under other headings. The two most important classes of these MSS., the "Letters" and "Treatises", contain the Americana noted below.

Among the "Treatises" are several papers relating to disputes between Penn and Baxter: vol. II., no. 41, ff. 232-243b; vol. V. 59-188, ff. 324-327b; vol. VI. 192; 21-215, ff. 329-337b. See also VII. 27-221. A paper by Increase Mather, dated 1690, is in "Treatises", VII. 26-220.

The arrangement of the letters in the bound volumes is so unsystematic that they are rearranged in the following list in the alphabetical order of the writers' names. The Penn-Baxter correspondence is printed in the Monthly Repository of Theology and General Literature, vol. XVIII. (1823), pp. 137-140, and 193-198. Baxter's last letter to Increase Mather, August 3, 1691, printed in Samuel Palmer's Nonconformist's Memorial, III. 406, and in William Orme's Life and Times of Baxter, II. 442-443, does not appear in the collection, nor are any of Mather's father's letters to Baxter extant which are mentioned in the published letter.

The letters relating to America are as follows:

Richard Baxter to John Eliot, January 20, 1657, about Eliot's work among the Indians; his own occupations; and urging the New England ministers to promote union there. (III. ff. 9a-10b.)

Same to same, not dated or signed but referring back to the years 1658-1659, on his own work, especially the reformation at Kidderminster. (IV. ff. 6-7b, 8b.)

Same to same, Acton near London, March 27, 1668, acknowledging his "corrected copy" and two letters; and remarking on points of difference between himself and Eliot. (III. ff. 74-75b.)

Same to same, September 22, 1668, answering Eliot's letter of June 15, 1668, and treating of the appointment of ministers at large as distinct from those of particular congregations. (III. ff. 133a-134b.)

Same to same, September 2, 1671, answering Eliot's letter of June 21. (I. ff. 59ab-60b.)

Same to same, February 5, 1687, on Eliot's letter respecting preachers to infidel nations; and on his "Church-case of baptisme". (V. ff. 228-229b, and III. f. 147ab.)

Baxter's "Animadversions on Mr. Eliot's Booke for stated Councills", undated. (VI. ff. 183-184b.)

Baxter to Increase Mather, at Major Thompson's house at Newington, not dated or signed, thanking him for his two books; treating of apocalyptic subjects and commending his History of Prodigies. (I. ff. 217-218.)

Baxter to Penn, October 6, 1675, answering him severely, putting off an appointed meeting. (II. ff. 113-114.)

[Baxter to Penn?], not signed, dated, or directed, challenging to a disputation. (VI. f. 185.)

Baxter to John Woodbridge, Totteridge, February 3, 1670, answering his theological inquiries; saying that he "never wrote to any in New England but Mr. Elliott"; asking whether Eliot's "method of councills be yet communicated, and how it taketh." (II. ff. 237-239b.)

Same to same, undated, remarking on Woodbridge's second letter and on books sent herewith, including Dr. Castle's Polyglot Lexicon and the first of Mr. Poole's four volumes of The Criticks, both "directed to Mr. Broadstreet at Boston as my gift to your university library." (II. ff. 240-241.)

Ephraim Bendall to R. Baxter, Deale, January 20, 1674, stating that he is on his way to Barbadoes and New England. (IV. f. 60ab.)

Simon Bradstreete to Baxter, Andover, February 5, 1672, acknowledging his gift of Dr. Castle's Polyglot Lexicon and other books "to our University Library", as informed "by my cosen John Woodbridge"; and describing the state of religion in New England. (VI. ff. 18a-19b.)

John Bushell and others to Richard Butler, Barbadoes, April 3, 1666, referring to the sad news of the silencing of great numbers of eminent and laborious ministers; asking him "to enquire after some emmynent good Minister that May be persuaded to undertake a Voyage hither"; stating the necessary qualifications and mentioning Lord Willoughby's chaplain. (V. ff. 195ab-196b.)

John Eliot to Baxter, Roxbury, October 16, 1656, stating that he had received benefit from his Saint's Rest and requesting Baxter to "spend the rest of [his] life in writing practical meditations". (III. ff. 7a-8b.)

John Eliot to Baxter, Roxbury, October 7, 1657, on the subject of meditation and on the work of religion going on in New England. (II. ff. 274-275b.)

John Eliot to Baxter, Roxbury, December 10, 1667, answering Baxter's remarks upon Eliot's book The Communion of Churches, and treating of questions of church polity. (II. ff. 276-277.)

John Eliot to Baxter, Roxbury, January 22, 1668, sending a book with some corrections thereon and referring to his work among the Indians. (II. ff. 229a-230b.)

John Eliot to Baxter, Roxbury, June 15, 1668, discussing the points which he had brought "under present animadversion" about Eliot's ministerial office, etc. (VI. ff. 13ab-14b.)

John Eliot to Baxter, Roxbury, October 28, 1668, incorporating an answer given by him to a Congregational minister "touching the 7th chapter of my Communion of Churches" and mentioning his son's death. (I. ff. 55ab-56b.)

John Eliot to Baxter, Roxbury, June 26, 1669, answering Baxter's of September 22 and January, 1668; on ecclesiastical questions; the proceedings with Antipedobaptists; and the extent of country in which the Indian languages were known and the Bible was circulated. (III. ff. 131ab-132b.)

John Eliot to Baxter, Roxbury, June 27, 1671, about his own books and progress with the Indians, whose a-b-c Mr. Ashurst or Mr. Bell would present to Baxter. (III. ff. 264a-265b.)

John Eliot to Baxter, Roxbury, May 30, 1682, stating that he had improved and reprinted the Indian New Testament; asking him to intercede with the corporation for reprinting the Old Testament; and referring to Mr. Dudley "one of our pub. Agents." (V. ff. 83a-84b.)

Stephen Hickes to his "Deare brother", Bermudas, May 17, 1685, on personal and mercantile affairs. (VI. ff. 106ab-107b.)

Matthew Hill to Baxter, Maryland, Charles County, April 3, 1669, thanking him for having enabled him to settle in Maryland; briefly describing the religious state of the colony; and asking for books. (III. ff. 261ab-262b.)

Thomas Jackman to Baxter, Worcester, May 6, 1659, mentioning the burning of the chief town in the Barbadoes as a "Manifestation of divine displeasure . . . . for that Impious and Unchristian custome . . . . in prohibiting theyr slauevs and Negroes to be Instructed in the Fayth" and urging Baxter to admonish them. (VI. f. 131.)

Letter from a New England minister then in England [Increase Mather?], May 19, 1660, referring to former correspondence, describing for Baxter's information a monster born at Boston and mentioning Mrs. Diar, Mr. Cotton, and Mr. Wilson. (V. f. 128a.)

Commissioners of the United Colonies in New England to the Corporation for Propagating the Gospel amongst the Natives in New England, at Coopers' Hall, London, dated New Haven, September 10, 1660, on money affairs; on the state and progress of instruction and religion; mentioning Mr. Mayhew, Mr. Usher, Mr. Eliot, Mr. Wells, Mr. Greene, Mr. Johnson, and others; and referring to the arrangements for printing the whole Bible for the Indians. (V. ff. 206-207b.)

ff. 3-4. Names of 106 other prominent settlers in New England, with similar accounts of 13 of them.

CONGREGATIONAL LIBRARY.

MEMORIAL HALL, FARRINGDON ST., LUDGATE CIRCUS, E. C.

Open from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. Closed throughout August.
Introductions are not required for the inspection of MSS.

The only American MSS. preserved in this Library are a collection of sermons and letters (unbound) that formerly belonged to Dr. W. B. Sprague, the author of Annals of the American Pulpit, and were given by him to Jethro Wilson, who presented them to the Library.

They include notes of sermons in the handwriting of Rev. Timothy Edwards of East Windsor, father of President Edwards; shorthand notes of sermons in the handwriting of President Langdon, of Harvard College; autograph sermons of Samuel Philips, Rowley, 1683; Cotton Mather, Boston, 1701; William Williams, Hatfield, 1713; Solomon Stoddard, Northampton, undated; Elisha Williams, Yale College, 1725; Daniel Brewer, Springfield, 1706; John Rogers, Ipswich (?), 1692; Robert Breck, Springfield, 1740; Samuel Webster, Salisbury, 1751; John Hooker, Northampton, 1759; Thomas Clap, Yale College, 1761; Samuel Hopkins, Newport, undated.

The letters, arranged in the collection and in the following list according to the alphabetical order of the writers' names, are as follows:

From Susa[nna] Anthony to Rev. Samuel Hopkins, dated "Nd", August 9, 1775, on personal matters, but referring to the confusion into which the town was thrown on a preceding Sunday by the appearance of "ten sail—comeing as was thought into Nd."

From John Checkley to Rev. Dr. Grey, Boston, May 9, 1726, asking him to befriend his brother-in-law Mr. Ebenezer Miller, who is going to London, recommended to the Bishop and to the Honorable Society, and who may go to Oxford and Cambridge.

From Thomas Clap, President of Yale College, to Rev. Dr. Doddridge, New Haven, May 6, 1751.

From same, New Haven, December 5, 1763, on various matters relating to Yale College and on the prevailing hard times.

From Benjamin Colman to Rev. Elisha Williams, Rector of Yale College, Boston, November 20, 1730, relating to books for the college, "The Gift of the Honourable Samuel Holden of London, Governour of the Bank of England, by the Direction and Disposal of Benjamin Colman of Boston."

From Rev. W. Cooper to Rev. Mr. Williams, Boston, February 16, 1718/9, treating of church matters, practice of ordaining deacons, etc.

From J. Dana to Rev. Mr. Macclure, Boston, July 22, 1776, referring to supplying of New South pulpit, to arrival of a "fine prize boat" and two more carried into Salem.

Two letters from J. Davenport to Rev. Mr. Williams, Stamford, Conn., June 11, 1722 and December 30, 1723, on personal matters and referring to ordination day at Stratford.

From James Davenport to Rev. Stephen Williams, New Haven, May 30, 1733, relating to personal matters and to examinations recently held.

Paper signed by Jonathan Edwards and others, Westfield, February 17, 1742/3, relative to a case of conscience.

Letter from Gen. Thomas Gage to Col. Bradstreet, New York, December 4, 1763, on sending artificers to Capt. Loring for fitting out vessels "as affairs can't be too far advanced against the spring."

From Rev. Dr. Macclintock to Rev. David Macclure at Portsmouth, dated Greenland, N. H., December 25, 1773, congratulating him on his acceptable labors at Dover.

From Andrew Oliver to Rev. Stephen Williams, Boston, May 26, 1750, on "his service at Stockbridge" for which the Commissioners are grateful: says that the Commissioners desire to know the character of a certain candidate for Stockbridge.

Sir William Pepperrell to Rev. Stephen Williams, Boston, May 31, 1748, on personal matters.

From Rev. Dr. John Rodgers, New York, August 11, 1773, relating particularly to Elizabethtown and discussing the character and orthodoxy of certain persons.

From John Rogers to his brother, June, 1704, on personal matters.

From Jesse Root to Oliver Ellsworth, Philadelphia, November 1, 1779, concerning the Connecticut delegation to Congress; reported action between fleets of France and Spain and Great Britain; monthly requisitions of taxes from the States; and urging "noble exertions to save the Republic."

From J. Sergeant to Rev. Stephen Williams, Sheffield, November 28, 1735, treating of his own missionary work among the Indians.

From J. Sergeant to Rev. Stephen Williams, Stockbridge, July 24, 1741, concerning two women captives among the Indians—one the sister of the addressee.

From Joseph Sewall and Thomas Prince, pastors of the South Church in Boston, to the congregations at Dover Town and Duck Creek in Kent County on Delaware, Boston, April 27, 1749, recommending Rev. John Miller.

From Roger Sherman to Hon. O. Ellsworth, Philadelphia, September 4, 1781, referring to arrival of Col. John Lawrence from France and to his business there; states that "the French army passed through this city yesterday toward Virginia"; and that Congress had resolved to put the Navy under the direction of an agent.

From Mr. Nathan Strong, Yale College, June 2, 1768. "College is under very good circumstances at present. The Broils we had about the time of Vacancy are mostly subsided".

From same to Rev. Dr. Williams, East Hartford. Undated.

From Rev. Dr. Thacher to Rev. Thos. Prince, Providence, September 11, 1721, on religious conditions.

From George Washington to Capt. Belden at Fishkill, West-point, September 5, 1779, ordering him to join the Minister, who, probably in the company of Baron Steuben, was then journeying from Boston to Philadelphia.

From President John Wheelock of Dartmouth College, Hartford, January 10, 1782. Personal.

From Rev. Dr. Edward Wigglesworth, professor of divinity at Harvard College, to Rev. Stephen Williams, Cambridge, August 6, 1741, on a candidate for the church at Suffield.

Personal letters from various members of the Williams family: Warham Williams to his father Mr. Stephen Williams of Long Meadow, Northford, July 9, 1772; Rev. John Williams to Mr. Stephen Williams, student at Cambridge College, dated Deerfield, December 17, 1709; Rev. John Williams to Mr. Stephen Williams at Long Meadow, Springfield, dated February 1, 1719/20; Eleazar Williams to his brother Stephen Williams, August 17, 1730; Warham Williams to his brother Mr. Stephen Williams, Springfield, April 2, 1728; Rev. Wm. Williams to Stephen Williams, date illegible; Wm. Williams to Stephen Williams, May 15, 1728; Wm. Williams to his grandchildren, Hatfield, April 24, 1744; to Rev. Stephen Williams, Boston, May 31, 1748; Stephen Williams to his son Lieutenant Davenport Williams in Capt. Burt's company of Col. Wm. Williams's regiment, June 24, 1758; Rev. Dr. Williams to his sister Mrs. Elizabeth Smith in New York, July 27, 1765; same to same, August 9, 1755.

From Adam Winthrop to Rev. Stephen Williams, Boston, August 5, 1735, treating of various proceedings of the Commissioners. "Mr. Sergeant proposing it necessary he should be ordained, the Commissioners readily fall in with it and have determined . . . . to make the deeper impression on the minds of the Indians it shall be performed at Deerfield in presence of the governor and the numerous assembly that will be there."

From Oliver Wolcott to O. Ellsworth, dated Philadelphia (rest of date torn off), refers to his intention to return home, and mentions other members of the state delegation. States that "Congress are upon the subject of Finance."

FRIENDS' REFERENCE LIBRARY.

CENTRAL OFFICES OF THE SOCIETY OF FRIENDS, DEVONSHIRE HOUSE, 12 BISHOPSGATE WITHOUT, E. C.

The Library is open under certain restrictions to searchers from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. except on Saturdays when it closes at 1:30 p. m.

This Library has been accumulating its stores of Quaker literature in print and manuscript during more than two centuries, but only in recent years have the contents of the Library been catalogued and made readily available for purposes of research. They are now methodically arranged and well cared for, though much indexing still remains to be done.

The following general account of the various groups of MSS. containing American historical material is based on information kindly supplied by the librarian, Norman Penney, Esq. No attempt has been made to search this great mass of documents in order to examine all that relate to America. From the examples inspected it appears that, as is natural, the letters deal primarily with the progress of religious work, but they incidentally throw some light on other sides of colonial history.

Little of the material has been printed, although a few letters and other documents have appeared in the Journal of the Friends' Historical Society (Devonshire House) or in the publications of Friends in America.

The collections bearing upon American History are as follows:

1. London Yearly Meeting Minutes include reports made by English Friends of their travels or missionary labors in America, and some journals as, for example, those of Edmund Peckover in North America and Barbadoes and the Journal of Samuel Hopwood. Seventeen volumes cover the period from 1672 to 1783.

2. Epistles Received. In the five folio volumes containing epistles addressed to the London Yearly Meeting from 1683 to 1783, are letters dating from the continental colonies and also from some of the West Indies.

3. Miscellaneous MSS., portfolios 1-26, also contain American letters.

4. Letters to and from Philadelphia are contained in two MS. volumes of transcripts, beginning with the year 1757. The period ending with 1783 is covered by the first volume.

5. Swarthmore Letters. A collection of about 1000 letters written by Friends to Margaret Fell and others in the seventeenth century. Besides the originals there are transcripts of later date.

6. The MS. Journal of George Fox is in two large volumes, one of them containing letters from Fox's companions describing their travels in America. The MS. Journal has never been printed although it formed the basis of the printed journal; and the letters have probably never been printed. The volumes are known as the "Spence MSS." from their owner, Robert Spence, Esq., of London and North Shields, who has deposited them in the Friends' Reference Library.

7. A. R. B. (Abram Rawlinson Barclay) MSS. consist of some 250 letters dating from about 1650 to 1690, and addressed to George Fox, Margaret Fell and others from Maryland, Carolina and the Barbadoes. In this collection is a letter from Josiah Cole, giving an account of his voyage from Virginia to New England in 1658; and John Archdale's letter to George Fox, dated North Carolina 25th of 1st month, 1686, and describing the country. This has been printed.

8. The Gibson Bequest MSS., presented to the Library by the late George Stacey Gibson, were mostly collected by Thomas Thompson of Liverpool. They consist of five volumes of various kinds of original documents, and also a copy of the journal of Thomas Story, Master of the Rolls, to William Penn. Story corresponded much with James Logan and the collection contains original letters that passed between them. Some of these have been printed in modernized form in the Life of James Logan written by Wilson Armistead and published in London in 1851; all the correspondence will probably be printed by the Friends' Historical Society.

9. Letters not included in any of the collections:

1. Letter from William Robinson to George Fox, dated the Comon Goale in Boston, 12th of 5th mo. 1659.
2. Some letters of Penn both from England and America.

10. Wm. Penn's Tracts, vol. I., contains what is believed to be the only extant copy of the first printed utterance of the Philadelphia Yearly Meeting: A General Epistle given forth by the People of the Lord, called Quakers. Signed by William Penn. Printed at Philadelphia, Pa., 1686, by William Bradford.

11. Penn MSS. Two albums filled with a somewhat miscellaneous assortment of originals, transcripts, facsimiles, engravings and newspaper clippings, privately purchased and presented to the Meeting for Sufferings of London Yearly Meeting in 1892. The collection was formed and annotated by Philip Justice of Philadelphia, and in America was known as the "Justice MSS." A list of the several documents is given below.

LIST OF PENN MSS.[1]

I. 5. Bill of lading for fifty-two bushels of wheat shipped at Dover River (Kent) for the use of William Penn, at Philadelphia, July 12, 1704. (Printed in Journal of Friends' Historical Society, II. 76.)

THE ROYAL SOCIETY.

BURLINGTON HOUSE, PICCADILLY, W.

The archives of the Royal Society are accessible daily from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. except on Saturdays, when the offices are closed at 1 p. m. Application for permission to examine documents should be made to the Secretaries of the Society.

The archives contain many communications that throw light on the progress of the natural sciences in colonial America, on the intellectual interests and personal history of men of historical importance, on some natural phenomena of historical significance, and occasionally and in an incidental manner upon social history.[1] Indeed, until after the final establishment in 1769 of the American Philosophical Society held at Philadelphia for promoting Useful Knowledge, the Royal Society was the central scientific organization for the colonies. The leading American naturalists were enrolled as fellows and published the results of their observations and experiments in its Transactions. (Cf. G. B. Goode's "The Origin of the National Scientific and Educational Institutions of the United States" and "The Beginnings of Natural History in America", Annual Report of the Smithsonian Institution for 1897, Part II., pp. 265-406. The former paper is also in the Annual Report of the American Historical Association for 1889.)

Many important communications, which in the earlier period took the form of letters and later of essays or monographs, are published in the volumes of Philosophical Transactions, begun in 1665 by H. Oldenburg, the first secretary of the Society, as a periodical publication, continued by him to June, 1677, and afterwards edited by succeeding secretaries up to March, 1752, from which date the publication has been superintended by a committee of the Society. A General Index to the Philosophical Transactions from the first to the end of the seventieth volume (to 1781) was compiled by P. H. Maty and printed in 1787. Other communications, prior to 1688, together with the Journals (see below) from their commencement in 1660 to 1687, have been printed in Dr. Thomas Birch's History of the Royal Society (four volumes, unindexed, London, 1756-1757); and some additional papers and letters in C. R. Weld's A History of the Royal Society (two volumes, London, 1848). Clayton's Virginia and some other American papers are also in E. Halley's Miscellanea Curiosa (three volumes).

A great part of the contents of the Society's archives remains unpublished, but the mass and character of these MSS. rendered a complete examination impracticable. The present report is therefore confined to a general description of the various groups of documents; to a list of the American papers contained in a few of these groups; and to the following classified guide, compiled for the convenience of the future investigator, to documents and to references to documents contained in the printed works mentioned above.

PRINTED MATERIAL.[1]

Queries.

One of the earliest undertakings of the Society was the drawing up of "inquiries of things observable in foreign countries, and directions of the things they desire chiefly to be informed about". A committee to consider suitable questions was appointed as early as February, 1661 (Birch, I. 15; cf. ibid. 47, 68, 74). The queries were compiled from published accounts of the countries concerned (no. 33, III. 634; Birch, I. 144) and were distributed to ships' captains or to travellers for the purpose of obtaining accurate information. Special directions for geographical, meteorological, astronomical and other observations to be made by seamen bound for the West Indies and on other far voyages were also prepared. (Printed in 1666 in no. 8, I. 140-143, appendix in no. 9, I. 147-149, and in enlarged form in 1667 in no. 24, II. 433-448). Copies of these directions were deposited with the Master of Trinity House to be supplied to masters of ships and others who should keep a diary of their observations, of which one copy should be delivered to the Lord High Admiral and another to Trinity House to be perused by the Royal Society. Directions and instruments were supplied to John Winthrop, jr., on his return voyage to New England in 1663 (Birch, I. 207, 212, and 280).

Several sets of inquiries for Virginia were compiled. One series for Virginia and the Bermudas was prepared in 1667 (printed in no. 23, II. 420-421); and when in 1669 the Society learned that Mr. Edward Digges intended to go to Virginia, another series was recommended to him (Birch, II. 305) of which a manuscript copy is preserved (see below, p. 367). In 1681 Mr. Houghton read a paper of queries, together with the answers thereto by his brother who had been in Virginia (Birch, IV. 90). A letter from Rev. John Clayton to Dr. Grew, in answer to several queries relating to Virginia sent to him by Dr. Grew in 1687, may also be mentioned here (no. 454, XLI. 143-162).

Queries and directions, and in some cases answers, are printed for Greenland, 1662, 1663 (Birch, I. 155-156 and 199-202), Hudson's Bay (Birch, III. 44-46) and the Antilles, 1668 (no. 33, III. 634-639). In 1667, queries were ordered to be delivered to Mr. Lyttelton, who was voyaging to Barbadoes (Birch, II. 143).

In 1713, Queen Anne directed that instruction be given to her ministers and governors that go abroad to contribute all they can, towards promoting the design for which the Royal Society was first founded, by corresponding with the President and Fellows of the said Society, and by procuring as satisfactory answers as possible to such inquiries as may be sent from time to time. Committees were appointed to draw up questions, which are entered in the Register books (Weld, I. 420). A portion of a letter from Gov. Cornbury, written in response to these instructions, and relating to a palaeontological find near Albany, is printed in Weld, I. 421. It seems probable that letters from other governors may be preserved in the archives.

Meteorological Observations.

Captain Langford's observations upon hurricanes, and their prognostics in the West Indies, relate to the years 1657, 1658, 1660, 1665 and 1667 (no.

[1] When not otherwise indicated, references are to the Philosophical Transactions.

246, XX. 407-416). The meteorological observations requested of seamen in the directions of 1666 and 1667 referred to under the head of Queries, consisted merely of a register of the direction and strength of the wind, of the "visible appearances of the sky", and of "notablest effects", such as remarkable tides, heavy dews, etc. The earliest quantitative description of meteorological conditions in any place in North America noted in the printed records of the Society, appears to be that contained in Dr. Henry Stubbe's observations on Jamaica, 1667 (no. 27, II. 500). In 1668, the Society ordered that baroscopes be sent into "the East and West Indies, and other parts, particularly to the English plantations, as Bermudas, Jamaica, Barbados, Virginia, and New England" (Birch, II. 292), and in 1677 several baroscopes were sent to Barbadoes to test their use in foretelling changes of weather and especially hurricanes (Birch, III. 360). In 1680, Colonel William Sharp communicated from Barbadoes a table of barometrical readings made from an instrument supplied by the Society a few months before (printed in Birch, IV. 49-54). The Society ordered that a thermometer be made and despatched to Colonel Sharp (Birch, IV. 56). Later observations from the following places in the American colonies are recorded: Virginia, by Rev. John Clayton, 1688 (no. 201, XVII. 781-789); Acomac, by Mr. Scarburgh, October 19, 1693 (no. 231, XIX. 659); Jamaica, by Governor Sir William Beeston, 1696 (no. 220, XIX. 225-228); Cambridge, by Professor Robie, 1715-1722 ("Mr. Robie's Observations want those of the Barometer and Thermometer: Neither of which Instruments was to be gotten in New England") (no. 423, XXXVII. 262-273); Jamaica, by Henry Barham, 1717 (no. 357, XXX. 837-838). In 1725 the Society gave an impetus to meteorological science by sending barometers and thermometers to several of their correspondents abroad (Weld, I. 434); as a result of its action meteorological observations said to be the first made with instruments in New England were taken by Mr. Feveryear in 1725-6 (MS. see below, p. 308). Observations at Boston, by Paul Dudley, 1727 (no. 437, XXXIX. 65-66); Hudson's Bay, by C. Middleton, 1730, 1731, 1735 (no. 418, XXXVII. 71-78; no. 429, XXXVIII. 127-133; no. 442, XXXIX. 270-280); Jamaica, by C. Campbell, 1732 (no. 432, XXXVIII. 307-309); Charles Town, by Dr. J. Lining, 1738-1752 (no. 470, XLII. 491-509; no. 475, XLIII. 318-330; no. 487, XLV. 336-344; XLVIII. 284-285); Antigua, by F. Byam, 1751-1754 (XLIX. 295-296); Maryland, by Dr. R. Brooke, 1753-1757 (LI. 58-82); Cambridge, by Professor John Winthrop, 1755 (L. 14-15); Virginia, by Lieut.-Gov. Fauquier, 1758 (L. 746-747); Georgia, by Gov. Henry Ellis, 1758 (L. 754-756); New England, by John Winthrop, 1760 (LII. 6-16); Quebec, by Capt. Alexander Rose, 1765-1766 (LVI. 291-295); Hudson's Bay, by J. Dymond and W. Wales, 1768-1769 (LX. 137-178); Hudson's Bay, by T. Hutchins, 1775 (LXVI. 174-181); Montreal, by Mr. Barr, 1776; 1779 (LXVIII. 559-563; LXX. 272-277); Labrador, 1777, 1778 (LXIX. 657-658).

Astronomical Observations.

Most of these observations were taken to determine the latitude and longitude of different places. The observations of the transit of Venus, 1769, papers on which are also printed in the first section of the first volume of Transactions of the American Philosophical Society of Philadelphia, mark the beginning of a new epoch in American science.

In 1664 the Society ordered "that some of the curious in the English plantations of America, as Mr. Winthrop in New England, Mr. Norwood in Bermudas, Capt. Silas Taylor in Virginia, and Dr. Henry Stubbe in Jamaica, should be desired to make the . . . . observation [of the conjunction of Mercury with the sun] in those parts" (Birch, I. 383); but no report of such observations appears in the printed records. Accounts of the comet of 1604 were received from America (Birch, II. 47, 48 and 421).

Observations were made at the following places:

Cambridge, by Thomas Brattle, 1604 (no. 202, XXIV. 1630-1638).

Boston, by the same, 1707 (no. 312, XXV. 2471).

Cambridge, by Professor Robie, 1717-1722 (no. 423, XXXVII. 270-273).

Port Royal, Jamaica, by Capt. Barth. Candler, 1722 (no. 375, XXXII. 235-236).

New York, by Gov. William Burnet, Cadwallader Colden and James Alexander, 1723 (no. 385, XXXIII. 162, and cf. no. 394, XXXIV. 85-90).

Barbadoes, by William Stevenson, 1720 (no. 416, XXXVI. 440-441).

Jamaica, by Colin Campbell, 1731-1732 (no. 432, XXXVIII. 302-314).

Hudson's Bay, by Capt. C. Middleton, 1736 and 1741-1742 (no. 446, XL. 96-98; no. 465, XLII. 157-171).

Philadelphia, by Dr. Kearsly, 1736-1737 (no. 446, XL. 119-121).

Jamaica, by Rose Fuller, 1737 (no. 446, XL. 122).

Letter from J. Alexander concerning a place in New York for measuring a degree of latitude, 1740 (no. 457, XLI. 383).

Cambridge, by Professor John Winthrop, 1740, 1743 (no. 471, XLII. 572; LIX. 505-506).

Meteors in North America, by same, 1761 (LIV. 185-188).

Meteors at St. John's, Newfoundland, by the same, 1761 (LIV. 277-283).

Barbadoes, by the Rev. Nevil Maskelyne, 1764 (LIV. 389-392).

Newfoundland, by James Cook, 1766 (LVII. 215-216).

"A new method for composing a natural history of meteors", by Professor Isaac Greenwood, published in 1728 (no. 401, XXXV. 390-402).

For determining the length of a degree of latitude in Maryland and Pennsylvania, by Charles Mason and Jeremiah Dixon, with map of that part of America where a degree of latitude was measured for the Royal Society, 1768 (LVIII. 270-328).

Forks of the River Brandywine, Pennsylvania, by the same, 1768 (LVIII. 329-335).

Kittery Point, Maine; Portsmouth, N. H.; and several places in Canada, 1768-1774, by Capt. Samuel Holland, surveyor general, and his assistants; (LVIII. 46-53; LIX. 247-252; LXIV. 182-189).

Transit of Venus, 1769:

Quebec, by Samuel Holland (LIX. 247-252).

Isle aux Coudres, near Quebec, by Thomas Wright, deputy surveyor (LIX. 273-280).

Norriton, Pennsylvania, by a committee of the American Philosophical Society of Philadelphia (LIX. 289-326).

Lewes, Delaware, by other representatives of the same Society (LIX. 414-421).

Cambridge, by Professor John Winthrop (LIX. 351-358).

Ten miles east of Annapolis, Maryland, by John Leeds (LIX. 444-445).
Hudson's Bay, by William Wales (LIX. 467-488; LX. 100-178).
California, by Abbé Chappe (LX. 551-552).
Observations on the transit of Mercury, 1769, at Norriton, Pennsylvania, by a committee of the American Philosophical Society and at Cambridge by Professor John Winthrop, both communicated by Benjamin Franklin (LX. 504; LXI. 51-52).
Anticosti, by Deputy Surveyor Thomas Wright [1774][1] (LXIV. 190-193).
Track of H. M.'s brig Lion from England to Davis's Straits and Labrador, with observations for determining the longitude, etc., 1776 (LXVIII. 1057-1060).

Aurora Borealis.

New England, by Professor Isaac Greenwood, 1730 (no. 418, XXXVII. 55-69).
Annapolis, Maryland, by Richard Lewis, 1730 (no. 418, XXXVII. 69-70).
Philadelphia, by Joseph Breitnall, 1736, 1737 (no. 456, XLI. 359-360).
Philadelphia, by John Bartram, 1757 (LII. 474).

Earthquakes.

Account of the earthquakes in New England since the first settlement of the English in that country, especially of the last, October 29, 1727, by Paul Dudley (no. 437, XXXIX. 63-73).
In New England, mentioned by Cotton Mather, 1663 et al. (no. 339, XXIX. 62-71).
At Jamaica, by Sir Hans Sloane and others, 1688, 1692 (no. 209, XVIII. 81-100).
Remarks on earthquakes, etc., in Jamaica, by Henry Barham, 1717 (no. 357, XXX. 837-838).
At Boston and Newbury, by Rev. Benjamin Colman, 1727 (no. 409, XXXVI. 124-127).
Near Newbury, by Rev. Matthias Plant, 1727-1741 (no. 462, XLII. 33-42).
At Maryland, by Mr. Richard Lewis, 1732 (no. 429, XXXVIII. 119-121).
At Philadelphia, by Joseph Breitnall, 1737 (no. 456, XLI. 359-360).
Manila, by William Pye, 1750 (XLIX. 458-459).
Fort Oswego, by Mrs. Gov. Belcher, October, 1755 (XLIX. 544).
Antigua, by Capt. Affleck, November 1, 1755 (XLIX. 668-670).
Earthquake of November 18, 1755:
At Boston (XLIX. 439-442).
New York, by Cadwallader Colden (XLIX. 443).
At Pennsylvania (XLIX. 444).
New England and vicinity, by Professor John Winthrop (L. 1-18).
Barbadoes, by Abraham Mason, 1761 (LII. 477-478).

Terrestrial Magnetism.

Several papers relative to the variations of the compass in American waters are printed in the Philosophical Transactions.

Geography.

The northwest passage [1674] (no. 109, IX. 207-208). Extract of two letters from missionary Jesuits concerning the discovery of the New Philippine Islands, with map, 1697 (no. 317, XXVI. 189-199). Voyage to New Caledonia in Darien, by Dr. Wallace [1700] (no. 262, XXII. 536-543). Concerning a passage by land to California, taken from the letters of missionary Jesuits printed at Paris, 1702 (no. 318, XXVI. 232-240). Account of Falls of the River Niagara taken at Albany, October 10, 1721, from M. Borassaw, by Paul Dudley (no. 371, XXXII. 69-72). Distances between Asia and America, by Arthur Dobbs, 1747 (no. 483, XLIV. 471-476). Account of that part of America which is nearest to Kamtchatka; extracted from the Description of Kamtchatka by Professor Krasheninnicoff, printed at Petersburg in 1759, and translated by Rev. D. Dumaresque (LI. 477-497). Journal of a voyage, made by order of the Royal Society, to Churchill River, on the northwest coast of Hudson's Bay, etc., by William Wales, 1768-1769 (LX. 100-136). Particulars of the country of Labrador, extracted from the papers of Lieut. Roger Curtis with a plane-chart of the coast [1774] (LXIV. 372-388).

Natural History and Natural Resources; the Aborigines; Diseases and Medicines.

Of the manner of making tar and pitch in New England, by John Winthrop, 1662 (Birch, I. 99-102). On the conveniency of the building of ships in some of the northern parts of America, by the same, 1662 (Birch, I. 112-113). Method of killing rattle-snakes in Virginia, by Capt. Silas Taylor, 1664 (no. 3, I. 43 and 76). Observations made in the ordering of silk-worms, by Edward Digges, 1665 (no. 2, I. 26-27). Economic and social conditions in Virginia, by Alexander Moray, 1665 (no. 12, I. 201-202). Whale-fishing about the Bermudas and on the coast of New England and New Netherland, 1666, anon. (no. 8, I. 132-133). Locusts in New England, 1666 (no. 8, I. 137-138). Observations on the Caribbee Islands, 1667-1668, by Dr. Stubbe (no. 27, II. 493-500; no. 36, III. 699-709; no. 37, III. 717-722.) Tides, wells, whale-fishing and whales at Bermudas, by Richard Norwood, 1667 (no. 30, II. 565-567). Tides, whales, vegetables, longevity of inhabitants, etc., at Bermudas, by Richard Stafford, 1668 (no. 40, III. 792-795). Particulars referring to those of Jamaica, nos. 27 and 36, by Mr. Norwood the younger, 1668 (no. 41, III. 824-825). Extracts of letters on the natural history of Virginia, by John Banister, 1668, 1689, 1690, 1692 (no. 198, XVII. 667-672). On curiosities sent to the Society, by John Winthrop, 1670 (no. 57, V. 1151-1153). Advantage of Virginia for building ships, 1673 (no. 93, VIII. 6015-6016). Poisonous fish in Bahamas, by John Locke, 1675 (no. 114, X. 312). Natural history, dwelling-houses, customs, etc., at Barbadoes, by Dr. Thomas Towns, 1675 (no. 117, X. 399-400). On alleged change of temperature in plantations and on beetle found in Virginia and New England, 1676, by Henry Nicholson (no. 127, XI. 647-653). Use and culture of maize, by John Winthrop, 1678 (no. 142, XII. 1065-1069). Insects of Virginia, by John Banister, 1680

(no. 270, XXII. 807-814). Maple-sugar in Canada, anon., 1685 (no. 171, XV. 988). Bees in West Indies, 1685 (no. 172, XV. 1030-1031). Account of Virginia by Rev. John Clayton, 1688 (no. 201, XVII. 781-795; no. 205, 941-948; no. 206, 978-998; no. 210, XVIII. 121-135; and no. 454, XLI. 143-162). Sand from Virginia supposed to contain iron, by Dr. Allen Moulen, 1689 (no. 197, XVII. 624-626; cf. no. 432, XXXVIII. 297-302). The making of cochineal, according to a relation from an old Spaniard at Jamaica, 1691 (no. 193, XVII. 502-504). Method used by Indians in Virginia and Carolina to dress buck and doe skins, 1691 (no. 194, XVII. 532-533). Jamaica pepper-tree and tree that bears the cortex winteranus, by Dr. Hans Sloane, 1693 (no. 192, XVII. 462-468). American humming-bird, by Dr. Nehemiah Grew (no. 200, XVII. 760-761). Natural observations made at Boston, by Benjamin Bullivant, 1698 (no. 240, XX. 167-168). Remarks by James Petiver, F. R. S., on animals, plants, etc., sent to him from Maryland by Rev. Hugh Jones, 1698 (no. 246, XX. 393-406). Animals and plants of Philippines, by Rev. George Joseph Camelli, 1699-1711 (no. 248, XXI. 2-40; no. 250, 88-94; no. 277, XXIII. 1065-1068; no. 285, 1394-1399; no. 286, 1419-1429; no. 290,[1] XXIV. 1591-1596; no. 293, 1707-1722; no. 294, 1763-1773; no. 295, 1809-1809[1]; no. 296, 1816-1842; no. 302, 2043-2080; no. 305, XXV. 2197-2204; no. 307, 2266-2276; no. 311, 2397-2408; no. 318, XXVI. 241-248; no. 331, XXVII. 310-315). Animals and shells sent from Carolina to James Petiver, 1705 (no. 299, XXIV. 1952-1960). Abstract of letters from Cotton Mather, dated November 17-November 29, 1712, referring to palaeontological finds, natural history, antipathies, Indians, meteorology, earthquakes, etc. (no. 339, XXIX. 62-71). Experiments made in South Carolina in 1720 and 1723 on effects of rattle-snake poison, by Capt. Hall (no. 399, XXXV. 309-315; cf. no. 401, XXXV. 377-381). Method of making maple-sugar in New England, by Paul Dudley, 1720 (no. 364, XXXI. 27-28). Moose-deer, by Paul Dudley, 1721 (no. 368, XXXI. 165-168). New England moose-deer and Virginia stag described by Samuel Dale, 1736 (no. 444, XXXIX. 384-389). Effects of cold, etc., at Hudson's Bay, by Capt. Christopher Middleton, 1741-1742 (no. 465, XLII. 157-171). Letter from Edw. Milward concerning an antidote to the Indian poison in the West Indies, 1741-1742 (no. 462, XLII. 2). Oyster-banks and muscles of Pennsylvania, by Dr. John Bartram, 1744 (no. 474, XLIII. 157-159). Wasps' nests in Pennsylvania, by John Bartram, 1745, 1749 (no. 476, XLIII. 363-366; 493, XLVI. 278-279). Dragon-fly of Pennsylvania, by same, 1750 (no. 494, XLVI. 323-325). Wasps of New England, by John H. Harrison, 1748 (XLVII. 184-187). Machine for killing whales, by Dr. John Bond, 1752 (XLVII. 429-435). Toxicodendron of Carolina, by Abbé Mazeas, P. Miller, and J. Ellis, 1758 (XLIX. 157-166; 866-876; L. 430-456). Wasps' nest from Maryland, by Israel Mauduit, 1755 (XLIX. 205-208). Sea-currents at Antilles, by Dr. Peyssonnel, 1756 (XLIX. 624-634). Account of copper-springs in Pennsylvania, by Dr. John Rutty, 1756 (XLIX. 648-651). Epidemic in Barbadoes, by Abraham Mason, 1761 (LII. 477-478). Wasp of Pennsylvania, by John Bartram, 1763 (LIII. 37-38). Darkness at Detroit, by Rev. James Stirling, 1762 (LIII. 63-64). Dye from berries of a weed in South Carolina, by Moses Lindo, 1763 (LIII. 238-239). Observations on cicada collected by P. Collinson, 1763 (LIV. 65-68). A disease among the Indians in Nantucket and Martha's Vineyard, by Andrew Oliver, 1764 (LIV. 386-388). On supposed elephants' bones found near the Ohio, 1766, 1767 (LVII. 464-469; LVIII. 34-35). Experiments for preserving acorns with a view to bringing over seeds from East Indies to plant in America, by John Ellis, 1768 (LVIII. 75-78). Letter from Dr. Donald Monro, enclosing one from Mr. James Farley of Antigua, dated 1767, on the good effects of the quassi root in some fevers (LVIII. 80-82). Voyage to Hudson's Bay, 1768 and 1769, by William Wales (LX. 100-178). On a new species of starry aniseed tree lately discovered in West Florida, 1770, by John Ellis (LX. 524-530). Method used by Indians near Hudson's Bay to dye porcupine quills, by J. R. Forster, 1772 (LXII. 54-59). Account of quadrupeds, birds and fishes, from Hudson's Bay, by J. R. Forster, 1772 (LXII. 370-433; LXIII. 149-160). Customs of Indians, by Sir William Johnson, 1772 (LXIII. 142-148). Medicinal value of bark trees of Jamaica and the Caribbees, by Dr. William Wright, 1777 (LXVII. 504-512).

Inoculation.

In New England, 1721 (no. 374, XXXII. 215, 223-227); the same place (1722) (no. 370, XXXII. 33-35; the same, 1723 (no. 382, XXXIII. 67-70). Benjamin Gale's historical memoirs relating to inoculation in the British American Provinces particularly in New England (LV. 193-204).

Curiosities.

The Journals contain many notices of curiosities sent from America (Birch, passim), of which those donated by John Winthrop in 1669 may be particularly mentioned (Birch, II. 418-421). Some sixty years later another John Winthrop is said to have presented the Society with more than six hundred specimens (Archaeologia Americana, IV. 123-124; Winthrop papers, Mass. Hist. Soc. Coll., fifth series, VIII. 571). Descriptions and figures of American animals are included in Dr. Nehemiah Grew's Musaeum Regalis Societatis; or a Catalogue and Description of the Natural and Artificial Rarities belonging to the Royal Society, etc., first published in 1681. About 1780 the museum of the Society was turned over to the British Museum (Weld, II. 122-125).

Franklin's Papers.

Except when otherwise specified these treat of electricity (XLVII. 289-291, 565-567; XLIX. 300-309; L. 481-483; LI. 514-525, 525-526; LII. 456-461, LXIII. 66); meteorological and physical observations and conjectures (LV. 182-192); transit of Mercury, 1769 (LXI. 51-52); on stilling waves by oil (LXIV. 445-460). An account of Franklin's treatise, Experiments and Observations on Electricity, is in XLVII. 202-211.

ARCHIVES.

A card list of the principal MSS. or groups of MSS. preserved in these archives indicates the following main classes of documentary material.

1. Journals of proceedings at the meetings of the Society, which contain among other notices summary accounts of the contents of the letters received and of the collections donated. Printed from 1660 to 1687, as stated above. Unindexed.

2. Register books, 1661-1738, 21 volumes containing transcripts of the more important communications received by the Society. Volume 10, 1713-1722, is wanting. Some but not all of these are printed in the Philosophical Transactions.

3. Thirty-nine "Guard Books" dating from the seventeenth and first half of the eighteenth century, arranged by groups of subjects, containing besides original MSS. of matter printed in the Philosophical Transactions, other communications not printed, many letters, etc. See below, p. 368, footnote 1.

4. Letter books, coming down to about 1737, containing original letters mounted on guards and alphabetically arranged.

5. Miscellaneous manuscripts, covering same period as 3. A guide is provided to classes 4 and 5 in the Catalogues of the Miscellaneous Manuscripts and of the Manuscript Letters in the Possession of The Royal Society, printed in 1840.

The documents listed below are found in the letter books, miscellaneous MSS., and guard books. While the intention has been to notice all letters entered in the letter books from the continental colonies, only a few of the letters from the West Indies are included. Only those guard books were examined whose titles seemed to indicate contents of some historical interest.

LETTER BOOKS.

In the following paragraphs the letter and the number immediately following jointly indicate the volume of the letter book.

B. 2. 33. Extract of a letter from C. Bouchar to E. Halley, dated Liguamen, Jamaica, March 10, 1676, referring to a recent rebellion of negroes. (The Liguanea district is near Kingston.)

B. 2. 46. Part of a letter from Benjamin Bullivant to James Petiver, dated Boston, N. E., January 15, 1698, concerning some natural observations made by Bullivant.

(Printed in Philosophical Transactions, no. 240, XX. 167-168.)

B. 2. 65. Letter from Thomas Banister to J. Chamberlayne, dated Boston, N. E., January 4, 1712, referring to a ball of fire seen in the sky.

D. 1. 72-95 and D. 2, 68. Twenty-five letters and papers from Paul Dudley, addressed to the Royal Society, Mr. Chamberlayne, Dr. Mortimer and Dr. Derham, dated from Boston or Roxbury between June 20, 1719 and December 27, 1736, containing references to the "defeat of the Spanish Invasion", the prevalence of "Arrianisme" in England, "the journall of Mr. Kellug's Trading Voyage from Canada to Mississippi" [see below, p. 367], "curiosities" presented by him to the Society, natural phenomena, accounts of Niagara Falls, an essay upon the natural history of whales, remarkable cures, the several earthquakes which have happened in New England since the first settlement of the English in that country, especially the last, which happened in October 29, 1727, and other papers relating to natural science, mostly printed in the Philosophical Transactions.

D. 2. 2. Letter from William Douglass to Dr. Alexander Stuart, dated Boston, N. E., September 25, 1721, relating to the prevalence of small-pox in Boston, inquiring as to the value of inoculation, and treating of the action of "a certain credulous Preacher . . . . called Mather". "The clergy spirited by Mather preached up inoculation."

G. 2. 6-10. Five letters from Isaac Greenwood, professor of mathematics and natural philosophy in Harvard College, to the secretary of the Society, dated from Boston or Cambridge, May 1, 1727 to October 24, 1730. The first letter refers to Dr. Cotton Mather's efforts "to engage his Friends in making Meteorological observations, that Our Country might not be the most backward in following your ingenious Invitatio" and to Mr. Feveryear's meteorological observations (see below, p. 368), which he encloses and describes as "the first sett of such Observations that was ever made in New England." The other four letters relate to natural philosophy.

(Two are printed in Philosophical Transactions, no. 401, XXXV. 390; no. 411, XXXVI. 184.)

G. 2. 37. Letter from Martha Gerrisk to Gov. Belcher, dated Cambridge, N. E., December 24, 1734, containing a drawing of a parhelia, seen at Cambridge, December 14, 1734.

I. 1. 183. Id. from Hugh Jones to Benjamin Woodward, dated Maryland, January 23, 1699, describing Maryland.

L. 5. 114. Id. from William London to Mr. Evelyn, dated Barbadoes, December 28, 1680, giving an account of his collection towards a history of Barbadoes and the other English settlements in America, with the heads of the work. Cf. Birch, IV. 97, 99.

L. 6. 44. Id. from Richard Lewis to Mr. Collinson, dated Annapolis in Maryland, October 27, 1732, referring to various natural phenomena.

(Printed in Philosophical Transactions, no. 429, XXXVIII. 119-121.)

L. 6. 59. Three letters from James Logan, addressed to Dr. E. Halley, Sir Hans Sloane and Mr. Peter Collinson respectively, dated Pennsylvania, May 25, 1732; Philadelphia, September 20, 1735; and Philadelphia, November 20, 1735, all relating to natural science. A fourth letter to Mr. P. Collinson dated Stenton, October 31, 1737, contains corrections of a paper by Logan in Philosophical Transactions.

(Extracts of the letters of September 20 and November 20, 1735, are printed in Philosophical Transactions, no. 440, 192-195, no. 441, 240, and no. 444, XXXIX. 404-405.)

M 1. 36a. Extract of a letter from Alexander Moray to Sir Robert Moray, dated Ware River, Mochjack [Mobjack] Bay, Virginia, February 1, 1666.

(This and the following letter treat of economic and social conditions. An extract of this letter is printed in Philosophical Transactions, no. 12, I. 201.)

M. 1. 37. From same to same, dated Ware River, Mochjack Bay, Virginia, June 12, 1668.

M. 2. 21-57. Thirty-seven letters from Cotton Mather to Dr. Woodward and to secretaries of the Royal Society, dated Boston, N. E., from November, 1712, to December 15, 1724, containing accounts of many natural and supernatural phenomena, dreams, apparitions, rattlesnakes, botany, medicine, thunder, earthquakes, meteorology, Indian customs, etc.

(Extracts of several letters are printed in Philosophical Transactions, no. 339, XXIX. 62-71. A part of this series is duplicated in British Museum, Sloane, 3339, 3340.)

M. 3. 12, 35-40, 66. Eight letters from Joseph Morgan, dated Maidenhead, New Jersey, 1732-1739, setting forth his ideas for several inventions, mostly devised to defend the English colonies against the French and preserve the loyalty of N. America to the crown of Great Britain; also relating to his papers on the "Original of all Nations", "Improvements on the Astronomical Philosophy of Sir Isaac Newton", etc.

N. 1. 26. Letter from Richard Norwood to the secretary of the Royal Society, dated Sommer Islands, June 18, 1667, referring to the dangers of the times, "some of our neighbouring plantations . . . . lately taken and we ourselves in continuall expectation of an enemy"; also, containing observations on tides, wells, whales, and whale-fishing.

(An extract is printed in Philosophical Transactions, no. 30, II. 565.)

N. 1. 27. Id., Sommers Islands, July 16, 1668, referring to a free school for "the children of this place as for some Indian children" formerly supported by members of the Honorable Company, who several years before appointed the writer master of the school. He desires some members of the Royal Society to deal with the Honorable Company to restore the school and pay him a sum due for arrears of salary and for "the late Survey of the whole countrey by the Order and appointment of the Honourable Company."

N. 1. 89. Letter from Gov. Nicholson to Mr. Alban Thomas, dated Plymouth, March 8, 1721, referring to Mr. Keatsby [Catesby] to whom Nicholson had advanced a sum of money " upon supposition of his going to South Carolina ". He desires Mr. Thomas to discourse with Sir Hans Sloane and Dr. Sherrard about the affair.

N. 1. 90. Id., dated Charles Town, South Carolina, November 6, 1721, desiring that Mr. Katesby [Catesby] " repay the Ten pounds which I advanced him to our Treasurer to be there kept till the Royal Society can find another Person to come upon the same account and that Ten pounds shall be advanced him for the first half year at the Rate of Twenty pounds sterling per annum while I remain Governor here."

P. 2. 4. Postscript, dated November 1, 1727, to a letter from Rev. Matthias Plant, missionary of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts, dated Newbury, New England, October 25, 1727, referring to the earthquake of October 29.

S. 1. 106. Letter from Richard Stafford to the secretary of the Royal Society, dated Bermuda, July 16, 1668, writing by request of Richard Norwood and sending various observations on tides, whales, etc., and on the longevity of the inhabitants.

(An extract of the letter is printed in Philosophical Transactions, no. 40, III. 792-795.)

W. 3. 20-27. Nine letters from John Winthrop to Sir Robert Moray, Lord Brereton, and the secretary of the Royal Society, dated from Hartford, Boston and Salem, between August 18, 1668 and September 25, 1673, acknowledging receipt of volumes of the Transactions of the Society; referring to miscarriage of letters through loss of ships, etc.; to various natural phenomena; to sending the Society collections " of some of the productions of this wildernesse ". Mentions difficulty of collecting mineralogical and other specimens on account of Indian wars, refers to Col. Nicolls and to personal affairs.

(Two letters are printed in Philosophical Transactions, no. 57, V. 1151-1153 and no. 142, XII. 1065-1069 and one in Birch, II. 473-474.)

W. 3. 28. Letter from Wait Winthrop to the secretary of the Royal Society, dated Boston, October 17, 1671, regarding some curiosities sent to the Society.

(The curiosities are noted in Birch, II. 499.)

W. 3. 157. Id. from Christopher Witt to P. Collinson, dated Philadelphia, July 1, 1734, on the severe winter of 1733-1734.

LIBRARY.

In the Library of the Society are three volumes of papers collected by John Canton, F. R. S., the electrician, and friend of Benjamin Franklin, which include the following documents:

I. xlvii and II. 21. Two copies of a facsimile of a letter from Franklin to Canton, dated Craven Street, May 29, 1765, with a magical circle of circles.

(Printed in Smyth's Franklin, IV. 370-371. The original is in the Museum of the Guildhall, London.)

II. 20. Extract of a letter from Franklin to P. Collinson. Undated.

II. 20, 21. Franklin's two magic squares.

II. 41. Two letters from James Bowdoin to J. Canton, dated Boston, October 19, 1763 and January 12, 1764, about the pedestal of a telescope.

III. Letters from Franklin to Canton, dated Philadelphia, March 14, 1764 (printed in Smyth's Franklin, IV. 218-220); November 27, [1767] (id., V. 69-71); March 9, 1768; Craven Street, August 25, 1769 (id., V. 45, where the date is incorrectly printed 1767); August 15, 1771; November 12 and 24, no year; three undated notes.

NOTE.—Since the foregoing account of the Society's archives was set up, it has been learned that Professor A. H. Church, F. R. S., has numbered the papers in the guard books, and has prefixed to each volume a table of contents, which includes, so far as they were easily obtainable, the name of the author, the title or subject of each numbered paper and its date. He has also prepared for deposit in the Society's library a written list of the authors represented in each volume, and, under the title The Royal Society: Some Account of the "Classified Papers" in the Archives, with an Index of Authors (Oxford, 1907), he has privately printed an alphabetical author-index to the series of guard books, a brief account of the contents of the series, and a list of the titles and numbers of the several volumes. Professor Church has also practically completed in manuscript form an index to the later papers, most of them printed in the Philosophical Transactions, coming down to about 1800.

HUDSON'S BAY COMPANY.

1, Lime Street, E. C.

Since the records are preserved in the building where the business of the Company is now transacted, and since they are in the custody of an official whose time is fully occupied by the current business of the Company, no general search of the records has hitherto been practicable. Permission to consult the archives must be obtained from the Governor of the Company, and the inspection of manuscripts must take place at the convenience of the Company's secretary.

[1]The archives contain the records of the corporation and other documents, which furnish abundant material for the history of the Company from 1667, three years before it obtained its first charter. The grantees of this charter were the same court favorites to whom Charles II. ceded the Carolinas, and when in 1698 and 1749 Parliamentary inquiries into the legal rights of the Company took place, the papers of the early monopolists bearing upon the Company, as well as collateral papers bearing on Carolina, were transferred to the government and thus found their way to the Public Record Office. Where the originals passed to the government, copies were kept in the Company's memorial books; where copies were transferred, the originals were kept in the Company's memorial books. Usually the copies were not made in full but only such parts were transcribed as would help the Company's cause. The bulk of the originals are in the Company's archives.

The records comprise several hundred memorial books, of which only those numbered 701 and 702 were inspected. Volume 701, dating from March 4, 1698/9 to August 14, 1719, is made up of petitions and other papers touching the disputes between the Company and the French; and volume 702, covering the period from March 4, 1687/8, to March 13, 1778, contains petitions, letters, etc., relating to French claims and encroachments, as well as to convoys, supplies for the forts, and other concerns of the Company. A few papers in this volume, relating to the thirteen colonies, are listed below.

Daily journals were kept at each fort by (1) the governor, (2) the chief factor, and (3) inland traders or travelling "patroons", and were sent in to the headquarters of the Company at London, to serve as checks on one another. Before 1783, they include expeditions by way of Albany River and Manitoba to what is now Minnesota, also north Wisconsin and the Mandan country. After 1787, they cover every state west of Mississippi and north of Arkansas.

The minute books, nos. 200-261, contain particulars of the business transacted at the meetings of the Company. They are in two series, the "foul" and the "fair" copies, and appear to be extant in one or the other of these series for the years 1667 to the present time except from 1674 to 1679.

Memorial books nos. 701, 702 and minute books up to 1700 have been copied for the Canadian Government, which proposes to transcribe all of the minute books to a period later than 1783, and to list and ultimately to transcribe the numerous journals. Radisson's Journal, 1682-1684, has been printed in the Report on Canadian Archives for 1895.

Other classes of records are the outward letter books; inward letters, of which some are detached and others in bound volumes; some volumes of subcommittee books, 1731, 1737; the agendas, nos. 452-454, a précis of the minute books for the years 1760 to 1785; stock books, account books, and maps.

This mass of records was not examined as a whole, but search was made for documents relating to what was probably the most important incident in the history of the Company before 1783 in which residents of the thirteen colonies were concerned—the interloping expedition to Hudson's Bay undertaken by New Englanders under the leadership of Capt. Benjamin Gillam. Several references to the action of the Company in relation to this event occur in minute book no. 205 (1682-1683), folios 30, 31, 35, 36, and 37; and minute book no. 206, folios 24, 28, 31 and 34. In minute book no. 207 (1684-1685), folio 5, is noted the receipt of a letter from the governor of New York assuring the secretary of the Company that "noe ship or ships shall goe from thence into Hudson's Bay upon an Interloping Designe."

Letters Outward, 1680-1687.

f. 62. Letter from Sir James Hayes and others to Capt. Zachary Gillam. April 27, 1683.

f. 71. "A coppy of Mr. Joseph Dudley and Mr. John Richards letter (Agents from New England to the King) unto Simon Bradstreet esqr. governor of his Majestyes colony of the Massachusetts in Boston: in behalfe of the Company." London, July 11, 1683.

f. 72. "A coppy of Sir James Hayes letter, dated the 30th July 1683 to the Honourable Simon Bradstreet esq^{r}. governour of his Majestyes colloney of the Massachusetts in Boston New England."

ff. 73-75. "A coppey of the letter atturney graunted to Edward Randolph Esq^{r}. to seize upon all ships that trades to and from Hudson's Bay from New England." August 7, 1683.

f. 76. Letter from Christopher Wren, Jer: Weyman, John Letten, George Baron, and William Walker to Edward Randolph. London, August 13, 1683.

f. 77. "The King's letter to the government of New England to prevent interlopers." Windsor, August 12, 1683.

f. 78. Letter from John Letten, George Baron and William Walker to Edward Randolph. The Hudson's Bay House, August 18, 1683.

f. 80. "John Outlawes affidavit concerning the French insult from Canada", containing references to the interlopers from New England.

f. 164. "Part of a letter to S^{r}. James Hayes from E. Randolph, Secretary at Boston," dated Boston, November 20, 1686, mentioning "A report from New Yorke that the French of Kebeck have againe invaded and taken from your Company at Hudson's Bay 2 or 3 of the forts."

ff. 172-174. "The case of the adventurers of England tradeing into Hudson's Bay in reference to the French", entered May 6, 1687. One argument is "that the French have lately within six years (under the conduct of Monsr. de la Salle) discovered to the southwest of Canada a very large country which they call Louisiane", etc.

Memorial Book, 702.

ff. 8b-9b. Copy of a letter from Edward Randolph to Sir James Hayes, dated Boston, January 6, 1688/9, treating of relations of the English with the French and Indians—how Col. Dongan was "wheedled by a French priest from Canada", Indian conference with Sir E. Andros at Albany, etc.

f. 47b. Copy of a petition to the House of Commons "of the merchants and others trading to New England, New York," etc., praying that they may be heard against the bill to confirm to the Hudson's Bay Company their charter and privileges. In margin: Presented to Parliament, 28 March, 1698. 21 signatures.

ff. 48-49b. "Reasons . . . . against the bill for confirming to the Hudson's Bay Company their privileges and trade", delivered to Parliament, April, 1698. (References to Pennsylvania trade; and to beaver trade of New England and New York, which the Company is said to prejudice.)

ff. 49b-50b. "An answer to the paper called reasons against confirmeing the Hudson's Bay Company, as alsoe to two others of the same nature." In margin: Presented to several members of Parliament, April, 1698.

ff. 103-103a. Petition of the Hudson's Bay Company to the king, May 15, 1776, praying for license to put on their ships certain guns "for the protection of their ships against American privateers," etc.

ff. 105-105a. Copy of an Order of Council, May 16, 1776, granting the petition of May 15, 1776.

OXFORD.

THE BODLEIAN LIBRARY.

The Bodleian Library is open on week days at 9 a. m. throughout the year, closing at 3 p. m. in January, 4 p. m. in February and March, 5 p. m. in April-July, 4 p. m. in August-October and 3 p. m in November and December. It is closed entirely on Sundays, on January first, Good Friday, Easter Eve, Ascension day, Commemoration day, October 1-7, November 8 (November 7 when the 8th is a Sunday), and from Christmas Eve to the end of the year. "It may also be closed by the order of the Vice Chancellor and Proctors on any day appointed by royal authority as a day of mourning or rejoicing. On days on which it is closed, other than Sundays, Christmas day, Good Friday, and Ascension day, one room may be kept open for the use under certain restrictions of persons studia severiora prosequentes."

The Radcliffe building or Camera is open from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. on all days except Sundays, the four days next before Easter, the three days ending on the last Saturday in September and on Christmas day and the three adjoining week days.

"In the Bodleian building are kept all manuscripts and almost all books printed before 1851, the sections of bibliography, Bibles and liturgies, law, Oriental philology, the fine and industrial arts, music, the English drama, maps, voyages and travels, topography and local antiquities, genealogy and heraldry, and numismatica."

"In the Radcliffe building is kept the modern printed literature of almost all other subjects and a comprehensive select library for the use of students." The printed catalogues to the Rawlinson, Tanner, Ashmolean and Clarendon collections will be found in the Radcliffe building as well as on the catalogue shelves of the Bodleian Library; and a duplicate of the large catalogue of printed works is also placed there. In special instances by permission of the Librarian manuscript volumes will be taken on request to the Radcliffe building for the use of the student after the Bodleian Library has been closed. This privilege does not cover volumes containing documents of special rarity and value.

The Bodleian Library is primarily for the use of the graduates of the University of Oxford, but other persons are admitted to study in both parts of the library on presenting a satisfactory recommendation and subscribing the statutory promise. Such permission once accorded need not be renewed, but it may be withdrawn should a reader fail to conform to the library regulations which are placed, under a glass slip, at each reader's seat. Printed books, not of special value, may be left at the reader's seat to be removed by the attendant, or they may be reserved for a limited time if a slip bearing the reader's name and the date be left with the volumes. Manuscripts and rare printed books, however, must be returned into the hands of an attendant by the reader when leaving the library. If the reader desire to reserve a manuscript volume he may do so by taking it to the cabinet at the left of the gate to the reader's room where is placed a bell for the purpose of summoning an attendant.

Documents may be photographed by permission of the Librarian, who will furnish a printed blank to be filled out by the reader. The work is done by the Clarendon Press either in the usual form or by special process in white upon black (rotary bromide prints). The cost of the former is about 1*s.* 4*d.* a print, if three prints are taken from each plate; of the latter, for sizes 8½ x 5¾, 8*d.*, 10 x 8, 1*s.*, 11 x 9, 1*s.* 4d.

The following is a reproduction of the ticket in use at the library for both printed books and manuscripts. When filled out the ticket is given to an attendant who is summoned by striking one of the bells on the catalogue desk.

No one may use the library unless formally admitted a reader. No volume (or part) may be taken away from the reading-room, or in any way marked.				When handed in h. m.

Readers not receiving a work as soon as wished should mention the fact at once to the Librarian, or a Sub-Librarian, or a senior member of the staff.

Individual collection catalogues are noted in their proper place in the lists given below. The general catalogue of Latin and English manuscripts is entitled A Summary Catalogue of Western Manuscripts, by F. Madan, of which the following volumes have been issued: Vol. III. (eighteenth century), nos. 8717-16669 (1895), $5.25; vol. IV. (first half of the nineteenth century), nos. 16670-24330 (1897), $6.25; vol. V. (second half of the nineteenth century and small collections), nos. 24331-31000 (1905), $8.35; vol. VI., part 1. (accessions, 1890-1906), nos. 31001-33541 (1906), $2.50. This catalogue describes each volume or group of volumes in general terms and is preliminary to future special catalogues. The special quarto catalogues already issued (1845-1906) and not classical or Oriental, are (IV.) Tanner, (V.) Rawlinson, A-D, (IX.) Digby, (X.) Ashmole.

A card-index to the Summary Catalogue may be found in the main hall of the library. Volumes I. and II. of the Catalogue, as yet unpublished, will deal with the earliest manuscripts to the eighteenth century, covering numbers 1 to 8716. For the student of American history volume III. is the most important.

Certain other indexes or lists may be noted:

Index of Rawlinson Collection of Copper Plates (manuscript); Index of Collection of Autographs (manuscript).

Index of Printed Tracts, 2 volumes.

(Ten verses and l'envoi. No date.)

447. f. 53. "An Act for the Baptizing and better ordering of Negroes and Infidells in the King of England's Plantations in America." n. d.

ff. 69-76. Patent drawn by Charles II. for the erection of Virginia into a bishopric with cathedral see at Jamestown.

(This patent places all the churches of Bermudas, Barbadoes, Leeward Islands, Jamaica, Virginia and Maryland under the authority, inspection and jurisdiction of the Archbishop of Canterbury and his successors. It erects the plantations of Virginia into a bishopric and diocese and declares all the churches in the plantations to be parts and members of the diocese of Virginia. On a separate inserted slip is the statement in a different handwriting that the bishop of Virginia is not to have jurisdiction over New England in any way until his Majesty should see fit so to order. For endowment the new diocese is to have the customs and excise on 50 tons of tobacco and the quit-rents from Jamaica. Date is probably after 1667.

Anderson in his History of the Colonial Church, II. 358, note 32, notes the existence of an early patent made out by Sir Orlando Bridgeman, Lord Keeper under Charles II., for an American bishop and thinks that it was prepared in anticipation of the proposed appointment of Alexander Murray as bishop of Virginia in 1673. (Brit. Mus. Harleian MSS. 3790, ff. 1-4.) He obtained his information from McVickar's Life of Bishop Hobart, p. 177, but the reference there is probably not to this patent in the Bodleian but to another copy, slightly different, among the Wynne papers in the library of All Souls College, Oxford, which is printed in Perry, Historical Collections, I. 537. The Bodleian patent and accompanying papers have never been printed.)

ASHMOLEAN MANUSCRIPTS.

Then follows engraving of Adam and Eve by De Bry pasted on f. 73 and colored roughly; also "The True Pictures and Fashions of the People in that part of America now called Virginia, translated out of Latin into English by Richard Hakluyt, diligently collected and Draown by Jhon White who was sent thither speciallye and for the same purpose by the said Sir Walter Ralegh the year above said 1585 and also the year 1568 now cutt in copper and first published by Theodor de Bry at his owne chardges", ff. 74-111.

Copper plate engravings cut out and pasted on the leaf; all are roughly colored. The same engravings, uncolored and wanting the earlier numbers, are in Ashmolean 1756. For White's drawings, see Brit. Mus. Add. MSS. 5270.

III. "A Short Dictionary, added unto the former Discourses, of the Indian Language, used within the Chessiopiock Bay, more particularly about the Tract and amongst the Inhabitants of the first River called by them Powhaton, and by us, the King's-River, wherein as yet our Townes and Forts are seated.

By which, such who shall be imployed thether may know the readyer how to confer, and how to truck and trade with the People."

Portions of this title are not printed in the Hakluyt Society edition, and in general there are a number of variations in this manuscript when compared with that in the British Museum from which the Hakluyt edition was taken. The Collections of the Mass. Hist. Soc., fourth series, I. 219-246, prints only the second part. Cf. Brown, Genesis, II. 562-568.

In Ashmolean 70, f. 1 are printed poems by Strachey addressed (1) to "the Lord Lawarr of the heroyicke and Religious Plantation in Virginia Britania", and (2) to Sir Thomas Smith (two copies).)

("The said voyage and designe was firste encouraged by Sr Richd White upon the report that Capt. Phips had made that being in his Maj. Ship the Rose among the Bahama Islands hee had discovered a new banck on which he'd suppose might be found a rich treasure." See Campbell, Lives of the Admirals, II. 377-378.)

173, 175. Samuel Pepys, to vindicate himself and Sir Anthony Deane "against the oppressive proceedings of the House of Commons, Court of King's Bench, etc, upon the malicious information and practice of [Captain John] Scott, Harris, Harbords", etc., in 1679, made a collection of papers dealing with the characters and careers of his defamers. Originals of these papers are in Rawlinson A 173, 175, often called the Pepys Papers, and copies of them are in two volumes in the Bibliotheca Pepysiana, Magdalene College, Cambridge, labelled "Mornamont". The two series are not, however, absolutely identical. Inasmuch as Scott spent a number of the early years of his life in Long Island, where he gained rather an unenviable reputation, many of the papers in these volumes throw light upon colonial history.

(In "Mornamont" II. Bib. Pepys. 2882, f. 1065 is a copy of a letter from Mr. Wells to Samuel Pepys, July 26, 1679, containing some information about Scott in New England, that does not appear to be among the papers in the Bodleian.)

173. f. 184. Letter from Tho. Lovelace. London, July 15, 1680.

f. 185. Petition of Tho. Lovelace to the Duke of York regarding sequestration of his property on Staten Island.

175. f. 75. Letter from Governor Nicolls. Fort James, October 24, 1666. (Cal. Col. 1661-1668, §1292; N. Y. Docs., III. 136.)

ff. 77-79, 81. Three letters from William Dyre. New York, October 2, 1679, February 16, 1679/80, January 4, 1680/1.

(Chiefly gossip about Scott's wife, with a word about Andros.)

f. 83. Information of Jacob Milborn of London, merchant, formerly of Hartford, Connecticut, regarding Scott.

(Milborn says that Scott was seized at his dwelling house at Setauket, L. I., and taken to Hartford (1663); that he was there committed to jail, loaded with chains, but broke prison. Interesting account of Scott's trial in Hartford.)

f. 86. Deposition of Richard Charlton. August 7, 1679.

(Scott was present at the meeting of the deputies at Hempstead, 1665, and was there charged with having a counterfeit patent as governor of Long Island. Summoned to New York, Scott fled.)

f. 88. Similar deposition.

f. 92. Statement made by Edward Sackville, July 23, 1679, regarding Scott's career.

(Sackville had accompanied Nicolls to New York.)

ff. 94-99. Further statements from Sackville, Hall and Milborn regarding Scott.

ff. 101, 107. Historical account of Scott from Mathias Nicolls (Gov. Nicolls's secretary), New York, February 16, 1679/80; accompanied by other papers regarding the dispute between Scott and the town of Setauket.

f. 109. Petition from John Winthrop, governor of Connecticut, in behalf of that colony, for a renewal of the Warwick patent, the original of which was lost in a "fatall fire" at Saybrook and the duplicate lost among those papers "carried beyond the seas by the Lord Keeper Finch in the late Civill Troubles".

(Dup. 176, f. 113. Printed, Report of the Conn. Hist. Soc., 1904, p. 23.)

ff. 110, 113. Letter from Capt. Leverett to Scott, giving details of life in Long Island. Undated.

(Scott was in London at the time.)

f. 112. Petition to the king from Dorothea Scott whose husband, Daniel Gotherson, was ruined by buying land of Scott, begging for a royal letter to Gov. Lovelace.

(For Dorothea Scott see Dorothea Scott, otherwise Gotherson and Hogben of Egerton House, Kent, 1611-1680, new ed. by G. D. Scull, Oxford, 1883. It contains a chapter on John Scott, pp. 54-76.)

272. Contains a collection of papers belonging to John Champante, Jr., appointed agent for the province of New York in 1699 and continued to serve certainly till 1715, the date of the latest paper in this collection. He was also agent for the Four Companies of Royal Fuzileers, established in the fort in New York as early as 1674. The collection is of value as supplementing documents printed in vols. III., IV., V. of Documents relative to the Colonial History of New York. Ten of these documents are printed in those volumes, but the great bulk have never been printed and fill important gaps in the printed series. Some of the papers are original enclosures sent by Bellomont to the Board of Trade and referred to in his letters. They were evidently transmitted to Champante by Sec. Popple at Bellomont's request and exist only in the Champante papers.

376. This volume contains minutes of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel, see also Rawlinson C 933; letters from England and America regarding the condition of the church in the colonies and the ministers to be sent there; and many bonds of clergymen to whom money was advanced to pay charges of transportation and maintenance. These volumes evidently belonged to John Robinson, envoy to Sweden, 1680-1709, and afterward Bishop of London, 1714-1723. An excellent account of Bishop Robinson's career is given in Va. Mag., XVI., pp. 104-106. The following documents may be noted:

f. 26. Letter from Gov. Spotswood to the Bishop of London. May 6, 1713.

f. 86. Certificate of birth and baptism of Peter Fountaine, son of Rev. James Fountaine of Dublin.

ff. 88, 89. Testimonial for orders from the Archbishop of Dublin. 1715.

f. 101. Establishment by the Bishop of London of a seminary for probation of ministers intending to serve in America.

f. 104. Note of his ordination as chaplain for Virginia. 1715/6.

f. 116. Letter from Rev. Hugh Jones, Jesus College, May 19, 1716, expressing desire to go to America and saying, "They tell me it will not be at all difficult for me to come in for they are at a loss for young clergymen to send over."

f. 125. Request by the Bishop of London, May 8, 1717, that Mr. Wheatley be not allowed to proceed on his voyage to Carolina.

f. 127. Wheatley's letter to James Gibbons, secretary of the bishop, May 31, 1717, protesting his innocence.

f. 148. Sentence of suspension of Rev. Wm. Wye of Charleston, Carolina. November 10, 1718.

f. 154. Certificate signed by eighteen members of French church at Charleston stating that Paul L'Escot had been their minister from 1700 to 1719. March 14, 1718/9.

f. 169. Letter from Lord Cornbury to the Bishop of London.

f. 171. Recommendation of Paul L'Escot for ordination over the French church at Dover. 1719.

f. 172b. Certificate of Examination.

f. 173. Letter from "J. L." [John of London?] to the governor of South Carolina, July 28, 1719, regarding the suspension of Rev. Mr. Wye in Charleston "and any other part of your government".

f. 178. Letter from Henry Newman to Dr. Mangey. March 10, 1719/20.

f. 200. Regarding ecclesiastical affairs in the colony of Virginia. 1721.

f. 234. Regarding Rev. Francis Cotton, who had been purveyor and schoolmaster in Jamaica and wished to return as a clergyman. July 20, 1720.

f. 248. Letter from Zach. Brooke to James Gibbons, October 24, 1701, regarding withdrawal of his licence.

f. 260. Letter from Gov. Spotswood of Virginia, to the Bishop of London, May 26, 1721, regarding Rev. Mr. Wye and the clergy and schools of that colony.

f. 290. Certificate that Rev. Mr. Skinner "was this day received as the Society's missionary to Amboy with a salary of £60".

f. 296. Letter from Rev. Wm. Vesey, New York, November 29, 1722, enclosing copy of address to the society asking for the appointment of a clergyman-catechist for the city of New York in the place of Mr. Elias Neau, deceased. Also for a good preacher for that office to be Vesey's assistant "in my declining age".

f. 305. John Usher, when in priest's orders, to be missionary to St. George's parish, South Carolina. January 25, 1722 [3?].

f. 328. Petition from Ben. Miller, "for near four years a schoolmaster in America and for two years past in the service of the Society in Staten Island", asking help. n. d.

f. 334. Regarding Dr. Evans, minister in Philadelphia for fifteen years. Regarding one Philips, curate to Dr. Evans, charged with scandalous behavior. n. d.

f. 336. Application for the king's bounty for ministers in America. n. d. Cf. Rawlinson C 933, f. 134.

Bonds. (1) It was customary for the society not only to pay the salaries of its missionaries in America but also to advance half a year's salary before departure and to take a note or bond in which the missionary promised to refund the money in case he did not go to the place assigned.

(2) The Bishop of London at his own charge established a seminary for the trial and probation of ministers to be sent to America. Cost of maintenance, estimated at £30 a year, was advanced by the bishop who required of the prospective missionary a bond, signed by two witnesses and duly sealed, that in case he did not go to the plantations he or his bondsmen would refund the money.

(3) By the royal gift, known as Queen Anne's Bounty, £20 was given to each missionary from the royal treasury, on receipt of a letter from the bishop to the Lord High Treasurer, to pay the costs of transportation to America. No formal bond appears to have been required in this case.

Of bonds required in cases (1) and (2) there are many examples in this volume and in Rawlinson C 393, 983, as follows:

C 393, ff. 65, 67, 69, 92, 101, 102.
983, ff. 179, 180. (q. v.)

Material for the study of Queen Anne's Bounty can be found elsewhere, particularly in the Public Record Office, Treasury Papers (Audit Office, Declared Accounts, 2239-2291. In P. R. O., Treasury of Receipt (Exchequer), Miscellanea, 407, may be found "Applications of the Bishop of London for bounties for ministers going to America", which constitutes a list of the clergy sent to America, 1660-1791. Elsewhere in the Treasury Papers are entries of payments to ministers in America before 1690. Fothergill's List of Emigrant Ministers to America, 1690-1811, issued in this country by the Grafton Press, contains a list of over 1,200 names but no copies of bonds.

383. f. 397. Proceedings in a case in the Court of Admiralty. 1696.
ff. 543-545. Claim in Court of Admiralty on the part of some Persian merchants to goods seized from Capt. Kidd and condemned as pirates' goods. n. d.
465. f. 146. Brief notes of advice to traders to Virginia. n. d.

OXFORD COLLEGE LIBRARIES.

Catalogus Codd. MSS. qui in Collegiis Aulisque Oxoniensibus hodie adservantur. Confecit H. O. Coxe. Tom. II. (1852.) $10.00.
(Covers all the colleges except Christ Church.)

Catalogus Codd. MSS. in Bibl. Aed. Christi ap. Oxon. Curavit G. W. Kitchin. (1867.) $1.75.

Very little of importance to students of American history will be found among the manuscripts in the Oxford colleges. Nearly all of these manuscripts have been calendared, very summarily, by the Historical Manuscripts Commision in its II., IV., V., VI. and VIII. Reports.

In the Library of All Souls are between fifty and a hundred volumes of manuscripts, known as the Owen Wynne collection, which contain many documents bearing on colonial history. Such examination of these documents as has been permitted discloses nothing of importance that is not to be found elsewhere. A thorough search might give more satisfactory results. The collection is not catalogued.

In the library of Christ Church is a copy of the minutes of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel, 1717-1725.

Three of the libraries contain printed material of so valuable a character as to deserve attention here:

1. In the library of Queens is a collection of Royal Proclamations.

2. In the library of Worcester are many books and pamphlets of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, among which are the following:

New English Canaan, by Thomas Morton.
Abstract of the Laws of New England.
Letters of Mr. Cotton of Boston.
New England's Lamentation.
Letters from Oxford and Cambridge regarding the Gospel in New England.
The Practice of the Churches in New England.
New England Judged, by George Bishop.
Narration of the late Wars arisen in New England.
The Case of his Majesty's Sugar Plantations (1682).
A Trip to Jamaica.
Danger of losing the Trade of the Sugar Colonies.
Essay on Trade, by J. Cary (1719).
Advantage of the Tobacco Trade, by J. Nicoll.
Importance of the British Plantations in America, by Stubbs (1731).

3. In the All Souls library is an equally valuable collection of books, pamphlets and newspapers:

Collection of Tracts for the Years 1641-1646.
Description of East Florida, with a Journal, by John Bartram (1769).
Thirteen volumes of American Tracts, beginning with 1765:
Vol. IV, p. 412. Observations of the Merchants at Boston in New England, upon several Acts of Parliament respecting American Commerce and Revenue (1770).

Vol. V. Select Letters on the Trade and Government of America, written by Gov. Bernard (1774).

A Short View of the History of the Colony of Massachusetts Bay, by Israel Mauduit (1774).

A Concise Historical View of the Difficulties, Hardships and Perils which attended the planting and progressive improvement of New England, by Amos Adams (1770).

Collection of English Newspapers, 1644-1660, 1692-1721. (Covering eight shelves.)

Collection of Sermons preached before the S. P. G., 1708, 1734-1735, 1744-1746, 1756, including much printed matter of importance; also sermons preached before the Trustees for Establishing the Colony of Georgia. 1736.

(Probably the best collection in this country of sermons of the S. P. G is to be found in the John Carter Brown Library.)

The Information of Capt. Henry Wilkinson of what hath passed betwixt him and some other Persons, who have attempted to prevail with him to swear High Treason against the Earl of Shaftesbury (London, 1681).

(Wilkinson was appointed by the Lords Proprietors governor of (North) Carolina in 1680. He was actually commissioned, one of his sons was named surveyor general, another register, a ship was hired, goods placed on board, his family, servants and other passengers with goods, utensils and baggage were ready to set sail, when he was arrested and the voyage given up.)

The Peoples ancient and just Liberties, asserted in the Tryal of William Penn and William Mead (1670).

An Historical Account of the Rise and Growth of the West India Colonies, written by Dalby Thomas (1690).

The Humble Request of His Majesties loyall subjects, the Governor and the Company late gone to New England (1630). (Reprinted in facsimile, 1905.)

A Short Relation made by Lord De-La-Warr to the Lords and others of the Council of Virginia (1611). (Reprinted, Brown, Genesis.)

A Brief State of the Province of Pennsylvania (1755).

A True Relation of the Late Battell fought in New England between the English and the Salvages, signed P. Vincentius (1637).

CAMBRIDGE.

MAGDALENE COLLEGE.

BIBLIOTHECA PEPYSIANA.

The books and papers of Samuel Pepys were left by will to Magdalene College, Cambridge, with the proviso that if Magdalene did not look after them properly they were to go to Trinity College. Needless to say Magdalene has fulfilled the requirements and has housed the library in a special building erected for the purpose, the Bibliotheca Pepysiana. Permission to inspect the papers must be obtained of the college authorities, application being made, in the first instance, to the Pepysian Librarian, Magdalene College, Cambridge, the present holder of which office is Mr. P. Lubbock. If permission be accorded, the documents can be examined only in the presence of one of the Fellows. The college is more ready, than was formerly the case, to allow access to its papers, and has lately sanctioned the publication of a complete catalogue of all Pepys's books and manuscripts to be edited by Mr. F. Sidgwick, and published by Messrs. Lawrence and Bullen.

There is at present in print no adequate account of the Pepysian books and collections. A brief statement is contained in the Report of the Historical Manuscripts Commission on the papers of Magdalene College, but it is very unsatisfactory. A chapter on the subject may be found in Mr. H. B. Wheatley's Samuel Pepys and the World he lived in, and a small amount of information in the same author's introduction to the Diary and in his volume entitled Pepysiana. The best account of Pepys himself and of his naval collections is by Dr. J. R. Tanner of St. John's College, Cambridge, in A Descriptive Catalogue of the Naval Manuscripts in the Pepysian Library, of which two volumes have appeared and a third volume is in preparation. The first of these volumes consists of a general introduction containing a very able appreciation of Pepys, the official, and of the relation of his manuscripts to naval history, and a list of ships and of officers in the Royal Navy during Pepys's period; the second contains a précis of the letters sent from the office of the Secretary to the Admiralty during Pepys's tenure of that office, which when completed in a third volume will cover the period from 1673 to 1679 and from 1684 to 1689. Although this work is limited strictly to naval manuscripts and is concerned, therefore, with but a fraction of the entire collection, it deals with by far the most important part from the historian's point of view.

Many of the documents listed and described in Dr. Tanner's Catalogue are indirectly of importance for American colonial history, containing numerous references to the plantations, particularly in connection with commerce and convoys. As was to have been expected the Pepys collection is peculiarly rich in printed works and manuscripts dealing with trade, navigation and the navy.

The following volumes, chiefly manuscript, contain all that is of importance in the library for colonial history (cf. Brit. Mus. Add. MSS. 30221).

1477. The Trade's Decrease, by Ro. Kayll.

(Probably Charles II.'s time. A valuable manuscript with comments on colonial trade.)

1601. A Pocket Book of Maps, made by Hollar and published by Thomas Jenner.

(Maps and description of Maryland, Virginia, New England, Barbadoes, Jamaica, St. Christopher, Caribbees. Preface dated 1653.)

2184. "Mr. Flamsteed, astronomer royal, to Mr. Pepys, giving him an historical account of the Beginning, Progress, and Present State of our Improvements and Deficiencys in the Doctrine and Practice of Navigation." April 21, 1697.

(A little about the West Indies.)

2542. A Relation of a Voyage for the Discovery of a Passage by the North East to Japan and China. Performed in his Ma^ties^ Ship the Speedwell and the Prosperous Pinck. In the yeare of our Lord, 1676, by Capt. John Wood. (Maps.)

2582. A manuscript volume containing the Record kept by Sam. Wiseman, "principal clerke to the Hon^ble^ Commissioners", Jeffery, Berry and Moryson, sent to Virginia in 1676. The contents of this volume are as follows:

Names of the counties in Virginia: James City, Charles City, Henrico, Isle of Wight, Nancymond, Lower Norfolk, Kiquotan als. Elizabeth City, Warwick, Yorke, New Kent, Gloster, Middlesex, Rappahanock, Lancaster, Stafford, Westmoreland, Northumberland, Accomac, Northampton.

2943. "Mr. Sellers' English, Northern, and Oriental Navigation". Vol. II.

THE FERRAR PAPERS.

The Ferrar papers, also in the possession of Magdalene College, have been so thoroughly searched by Miss Kingsbury for her edition of the Records of the Virginia Company, that no attempt has been made to examine them for description here. In her Introduction Miss Kingsbury has given an account of the papers (pp. 59-61) and in her bibliographical list of the records of the Company (pp. 121-205) has entered the titles of 81 documents from this collection bearing on the early history of Virginia. These documents are numbered in her list as follows: 40, 76, 93, 94, 115, 119, 120, 131, 132, 134, 135, 136, 138, 139, 153, 154, 156, 157, 158, 164, 166, 171, 173, 179, 180, 181, 191, 197, 211, 219, 236, 238, 239, 241, 243, 244, 245, 246, 247, 248, 249, 250, 252, 253, 254, 255, 258, 259, 270, 271, 275, 282, 285, 303, 304, 307, 315, 317, 343, 361, 364, 368, 394, 421, 422, 423, 466, 470, 479, 526, 539, 541, 543, 578, 581, 585, 596, 608, 669, 735.

A number of these documents are printed in the Virginia Magazine of History and Biography, X., and one or two in Brock's Abstracts of the Proceedings of the Virginia Company, 1889. With a single exception (157, already printed in Va. Mag., X. 289-290) all the documents will be printed in the third volume of Miss Kingsbury's edition. Transcripts of the documents and photographic reproductions of a part or the whole of many of them are now in the possession of the Library of Congress.
